ROBERT BURNETT

Hopeville

Death has been busy in Proton the last week and removed some prominent parties to the other world.

Died on Monday the 12th, Mr Edward Ryan, of the 6th con. Proton, of consumption, aged 48 years. Mr. Ryan was a good farmer, was raised in this township, the only son of the late Patrick Ryan, one of the pioneers of the township and many years a member of the Council in its earliest days. He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and family besides many other relations. The funeral was on Wednesday the 14th to the R. C. cemetery, in the Irish Settlement and was very largely attended.

A very serious accident happened to one of our Proton farmers on Wednesday 14th inst., which turned out fatal. Mr John S. Hardy, of Swinton Park, left home in the morning with a horse and buggy to go to Flesherston in the best of health and spirits, but while going down a hill, east of the station, a farmer's team which got beyond the

Mr Archie McLeod came over to see his friends last week and did not forget to call on Mr J. McDonald.

A large number attended the large barn-raising at James Calder's. The captains were Willie Fairburn and Geo. Swanson, the latter being the winner. It was the south against the north. Mr Calder will have a fine barn when completed. Mr Chas. McLean of Proton is the tramer and the work is a credit to him.

Mrs Herman Haw had a surprise visit from two of her brothers, Robert and Sandy Stephenson who were more than surprised at the fine country with such fine buildings and level farms. This was their first visit to this part. One of them runs two steam thrashers and has thrashed for the last 35 years.

Mr Duncan McLachlan of the 8th con. visited his old friends and acquaintances around this neighborhood. Dan McCannel, Jr., took Mr McLachlan to Holstein in order to show his companion the north-west part of Egremont. After driving considerable distance they became alarmed. They enquired for the way of the first rig they met but behold, the second party was also lost. They got home after all at sun down, and two men, more tired, has seldom been seen.

J. Hill bought one of the most up-to-date buggies from J. McQueen, Tuesday and to-day quite a number from around here are out to purchase machinery from the Massey Harris Co.

Our correspondence to the Leader is read with much interest, it appears to me, as they try to put a couple of the neighbors into one name, however, stay with it Mo Dhonnul Gradback.

Miss Kate Clark is home from the Queen City for a short while with her mother.

The Maple Park cor. tells us of some fine fishing stories. Did you ever catch a white faced one?

Our teacher, Miss Spence, is kept very busy just now, the average attendance being 55 and her entrance class gets two extra hours each day and Saturday forenoon.

Mrs Ferguson's brother from Minto attended the funeral of his nephew, W. B. Garfield Ferguson.

We have no doubt the Massey Harris is a reliable firm but our local agent is in the habit of carrying his Bible with him on his rounds, whether it is to prove his statements or not we are not prepared to say.

Death has claimed another of our brightest and most hopeful boys in the person of Master Garfield Ferguson, who died at the early age of 15 years, at the home of his mother Mrs Daniel Ferguson, Lot 27, con 21, Egremont on Friday evening, June 16, after a lingering and distressing illness extending over a period of several months and which he bore with more fortitude, patience and resignation than might be expected of one so young.

While we will not attempt to enumerate the many good qualities of the deceased, we only voice the sentiments of all who were acquainted with him when we say he was a boy of exceptional qualities who if life had been spared, would have been a man of rare ability, his gift for art being particularly well developed. He was a credit to his family and his disposition in life was an example to his associates and his kind and amiable disposition endeared him to all with whom he became acquainted. At school, by his unassuming manner, he readily became a favorite with his teachers and companions. He lived a Christian life and died trusting firmly in his Saviour, and the cheerfulness and tranquility which he viewed the future is further evidence of the happiness there is in the hope of the Christian. Those who visited Garfield during his last illness, always found him pleasant, cheerful and bright, bearing his illness bravely and with great fortitude. His only desire to live was for his dear mother's sake.

The funeral took place from his mother's residence on Sunday June 18. The service was very impressive. Mr. Matheson taking occasion to appeal fervently to old and young to prepare for the future life, to which this life has no comparison in endurance or happiness. He read portions of scripture from Psalms 46 and 121, also St. John, ch. 14, verses 1-3. Those present joined in singing Garfield's favorite hymn, one he had sung on his death-bed, "There's a land that is fairer than day." The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery west of Pricerville, where already were laid the remains of his father and three brothers, two of whom died in infancy and one a young man who died three years ago. A large concourse of sorrowing friends followed the remains.

A sad feature is that his brother Archie arrived home from Assa., just in time for the funeral, but too late to see his brother who longed to see him once more.

To his sorrowing and grief-stricken mother, sisters and brothers, the community extends sincerest sympathy. Though we know the parting is only for a brief space, yet how often will the loved ones

Swinton Park

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Mr Jno Hardy who passed away on Thursday June 15. He was driving to Flesherston on Wednesday and when past Ceylon he passed a team which took fright and ran away running into Mr. Hardy's buggy throwing him out with fatal results.

The Pricerville circuit raised a subscription and bought a buggy for Rev. Mr Roach, a timely and appreciative gift.

McMillan-McCannel Nuptials.

On Wednesday evening, June 14th, at 6 p. m. a very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr Neil McCannel when his sister Miss Margaret was united in marriage to Mr Neil McMillan of Swinton Park. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. A. Matheson, B. D., of Pricerville. As the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs (Rev) Matheson were floating melodiously through the house, the young couple unattended took their places under a dainty, unique arch of bridal wreath and snow balls and white lilies. The charming bride looked beautiful in a handsome dress of cream eolienne with yoke of rich embroidery and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern, tied with white silk ribbon, and wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair. The whole house was tastefully decorated with a profusion of flowers. Huge bouquets being massed at each end of the arch.

The tables in pink and white decoration looked tempting, the bride's cake a large four story one being placed in the centre. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present. The presents to the bride were very select and beautiful, speaking highly of the esteem in which she was held.

After the dinner was served the evening was spent in music and song, stories and games.

Miss McCannel is widely and favorably known throughout the County of Grey and many there are that will join us in wishing her and the man of her choice a long and happy life together. Mr McMillan is one of Proton's most prosperous farmers, being a son of the late Duncan McMillan, a man of unquestionable principle, and it is beyond a doubt that the son is possessed of the same good qualities which he largely inherited from his father.

Miss McCannel was one of the best successful school teachers in the County of Grey and that branch of the educational department suffers on account of her decision in giving preference to having one good scholar to contend with.

The young and happy couple left for their home at Swinton Park before the dawn of day and now they are domiciled for a time at the old family residence awaiting the completion of their own dwelling house.—Com.
