C. L. GRANT.

At the C. E. meeting on Sunday last, the hymn, "Am I a Soldier of the Cross " by Isaac Watts, was treated upon by Mr Geo Lothian, who his labors and making references to ventilated churches to the dissemi hymn in question was sung by Misses Bertha and Alma Renwick, while Wm Ramage sang "When I survey the wondrous cross, "another of his well-known hymns. Mr John Snell spoke upon the proposal to have the local option act in our township, in continuation of the topic of temperance allotted for that uight. Quite a large number turned out to the meeting which was led by Miss Ella Renton and Robert Renwick Jr. Visitors are always welcome.

We extend our warmest congratulations in advance to Mr Wm. Leith and Miss Jennie McDonald, who are uniting their loves and their lives in matrimony on Wednesday next.

Mr Wm Isaac and Mr Wm W Ramage and Mrs Ramage took in the S. S. Concert at Knex, Normanby. on Friday night last, and report a pleas-ant and successful fraternization with a sister congregation. The two latter stayed over with their old friends, Mr and Mrs Leith and recounted the many incidents in connection with their early associations.

A. C. ABBOTT. Teacher.

Willie was admonished by his father to develop the habit of observation. "Cultivate the faculty of seeing and you will be a successful man," he said The boy's uncle added to the admonition and his aunt also dilated upon the necessity of observing everything that went on, The triple lecture made a deep impression upon Willie. That evening he told his father that he had been using his eyes. "Tell us what you have learned," said his aunt. Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jennie's got an extra set of teeth in her dresser, and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips behind the tooks in the secretary." And the family united in voting him a little sneak.

Sleepiness in Church.

At the recent meeting in London c the Public Health Congress a paper was read by Mr Blizzard, of the Institute gave a lot of facts about his life and Civil Engineers, on the relation of ill many others of his hymns. The of infectious diseases and on the cause of alsopiness in church. According to this authority, as reported by the London Telegraph, sleepiness in church is not, as a rule, due to the dullness of the sermon, but to slow poisoning brought about by breathing over and over again the air already breathed by others. Ill-veutilation therefore, not paucity of ideas on the part of the preacher or stupidity on the part of the church-goer, explains the drowsiness felt in the pew.

It is beyond dispute that persons afflicted with insomnia have been able to get a sleep at church when they could Mr B Chatfield, of Collingwood, an get it nowhere else. Aged pillars of the church, whose zest could not be questioned, have been found often in the eujoyment of refreshing naps while the minister was setting torth some of the most inportant doctrines of the creed.

It has been suggested that the enforced silence of the man in the pew tends to produce torpicity o: the brain and sleep. If he could join in the discourse or talk back to the speaker, he would be better able to maintain a waking interest in the proceedings. Another view goes upon the idea that the listener, by dropping off into a Mrs John Wilson returned on Satur- doze, expresses his serenity of mind and ay flom Markdale, where she had perfect confidence in the minister's discrebeen helping in attendance upon her tion. If a doubt were felt as to the comsick brothe-in-law, for the last three petence or soundness of the speaker the worthy course member would be on the alert. But Mr Blizard's explanation randers all these far-fetched hypotheses

The closed eyes and trombone effects of the congregation are due to shortcomings neither of the pastor nor of his flock, but of the architect who designed the church building. Give the people fresh air to breathe in abundance and the sermon will not seem too long, nor will the pews seem to be wanting in appreciation of its fine

Mr Blizard strikes a serious note when he maintains that ill-ventilated churches, theatres and other like places frequented by large numbers have much to do with the spread of consumption. The air with-Mis. Lizzie Laughton is at present in them becomes laden with the germs of disease, and the want of pure air-secured by good ventilating arrangements-compels the people to take them into the lunge. Infectious diseases are thus communicated and the edification of the spiritual man is obtained at the cost of serious risk to the health of the body.
