Liquor Men And The Law.

In a remarkable article the wine and spirit Journal complains that the activity of temperance sentiment is keeping the liquor sellers of Ontario in a state of unrest, and is forcing on them a fight they do not want, and in order to finance which they must sell all the liquor they can, without regard to the injury done to those who buy. The suggestion is made that if the law does not protect the trade against agitation to suppress it, the obligation of the trade to respect the law decreases. If it does not wholly disappear. This reasoning would be sound enough in connection with almost any other business—that is to say, any other lawful business could boldly demand that those who annoy it should be silenced, and those who threaten it bound over to keep the peace. But liquor-selling is not an ordinary business. The right of the people to continue or suppress the trade has long been established, as is testified by the fact that the trade is conducted under license, and that Dominion, Provincial, county, city, town, and township votes have been taken on the propriety of letting it long continue with the sanction of law.

If the trade chooses to meet the agitation against it by disregarding the law—if it proposes to raise a campaign by selling excessive quantities of liquor and inferior qualities of it, if it encourages drunkenness to increase its receipts, if it disregards the law as to hours of closing—the trade will quickly kill itself. The advice given to which the liquor business finds itself in no doubt exasperating and provocative of false reasoning. The trade seeks to conform to the law, and in every way conduct itself with the utmost propriety and yet it was never in greater jeopardy. Local option threatens, by piecemeal attacks, to do away with it. Let the liquor trade not blame its virtues for its misfortune. As the country grows more sober, it becomes more insistent on sobriety.—Toronto Star.

Gas and Oil.

The meeting called for last Thursday night to consider the mixed-up situation in which the Durham Gas and Oil Co. is involved, so impressed the Assignee and creditors that they postponed the sale from Friday, 24th Nov to Friday, 1st December.

At the Thursday meeting Messrs Allan and John H Brown volunteered to act as a committee to try to collect sufficient of the unpaid subscriptions as, with the sale of piping would meet the claims of the creditors and prevent the sale being made under conditions that will almost surely lead to litigation.

At the meeting on Monday evening, Mr Allan reported. They had made examination of the books and found they might present a moral claim but could urge no legal claim on those whose stock was unpaid: the reason being that, while they had signed for their stock, no allotment had ever been made. Under these circumstances they decided not to try to collect.

Mr Allan and Mr Jackson reported the state of the minute book, Messrs McKeechne, Kelly, W S Davidson and Norman McInyre are directors; the minute authorizing the assignment was seconded by W S Davidson who was not even present. Another minute provides that the upset price be such a sum as to cover all indebtedness; it alleged no record exists of the agreement between the well-digger and the Company; reference is made in the minute to By-laws and these cannot have not been found.

A much discussion took place in a temper calm yet firm, some will even yet pay voluntarily but will not bear their share of the expense of assignment made by only two directors. Mr Calder will give over $100 for the piping and a proposition of Dr Jamieson that the town settle with the creditors for the balance, on condition of being given the well, found much acceptance. Mr Henderson of the Charter Smith firm gave some valuable information as to the power of the water, but the meeting was accomplishing nothing definite and gave way to a more interesting proposition for a new industry. Mayor Hunter remaining in the chair, the town hall being filled. This is reported elsewhere.

LATER.—We learn that the sale has been declared off. A committee consisting of Dr Jamieson, A. H. Jackson and Thos. Allan will hold the property in trust for the stockholders. Mr Kelly, in the meantime, advancing funds to meet the debt.

Renew! Renew!

Tomorrow is the 1st. of December and we ask our subscribers to renew early before the rush. Get your neighbor to subscribe too, he wants the paper. Tell him we have cheap clubbing rates.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

SHORT COURSES.—We have received a copy of the Short Course Calendar of the O. A. C., Guelph. These are held in January when farmers and farmers' sons can lay in a stock of useful knowledge in Dairying, judging live stock, judging seeds, and poultry work. The courses are free and experts give the instruction. Write to G. C. CARLEWYN, Pres.

FOR SALE.—Two-year old mare, General purpose. Also some well-bred Shropshire Ram Lambs. Terms reasonable. Apply to Wm. EDOER, Edge Hill, Oct. 17, 1905.

Cattle wanted to winter. Terms reasonable, apply to A. McCLINTON, Varney P. O.

Good smart boy wanted to learn the drug business. J. A. DARLING.

GIRL WANTED.—At once. Apply to Mrs. Chas. Cameron, the brick cottage, Upper Town.

The Durham Furniture Co. are wanting logs, and having mill facilities of their own are prepared to pay the highest prices for the right article. Enquiry at the factory office during business hours, will yield all the necessary information.

The hour of the departure of the Durham mail stage from Chatsworth has been changed. Heretofore it left after the arrival of the train from Owen Sound at 4:10. Now it leaves after the arrival of the noon train from Toronto. This will make a much earlier delivery of daily papers and other mail matter to the several points between Chatsworth and Durham, and will be otherwise advantageous.—Banner.

Talk about new industries! Mr R. Williamson with limited space, is erecting a 30 foot shop on his property, and is not going to ask a loan in the meantime. We will yet have an Upper Town whistle.

If you intend to have a sale, get your bills printed at the Review Office. A free notice will be given in the REVIEW to all so doing.

On the 15th of March, 1773, "Goldsmith's Comedy" she stoops to conquer" began its triumphant career. Shouts of laughter greeted it from the "Jolly Pigeons" onwards. The famous Dr Johnston in court, mourning for the King of Sardinia, sat in the front row of side box and laughed heartily throughout. From that to this "she stoops to conquer" has made generation after generation of English play goers laugh the laugh of good humor that leaves no bitter taste after it. This famous comedy will be presented in the Town Hall, early in December.

Public Warning.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal this week warns the public against falling into a simple error. There is another paper in Montreal with a somewhat similar name, but it is not the Family Herald and Weekly Star. When an advertiser calls be sure your receipt is for the Family Herald, the word "Family" must be used to get what you want. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is the big family and farm paper which gives that beautiful picture, "Queen Alexandra, Her Grandchildren and Dogs," free to all subscribers. It is the biggest dollar's worth ever offered. The Family Herald and Weekly Star have also issued the Farmers' Manual and Veterinary Guide, a book no farmer can well afford to be without. There is an enormous rush of subscriptions to the Family Herald and Weekly Star this season, and the publishers are well in advance, to help them out in the great rush, which will grow too when their beautiful pictures are scattered throughout the country. The picture alone is said to be worth more than two dollars, and one dollar will buy the paper for a year and the picture.

The Late Neil McDonald.

A copy of "The Moon" published at Hannah, N. Dak. to hand, contains a fuller notice of the death of the above gentleman, which we noticed last week. He died on the 18th inst., at the age of 55. He had been visiting his daughter in Western Canada where he took a severe cold ending in fatal pneumonia.

He was a member of a well-known Glenelg family, of whom two are yet with us, John of Glenelg Centre, and A. C., engineer, of Durham. Other brothers are Arch in California and Norman in Mich. The two daughters are Mrs Wal Turnbull and Mrs Mal Benton.

He spent several years in Manitoba in his youth, where he married Miss Belle McLeod. In 1854 he went West and was a much respected member of the community.

The paper says of him: A warm, hearty manner made him beloved by all. He identified himself with the best interests of his community. In rearing his family he considered a liberal education an essential to success. Since the establishment of the First Presbyterian Church of Hannah, he was an honored member of the session. In his business affairs his integrity was constant. The hardships incident to pioneer life in the west he and his partner bore with a cheerfulness most commendable. Nine sons and daughters are left to console their widowed mother. The six oldest sons bore the remains to their last resting place in the Hannah cemetery. One of the largest corteges ever seen here followed the remains to the grave. The entire community knowing well the worth of him who is gone extend their profound sympathy to the widow and children who have lost a devoted husband and noble father.

Four By-Elections.

Three go Liberal.

At the elections held on Wednesday last, three of the Liberal candidates were elected by good majorities. The most interest centred in North York, where a determined fight was made against the new Postmaster General, Hon Mr Aylesworth, inspired chiefly by the Toronto World. A majority about 500 is fitting testimony to the worth of the new man and minister.

In West Lambton, Mr Pardee, Liberal, was elected by 337, and in Antigonish Mr Wm Chisholm, Liberal, by 284. Chisholm's election keeps Nova Scotia still solidly Liberal.

The result in Wentworth was very close, Mr Sealey being defeated by 8. At the last election it will be remembered Sealey was elected, but a technical error of a stupid deputy in not initialling the ballots threw him out and elected Smith. Honorably, Smith would not accept the seat in that way and resigned, the second struggle ending with the above result.

A later recount has increased Smith's majority by a few votes.
