No hatred equals the so-called religious kind. Heaven knows it need not be appealed to and excited; it is too strong we set ourselves to condemn much of the Eastern press during this late period, and to say, the while only directing and editand liable to break out in most men, and ing a Provincial journal in the far West we would scorn to use, now, or at any in fact, the quietness shown out West is the quiettime, such wespons as have been used by men who have a reputation in the journalistic world, or to write such deliberately misleading matter as we have too often had to read.

TORONTO STORM CENTER As we imatated recently, the storm center in time of this educational disturbcenter in time of this educational disturbance has been in the East, chiefly in Toronto, while here, the part of the Dominion mainly concerned, all has been calm, deliberate, and watchful. How is this? Why this outside burning desire to fight for us, and to die in our interests? It is not easy to explain upless by the It is not easy to explain, unless by the selves to better work and nobler caus hypothesis that there is another motive Waists Se an 1.00 each | not our interests only. Can it be said the West better than we do right here on truth, or suppression of truth, which has done much to obscure the issue, and has given the East the chance to appeal to those passions and prejudices, which, we assert, should never be appealed to by any writer or speaker who has a con-

Probably all that can be for or against has been said. No one is much the wiser. One point does appear.

If Sir Wilfred is wrongly or rightly advised on the constitutional points, he must be credited with courage in dealing with the subject. Had he done what so many of his opponents called upon him to do, and been silent on this school matter, ! e would personally have been relieved of a most wearisome and protracted disputation, and of much bitter personal attack. But, as we think with honest intent, and acting with true statesmanship, he took the responsibility upon himself, and has succeeded in giving occasion to his political opponents to rage against him as being the tool of sectarianism and has given to many of his co-religionists much dissatisfaction.

IGNORANCE IN THE EAST.

There is much ignorance shown in the East about our school system. Our system is not the old dual system. Our system is not a system of Separate schools at all in the sense in which many use the expression. Probably the best words to use in this connection are "Minority" schools, or "Permissive" schools. Our school system is so far superior in its conception and so much perior in its conception and so much better in its practical operation to anything in Ontario, that we can politely, but pertinently suggest to the agitators down there, to set their own house in order bethere, to set their own house in order before they venture to interfere with ours. What is the system of schools in the Territories, which seems to us to be about perfection? That there shall be Public schools built, staffed and supported as proyided by our Territorial ordinance wherever such schools are required. But knowing the mischief of the dual. cr double set of schools system, and knowing of the bitterness and hatred engendered in old Canada on the matter of religious. Murray-Morice, That Mr Koepis's
