Address and Presentation.

On Wednesday evening, October 25, a large company of young people assembled at the home of Mr C. M. Hutton to bid farewell to Miss Mary Macdonald who departed on Monday, Oct 30th, to reside with her parents at Moorsburg. The following addresses were read by Miss H. Hutton and Mr C. MacKenzie presenting the toilet set and Scott's poems.

To Miss McDonald:

DEAR FRIEND: In assembling here this evening, we are endeavoring in our humble manner to express our appreciation of your most noble character which has been so beautifully and bravely exemplified during your sojourn with us. You have given of your energies and abilities unflinchingly and always seen more than just a mere passing interest in those with whom you have been associated.

Your regular attendance and faithful labors in our Sunday School have been an inspiration to all your co-workers. You have wrought untiringly while here in our midst and Sunday after Sunday has found you at your post of duty. Your efforts procured a greater blessing since they were cheerfully rendered demonstrating so plainly that yours was a labor of love and freely given to the cause that it was our privilege and not an irksome task, to "throw out the lifeline" to the souls who looked to you for instruction and guidance. While you were thus leading the little ones to Jesus, making clear and simple those wonderful truths, you were binding their young hearts to your own by those strongest of cords, love and sympathy. They will cherish fond and grateful remembrances of you and your patient work of love. The announcement of your intended departure has brought sorrow to us and is with sadness we contemplate your proposed plans, if we failed to appreciate and acknowledge these successful efforts which have been the outcome of your unflinching spirit, we would indeed be very ungrateful.

Please accept this toilet set and volume of poems as a slight token of the deep regard and esteem which we entertain for you. It is not within our power to express our thoughts. Poor words are inadequate. We will allow the hearts to commune in a language which is much stronger—affectionate sympathy.

We wish you every success during the remaining years of your life and pray that God will bountifully bless you in all your undertakings and may your example continue to be a light to all whom you come in contact.

A Printer-Scientist.

Mr Joseph Townsend, of the Methodist Book Room, Toronto, visited Durham from Thursday to Saturday last week. As is well known he was the founder of the Review in 1878, having for about a year previously published the "Dundalk Guide."

Mr Townsend began his career as a printer in the old Advertiser office in Guelph, later worked in Elora and Ferguson, struck out to Dundalk, and from 1878 to 1885 brought the "Grey Review" into public notice and favor. Since the latter date he has lived chiefly in Toronto and in and about the big Publishing house of the Old Father Time is dealing lightly with him, looking with favor no doubt on the activity that has persisted in diving into Nature's secrets while pursuing the daily round of life's prosaic duties.

Mr Townsend is noted as a Scientist on geological lines, being perhaps more than any other man, conversant with the fossiliferous character of the Guelph and Niagara formations. His collections at Elora and Durham grew to such proportions and excellence that scientists heard of him and the result that offers were made him from the Geological Survey at Ottawa and later specimens far in advance of anything they had. In fact it was found that he had discovered new species, some of which will for all time recall this town in geological works.

Mr Townsend's "Nature Study" was begun and followed up purely for the love of it, but his contributions to various collections have yielded him nearly $1000 and he has a good collection yet.

All too few find a hobby or a fad in nature, study and the enthusiasm we have written of might well find imitators. Mr Townsend came in on the afternoon train and before night fell had visited his best friends first with bumper in hand—the rocks near the McGowan Mill—and secured a few specimens.

He is also an authority on stamps and has a large collection of 8000 varieties.
