

CZAR'S MANIFESTO DIVIDES POPULACE.

Many Accept Offer of Freedom With Joy, While Others Demand a Republic.

Cossacks Turned Loose, and Beat the Crowds at Kazan, Kishineff and Other Places.

Odessa, Nov. 6.—Non-Conflicts between Cossacks and students continue. During the fighting between Russians and Jews in Dalmitskaya street last night 37 persons were killed and 81 seriously wounded were taken to the hospital.

WITTE AND CZAR.

Emperor Was Urged to Issue Manifesto Before It Was Too Late.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—The correspondent of the Lokai Anzeiger at St. Petersburg says he has learned from a well-informed source the following details of Count Witte's interview on Monday with Emperor Nicholas, during which he prevailed upon his majesty to sign the rescript: "The court party had been working upon the Emperor to prevent his signing the rescript, when Count Witte appeared. His majesty asked the count if the imperial signatures could not be postponed. The count thereupon called attention to the frightful condition of affairs within the empire, especially to the last mutiny in the Black Sea fleet, and also pointed to an important despatch from Berlin announcing a heavy decrease in Russian bonds. Count Witte said that not an hour must be lost, and that delay of a day or two would usher in revolution with all its horrors. Only then did the Emperor consent to sign."

POPULACE DIVIDED.

Some Gladly Accept Czars' Offer—Others Want Republic.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—Noon.—A light fall of snow covered the city with a white mantle during the night, but to-day a drizzling rain helped to put a damper on the ardor of the crowds already exhausted by the delirium of yesterday. Gen. Treppoff's warning to manifestants that he will use energetic measures to prevent disorders, coupled with the reappearance of patrols of horse and foot soldiers, also exercised a restraining influence, and the agitators experienced difficulty in again arousing the proletariat. Many strikers among the railroad men are ready to return to work, and those in favor of continuing the struggle have difficulty in holding the majority. The students and social democratic leaders who continue to declare that nothing but a republic will suffice are using every means in their power to keep up the enthusiasm and drive the people into armed collision with the troops.

A score of big meetings are announced for to-day. An official thanksgiving service is announced to take place at the Kazan Cathedral at 2 o'clock. The news from the provinces shows that the whole empire must have been plunged into great excitement yesterday. Everywhere the announcement of the issuing of the manifesto granting Russia a legislature aroused the people to a high pitch of enthusiasm, but everywhere the populace was divided into two camps as in St. Petersburg—those who accepted the boon of freedom with joy and those who demanded a republic, and the extreme radicals under the leadership of students, social democrats and revolutionary organizations, who used the opportunity to preach the complete overthrow of the Government.

Clashes and sanguinary conflicts occurred at many places. In some towns the people were forced to obey their demands for the release of the political prisoners. This was the case at Bylostok. Cossacks were turned loose and beat the crowds at Kazan, Kishineff, Kiev and other places.

tal crowds to-day appeared in the original route at Washington, and gave $10,000 bail for his appearance for trial. No date has been set for the trial. Wheat deliveries along the C. P. R. system indicate that the estimates of the grain crop made early in the fall will be far surpassed. Already deliveries exceed 25,000,000 bushels, as compared with 11,536,000 at the same period of last year.

The receipt of the Toronto Railway Company still continue to grow. The earnings for the last month, subject to minor adjustments, reached a total of $290,351, as against $262,344 for October, 1904, thus showing an increase of $28,047 for last month. Millard & Ferguson have issued a writ on behalf of the widow and infant children of the late Cyrus O. Rockwood, of Bonanza, Dwarf Essex and Dwarf Victoria varieties have given the greatest yields of green crop per acre. The Dwarf Essex is one of the most reliable varieties. The German Summer (Bird Seed rape) should never be sown for agricultural purposes, as it seeds the same season as sown, thus furnishing a poor crop for feeding and introducing a plant which is difficult to eradicate. This point should be carefully observed, as serious trouble has sometimes resulted from sowing large areas of this variety.

The most suitable soils for rape are fairly moist loams, rich in vegetable matter. Land should be prepared for rape similar to that for root crops. Soils deficient in vegetable matter should receive a coating of stable manure. A dressing of eighty pounds of nitrate of soda per acre when the rape was about two inches high increased the yield of the crop about two tons per acre in the average results of the co-operative experiments conducted over Ontario for a period of five years. About the month of June, large plump seed should be sown at the rate of one and one-half pounds per acre in rows about thirty inches apart and to a depth of one-half to one inch. A thorough stirring of the first two inches of the ground between the rows ever ten

While Marshall, head miller in the Green Flour Mills, Greenwood, near Bringham, was lying in wait with a loaded shot gun to use on the youth of that village who were out on Halloween pranks, the gun discharged, taking effect in Marshall's foot. It was found necessary to amputate some of his toes. There is widespread interest in a report that a $5,000,000 company for the manufacture of railway rolling stock will shortly command the labor of 2,500 hands in Toronto, but there does not seem to be any one who knows much about the plan, although the necessity for some sort of concern to provide the railways with cars is fully realized.

CHANGED MURDER CHARGE.

Josie Carr Pleads Guilty to Manslaughter.

Toronto despatch: The grand jury at the Criminal Assizes yesterday changed the charge against the thirteen-year-old girl, Josie Carr, from murder to manslaughter. When the child appeared in court on the lesser charge she did not seem to realize the seriousness of her position. On being arraigned she said "I plead guilty." At this point Mr. E. E. A. DuVernat, the prosecuting counsel, remarked that he would like to have a consultation with Mr. T. C. Robinette, K. C., who had charge of the girl's case. Mr. Robinette said he would have some rather important remarks to make to His Lordship in connection with the case, and therefore asked that sentence be deferred. This was agreed to. In view of the plea of guilty it will not be necessary to take further evidence, or go into the harrowing details of the theft of the nine-months-old baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. William Murray from the lane beside Eaton's store on May 10 last, and its subsequent death. The baby was rolled down the G. W. R. embankment west from Greenwood avenue, and when it had perished Josie hid the dead child in a nearby culvert.

"The sentence of the court is that you be confined to the common jail for one day," said Justice MacMahon after he had heard the circumstances in the case of Emma Harvey, who pleaded guilty to the death of her child. The young girl has been in jail awaiting her trial for the past five months. His Lordship instructed Mr. Robinette to have the parents in court at 1 o'clock this afternoon and their daughter would then be given her liberty.

The Growing of Rape.

Upwards of forty-five thousand acres of land were used for growing rape in Ontario in 1905. It is a crop easy of cultivation, abundant in growth, and rich in fattening properties. Owing to its broad, spread leaves, rape has a wonderful power of smothering out weeds and is thus one of the best crops obtainable for cleaning the land. No less than eleven varieties of rape have been grown in the experimental grounds of the Ontario Agricultural College in each of the past three years. In 1905 the yields varied from 4 to 21 tons per acre, the lightest yielding being the German variety, and the heaviest the Large Seeded Umbrella rape. In the average of three years' experiments, the Large Seeded Common, Large Seeded Umbrella, Buekbee's Wonderful, Dwarf Bonanza, Dwarf Essex and Dwarf Victoria varieties have given the greatest yields of green crop per acre. The Dwarf Essex is one of the most reliable varieties. The German Summer (Bird Seed rape) should never be sown for agricultural purposes, as it seeds the same season as sown, thus furnishing a poor crop for feeding and introducing a plant which is difficult to eradicate. This point should be carefully observed, as serious trouble has sometimes resulted from sowing large areas of this variety.

IS ROGERS THE MAN?

Evidence to Convict Man of Triple Murder.

Middletown, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Attorney Rogers announced to-night that sufficient evidence has been secured to convict Charles Henry Rogers, of this city, of the murders of Fred and Willis Olney and Alice Ingerick, and the murderous assault on Mrs. Georgia Ingerick, mother of the girl. Rogers, who was a motorman on the electric railway here, disappeared soon after the murders. He is also charged with using worthless cheques amounting to $1,000 recently was offered for his arrest for grand larceny. There is a suspicion that Rogers committed suicide soon after he disappeared, but many believe he is hiding in the woods near by.

NO DOUBT AS TO "SUIT CASE" VICTIM.

Miss Geary's Solitaire Diamond Ring Found Pawns by Young Man.

MISS SUSANNA A. GEARY. Boston, Nov. 6.—The finding late yesterday in the offices of the Back Bay Loan Company of the solitaire diamond ring given Susan A. Geary by her mother last Christmas, was the last thing needed to settle any doubt the might exist as to the identity of the suit case victim. Mrs. Geary had reported that this ring, which the girl had been in the habit of wearing, was missing. The police have learned that the ring was pawned Sept. 11 by a young man. A search for a south end physician suspected in the case was conducted during the night, but without result. The police visited a house where he is said to have lived part of the time, but the inmates said the doctor had not been there for several weeks. Morris Nathan, who is detained by the police on the charge of having procured an illegal operation on Miss Geary, was still at the hospital to-day, where he was taken last night because of his weak physical condition. The hospital authorities have not given out anything to-day regarding Nathan's condition. It has not yet been announced when he will be taken to the Municipal Court to answer the charge against him.

BRITISH AND U. S. FLEETS FRATERNALIZE AT ANNAPOLIS.

Fighting Bob Evans and Admiral Sands Entertaining Prince Louis and His Officers.

Battenberg to be Presented to the President—Lady Durand Will Give a Ball in His Honor.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 6.—American and British officers are quickly becoming acquainted, and all the forenoon to-day there was an informal exchange of visits between officers of the two navies. The arrival of Admiral Brownson's division yesterday has swelled the number of the United States fighting ships off Annapolis to twelve.

Inside the harbor is the destroyer flotilla near them is the converted yacht Mayflower, in whose palatial cabin to-day Rear-Admiral Evans will entertain at dinner Prince Louis, his staff and the commanding officers of the American and British ships.

Early in the day there started from the bay a column of launches steaming up from the fleet, bringing the British and American officers for a day in Annapolis. This afternoon at 2.30 Prince Louis and Admiral Sands will review the brigade of midshipmen. After dress parade will occur the reception of Admiral Sands to Prince Louis, his staff and the commanding officers of his squadron. The weather to-day, though much colder is clearing.

WILLIS NOT THE MAN.

MRS. COVEL'S EVIDENCE AT RODNEY MURDER TRIAL.

The Crown's Case Considered Weak—Story of the Midnight Crime by Which Miss Eliza Lowry Was Done to Death.

Ast. Thomas despatch: The trial of Alexander Willis on the charge of having on Tuesday, April 18th, murdered Miss Eliza Lowry, a woman seventy-five years of age, at the residence of Benjamin Covell in the village of Old Rodney, was commenced before Judge Anglin at the jury assizes at 2 o'clock this afternoon. J. Lynch-Staunton, of Hamilton, and County Crown Attorney McCormick are prosecuting, and C. St. Clair Leitch, Dutton, is defending the prisoner. On the night of Tuesday, April 18th, about 11 p.m., a man visited the residence of Benjamin Covell, who lived at Old Rodney. Covell, who is a M. C. K. sectionman, was away from home. The only occupants of the house were Mrs. Covell and the murdered woman. The man is said to have forced an entrance to the house, demanding the women's money or their lives. He was given their purses, and then dragged the door, into the house and locked the door. The man coming back, demanded admittance, and not receiving a reply, broke in the back door and began a search for Mrs. Covell, finding her under the bed by the light of a match, and Mrs. Covell got a view of his face as he looked under the bed. He is said to have shamefully beaten and misused Mrs. Covell. A cat made a noise while coming in at the back door. Mrs. Covell said it was her husband, and the man made off. Mrs. Covell on different occasions has stated and sworn that the man was of the build and that his face resembled that of the prisoner, Willis, but to-day she swore positively that Willis was not the man, and that she was pressed to say what she had by the officers and others. She repeatedly asserted this afternoon that Willis was not the man. Dr. Harvey, D. S., of Rodney, was passing nearby the Covell house on the night of the tragedy, when in the bright moonlight he saw a man standing in the gateway. The man called to him and tried to head him off, and then Harvey stopped and the man stopped, after a few words returning back to Covell's. This man, the doctor said, looked like the prisoner, was of the same build, and his voice was not unlike the prisoner's. This was the strongest piece of evidence the crown offered. A number of witnesses were called by the crown to show that Willis had been drinking in the village of Rodney the day of the murder, but when cross-examined all admitted that he was perfectly sober. The only other witness of importance was W. Cole, who said he saw Willis passing his place between 6 and 7 o'clock the morning of the murder, wearing a long yellowish coat, whereas all the evidence showed that when in Rodney the day before Willis wore a black curly overcoat. At 6.20 p.m. the court adjourned till 9.30 to-morrow.

SUICIDE'S NOTE TO WIFE.

"Andrews Has Worked My Ruin; I Have Been Robbed."

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 6.—The following statement of T. Lee Clark, cashier of the Enterprise National Bank, of Allegheny, Pa., written a few hours before he committed suicide, was made public to-night. "Dearest wife and children.—In ten hours or less I will be in the other world. You have been a dear, good wife to me, and I have loved you all my life. I would leave you all. I have made a desperate effort to keep things going until I would get the road finished, but it has been too slow. The examiner is here and I am ruined. Do forgive me; it is not my fault, I have been shamefully robbed. The bank will get everything but the life insurance your husband, Lee."

The Prince, accompanied by his staff and his commanding officers, will leave to-morrow in a special train for Washington by Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador. To-morrow night Lady Durand gives a dinner and a ball at the Embassy for the Prince, who, with the officers of his staff, will be house guests at the Embassy during their three days' visit.

Power of Imagination. New York, Nov. 6.—According to the Herald, after being scratched by the teeth of a little pet dog, which has never shown symptoms of rabies, Edward Brunner, aged 22, graduate of Columbia University, law school, athlete, and unusually intelligent, read books on rabies, its symptoms and treatment, until he conceived the idea that the infection had seized him. Thrown into an acute hysteria by his imaginings, he soon began to simulate the symptoms of rabies, became delirious, and was taken from his home to Bellevue last Monday.

He jumped from a window of a ward there on Monday night but was unharmed, and died at 1 o'clock yesterday morning from acute hydrophobia. An autopsy disclosed congestion of the brain.

Clark committed suicide on the morning of Oct. 18th, and the above statement, written in pencil on one of the bank's letter heads, was found in the dead man's home by his fourteen-year-old daughter and turned over to his attorney. It was evidently written at the bank the night before the suicide.

FROM THE STATES.

ALL THE MURDERED MISSIONARIES WERE FROM THAT COUNTRY.

New York, Nov. 6.—Rev. Dr. Arthur J. Brown, of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in this city, said to-day that all the missionaries in Lincobow were under the charge of the Presbyterian Board. There were at the station in Lincobow, he said, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Maclellan and child, Rev. and Mrs. John F. Peale, Dr. Eleanor Chestnut, and Miss Eliza Patterson. There were 87 other missionaries in the mission of which Lincobow was a station, though no others were stationed at Lincobow.

Mrs. Maclellan was a Miss Ella M. Wood, of Philadelphia, and married Dr. E. C. Maclellan of Cincinnati, in 1889. She and her husband have been stationed at Lincobow since that year. They had a daughter Elsie, fifteen years old.

Dr. Eleanor Chestnut had no home in America. She was appointed a missionary in 1868.

John Rogers Peal was a new missionary who sailed from the United States last August. He was born at New Bloomfield, Pa., in 1869. He was educated at the Lafayette College and the Princeton Theological Seminary. He married Miss Gillespie, of Port Deposit, Md., last summer before going to China, in August.

In addition to four church buildings the Lincobow mission, which has 250 native Christians on its roll, has three Sunday schools and three establishments for secular education, one of which is a board school with nineteen pupils. It also supports a hospital and a dispensary.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Rev. Dr. R. P. Mackay, Secretary of the Canadian Presbyterian Foreign Missions says that none of his missionaries were in Lincobow. There are no stations of the China Inland Mission in Lincobow.

SEQUEL TO DUMMER TRAGEDY.

Four Young Men Summoned on Charge of Disturbing the Peace.

Peterborough, Ont., despatch: Another chapter was enacted to-day in the Dummer township manslaughter case, the outcome of which was that Charles Gow, who fired the shot which killed the boy Thomas Edward Hill, is serving three months' gaol in the county Jail. High Constable Cochrane went out to Dummer to-day and served summonses on George Gallagher, Wm. Murphy and Stewart Murphy, who walked ahead of the Hill home, and also against Ed. Dewar, who was in the luggy with Gow when the shots were fired by the latter. The quartette will appear before County Police Magistrate Edmiston on Friday morning, charged with creating a disturbance of the peace.

KEPT VIGIL TILL DEATH.

Mother Had Light in Window for Wandering Son.

Omaha, Nov. 6.—After watching and waiting eighteen years, every night of which she placed a light in the window for her son, who left home years ago, Mrs. Naomi Welles, a widow, died here to-day. She refused to be moved to the county hospital during her sickness for fear that the boy would return and find his mother helpless.

The son, Frank, left home when sixteen, eighteen years ago, to make his fortune, as he said. A week after his departure a letter came from St. Joseph, Mo., from him. Since that time Mrs. Welles has heard nothing from him.
