Don't Borrow

Your neighbor's Review: subscribe yourself; or, if your neighbor borrows yours, kindly give him a gentle reminder, and a dozen or more witnesses were summoned needlessly as it proved, for owing to some legal procedure evidence to prove justification was not admitted. As a consequence the charges of libel were practically admitted and the force of the defence was spent in endeavoring to secure mitigation of damages. Apparently this attitude resulted disastrously for Mr Irwin for the jury after hearing forceful presentations from Messrs Lucas and McKay and after being out over an hour brought in a verdict surprising in its severity of $500 and costs, these latter we presume will amount to $800 more, so it will be seen plainly what a stern view the "twelve good men and true" took of the case of the defendant.

CAMP AT NIAGARA.—As a result of the high price demanded for the ground the Militia Department wanted to buy at Pine Plains, Simcoe, for a military camp, it has been practically settled that the troops which in previous years have trained at Niagara will do so again this season. Militia estimates this year have been based upon the expectation of training the whole rural corps. Unless the pruning knife is used very extensively, all the rural regiments will, therefore, go under canvas this summer same as last.

WARM HEARTED NEIGHBORS.—On Friday last, neighbors and friends of Mr and Mrs Jno. A. Beaton met at their home to acknowledge good neighborhood and to say good bye before Mr Beaton leaves on Thursday next for far away Edmonton. In addition to a warm address they were presented with a very handsome silver bowl and cream pitcher combined. Mr Beaton replied appropriately and then followed with hours of pleasure, chat, music and song. Mr Beaton realized $1500 from his sale under auctioneer Clark's hammer which was surely a good return.

Around the World in One Night

This is quite an extensive trip to take in so short a space of time but it was successfully accomplished last Thursday evening. Rev. Mr. Wilson of Walkerton, with the aid of 150 splendid scenic-epic views, plotted the interested audience throughout the trip, who jammed into the Town Hall until standing room was unavailable around the doors. Mr Farquharson, Rev. Mr. Wilson started with his audience, from his 12 port, Walkerton. His clear articulation combined with a concise descriptive explanation of the views, with a spice of humor sandwiched in throughout, insured good attention and assisted materially in the enjoyment of the views.

We visited scenes near Mr W.'s former charge in Dutton, saw Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, entered the States, and passing Albany, witnessed scenes in modern New York. In the state of Liberty in the harbour, to give an idea of its size, we are told that a wedding ceremony at which 12 persons were present, took place in the hand of the statue. We cross the ocean, view the heathered hills and silvery lakes of Scotland, pass to Ireland, thence to old London, Notre Dame in Paris, arouse our feelings for the beautiful. War pictures in South Africa next cross the stage, passing on to India, China, and again over the ocean to Vancouver, B. C. We travel over the Canadian North West to Port Arthur, thence take the "Manitoba" for Owen Sound, stopping at Presque Isle to visit Mr. Jno. McKenney, the veteran light-house keeper and his little grandson.

Illustrated songs by the Presbyterian choir, "Loch Lomond," "Hark the herald angels sing" and at the close "The Maple Leaf" were well rendered and much appreciated. The proceeds of the evening at the small admission fee amounted to over $52, which will considerably enrich the Ladies' Aid Treasury.

A special meeting of Ben Nevis Camp is called for Friday evening 16 March, to take into consideration the report of a committee dealing with the purchase of a Park and other matters of importance. A full attendance requested.

WHO CAN BEAT IT?—We are credibly informed that a few days ago on the farm of Mrs David McMillan, Glenelg, Messrs Dan McKinnon and Geo. Buckingham cut 333 cords of 22 inch Wood in 4 days while Geo Havens split and piled it. Though the bush is getting thin, and precious, feats of wood craft are still possible.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—Great regret will be felt and expressed when it is learned that Mr J. S. Drysdale is down with typhoid fever. He is being cared for at Mrs McQuay's, where he has been boarding, and the Presbyterian Church and Sons of Scotland Society here have taken steps by engaging nurse Armstrong and in other ways to relieve his anxiety during his affliction, which we hope will not be of long duration. Coming so soon after his operation for appendicitis, it is decidedly hard luck.

HYMNICAL.—A quiet wedding took place on the morning of March 6th, at the home of Mrs John McGilgarey, Mallock, when her niece, Miss Jessie Beaton, was united in marriage to Mr Alex McEachern, of Bortineau, Dakota. Rev C. E. Pineo performed the ceremony. The bride was becomingly attired in white and carried Miss Jennie Beaton, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groomsmen were Mr Malcolm McEachern, brother of the groom. After congratulations, refreshments were served, and the newly wedded couple, having bade adieu to loved ones, drove to Durham where they took the train en route for Dakota U. S. A.—Com.

The second Carnival of the season in town was marked by a very fair attendance. Following are the prizes for costumes: Historical lady—Jessie Laidlaw; Fancy lady—Pearl Warner; National lady—Miss Jean Brown; Comic lady—Robert Laidlaw; Historical, gent—S. McIntyre; Fancy, gent—J. McClocklin; National, gent—E. Glass; Comic, gent—F. Glass; Clown—A. Knisley; Negro—R. Saunders; Indian—C. Seigner; Fancy, boy—A. Hutton; Fancy girl—L. Peel; Smallest girl in costume—Marguerite Hutton. In the open race Will Lavelle secured and maintained the lead each race; 2nd—Bert Moore; 3rd—Al. Saunders.

A largely attended meeting of citizens of this township was held in Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon last to discuss the erection of a hotel in Flesherston. It was the general consensus of opinion that in order to retain business the erection of a second hotel was an absolute necessity, and it was decided to form a joint stock company forthwith. As a preliminary move four thousand dollars in subscriptions is asked for by April 1. Of this sum about $3000 has been secured in town and the balance it is expected will be got by the farming community. When the $4000 is subscribed articles of incorporation will be secured and the building proceeded with.—Flesherston Advance.

ALMOST FATAL.—A very serious accident befell the six-year-old son of Mr and Mrs Mark Wilson, of Flesherston, well-known here. Mrs Wilson being a sister of Messrs Edwin, Arthur and Fred McClocklin. Two teams, which were being raced on the street last Friday, by their partially intoxicated drivers, got beyond control. One team ran into a telegraph pole, smashing neckyoke and couplings, and becoming separated, one horse ran frantically on, and getting onto the sidewalk, ran over the little fellow, as he was going toward home and nearly there. He was thought at first to be dead, but the Dr being summoned, his skull toward the back of the head was found to be splintered and other injuries which were thought to be fatal, sustained. However he rallied and at latest report is doing fairly well.

In Memoriam.

The death on Thursday last, of Mrs E. Davidson, after an attack of pneumonia of a few week's duration, calls for more than passing comment. A link between the past and the present has been broken, for she had been a resident of Durham longer than any person now living.

As is well known, she was the eldest daughter of the late Arch. Hunter, who is rightly looked upon as the founder of Durham. She was born in Kilmarton, Scotland, nearly 81 years ago and almost 60 of those years have been spent in Durham. She was married to Mr Davidson—who predeceased her many years ago—in the late 40's of last century, and their well known son, Archie Davidson, was the first child born in Durham. Other children were James, who died 10 years ago, Mrs McDonald of Detroit, and Mrs C. L. Grant of Durham.

Decensed was a woman of considerable force of character, and while possessed to a large degree of all wisely and motherly qualities, had also the Hunter taste and talent for business, and in company with her son, conducted a millinery business here for many years. Latterly she has made her home with her children here, occasionally visiting Detroit, where her daughter, Mrs McDonald lives.

Her funeral took place on Saturday last, from the home of her daughter, Mrs Grant amid many tokens of esteem and regret. The pall-bearers were her son, and son-in-law, Mr Grant, her three nephews, J. P., Arch. S., and John H. Hunter, and her grandson, Dr J. F. Grant.

Mrs Davidson was the eldest of a family of 4 sons and 4 daughters; Her brothers were William, Archie, John and Jas. H. Hunter, M. P., all now deceased; her three sisters are Mrs A. B. McNab, Topeka, Kan., Mrs H. S. Schofield, Brockville, and Mrs John McLaren, Toronto, all still living.

One is prompted to reflect at the passing of such a pioneer as Mrs Davidson, on the changes she has seen in this town of Durham, of the activities of its founders, long since at rest, of the hopes of many that were never realized of the downfall of some who promised well, of institutions, like the great monthly cattle fair which have completely vanished. Yet through it all the civic lamp has burned, sometimes dimly enough it is true, but at no time in its history shedding a brighter light than it does this day. The individual generation have foundations on which to build for the laying of which they must thank such pioneers as Mrs Davidson who came to the "bush" when the name meant hardship and trial.

Mrs John Scott, Upper Town and Mr Aaron Vollett, are now the oldest residents of the place.

Address and Presentation.

On Thursday evening March 8th, the young people of Hampden assembled at the house of Mrs J. Derby to say good-bye to Mr and Mrs A. Green and family, who leave for Enderly, B. C. early this week, the principal feature of the evening was the presentation of a purse of money to Mr and Mrs A. Green.

Immediately after the arrival of all the guests Mr and Mrs Green, entirely unaware of the proceedings, were brought upon the scene, being some what overcome as the address below was being read to them. After the purse was presented by Mrs Jas. Watt, Mr Green, who was deeply affected, made a brief but appropriate reply thanking their many friends for their kindness.

To Mr and Mrs A. Green and family.— It was with deep regret that we first learned of your intention to sever connections with us and leave for the far West. We hoped at first that the rumor would end in talk, but such was not to be, as we see by the course of events that you are actually going to leave us, although we can hardly realize it. During your few years amongst us you have made many warm friends, and these are not only loving good neighbors, but also kind friends, who hope that wherever your lot may be cast, that the same may be met of you, that the same kindness may be returned to you that your kindness deserves. We would now ask you to accept from us this purse of money, not altogether for what it is worth but that we might show in a small way, some mark of our esteem to you as you are about to leave us.

We wish you in your new home many happy days and we hope and look forward to some time when we may have you again in our midst. I don't need to tell you, to at least renew old acquaintances. But we leave the matter in a higher hand than ours, we leave it with Him, who doeth all things well with him who knoweth what is best for us better than we do ourselves and if it should be His will that we should never meet again on this earth, we hope and sincerely trust that we all without one single exception, may meet around the throne in Heaven where partings are no more.

Signed in behalf of the young Andrew Derby, people of Hampden. Mrs Jas. Watt.

The first part of the programme being through with, music and dancing and various games was the order of the evening until early morn when each one left for home, (and some not for their own home) feeling that they had spent a very pleasant and sociable night, and wishing Mr and Mrs Green a safe journey, and many happy days. Among those present from a distance were Mr Green and Miss McCaslin, of Louise Ludlow Wins the Suit.

The interest in the suit of Ludlow v. Irwin in Owen Sound last week was naturally very great. Both parties are well known here, both have their friends and a dozen or more witnesses were summoned needlessly as it proved, for owing to some legal procedure evidence to prove justification was not admitted. As a consequence the charges of libel were practically admitted and the force of the defence was spent in endeavoring to secure mitigation of damages. Apparently this attitude resulted disastrously for Mr Irwin for the jury after hearing forceful presentations from Messrs Lucas and McKay and after being out over an hour brought in a verdict surprising in its severity of $500 and costs, these latter we presume will amount to $800 more, so it will be seen plainly what a stern view the "twelve good men and true" took of the case of the defendant.

While attempting to impugn the finding of the court, there is in the situation much that calls for comment. The mistakes if one may call them so, for which such dire punishment was meted out, were committed in an effort to do what the defendant thought was in the interest of the shareholders of the N. Y. P. C. Co. If it is of no use to condone the mistakes, neither is it possible to deny credit for a desire for the public good which was not recognised as it appears to us, to the extent it should have been.

This aspect of the case calls for more than mere verbal recognition, written or spoken, and the shareholders, either individually or corporately should come to Mr Irwin's assistance.

NOTES.

Mr. W. E. Brooker in the witness box for about three hours was a feature of the case. His interpretation of the objectionable phrase, and references had, we believe a powerful effect on the jury. At times Mr Brooker might have been taken for the questioner, and seldom was he rattled, in giving his evidence.

The plea of Mr Lucas for the freedom of the press was a fine effort, which one would like to have in print but it was overweighted in the eyes of the jury by the dictum of the Judge that "Liberty must not degenerate into license."

Judge Anglin summed up the whole most lucidly, but his leaning was against the defendant. He described five kinds of damages: Contemptuous, Nominial, Fair, Substantial and Vindictive, the latter being the only form which included punishment for the defendant as well as compensation for the plaintiff and surely this latter kind has been dealt out to the full.
