Dan Patch is Fed International Stock Food

Every day and there is no horse to equal him for speed or sensibility. A lady can drive him with perfect safety when he is not hitched to his sulky. You can pick out the horses in your locality every day that are fed on Stock Food. Have you seen

Geo. Meyer's team? Ask Matthew Means how it cured his horses of distemper. For fattening cattle and hogs there is nothing that can touch it. After a thorough trial, one of our customers bought three 25 lb. pails last week to fatten his steers.

The choir of the Presbyterian church here was honored with an invitation to the home of Mr and Mrs John M. Findlay on Friday, 2nd March.

Being old time valuable members, the invitation was heartily received and complied with, and being partly in honor of the hostess' sister, Miss Mary Scott, a much appreciated and later time member of the choir. Needless to say every member of the choir was present prepared to enjoy themselves, which we are sure they did to the fullest extent.

Miss Mary Scott is leaving again in a few days, much to our regret, for Maple Creek, Alta., where she acceptably fills a responsible position.

Mr. and Mrs. Findlay, Mr. and Mrs. Wm Ramage, Mr Wm Isaac and Misses M. Isaac and Mary Scott spent a social evening at the hospitable home of Mr and Mrs D. Hamilton at the Lake.

A Congregational meeting is called for Friday afternoon to consider the advisability of becoming a self sustaining body in the future as well as to discuss other matters of urgent importance in connection with Amos Presbyterian church.

The lecture on Wednesday evening at Amos Church by the Rev Thos Wilson of Walkerton, is universally spoken as one of the best ever held here. The interest taken in the lecture and views given was maintained throughout. A fine speaker, made the subject a taking one. The thrilling hair breadth escapes of Dr Paton, and the difficulties encountered, makes one admire the noble courage and perseverance of the man and shows his faith in the power of God to protect through every difficulty. The choir contributed an anthem at the close by request. The proceeds amounted to $27.

The Bible Society met lately and elected officers for the coming year as follows: Hon. Pres. J. S. Garson; Pres. Mr. Jas. Snell; Vice Pres., Mr. Jas. Coleridge; Secy., Mr Geo Lothian; Treasurer, Mr J M Findlay.

The mild and very favorable weather of Sunday last the 4th inst., was conducive to a large turnout at the sacramental services at Amos church.

Swinton Park.

A very nice present was presented to Mrs Margaret McCannel, on Tuesday night, when the Ladies' Aid of the Salem Methodist church, gave her a quilt. She was a member of the Ladies' Aid and was held in very high esteem by the members. She and her family are moving to the West, where I am sure the neighbors wish her every success.

L. O. L. No 1136 held an arch meeting on Wednesday night and quite a number took the degree. Mr John Hannam, who was home from the West visiting his parents and friends, around the park, returned on Tuesday.

Mr James Wilson, who was home from the West, took a partner back with him, having got tired baching it in the West.

Quite a number from the park took in the tea meeting at Esplan, on Wednesday evening and report a very enjoyable time.

Mr Wm Kinnell, of the south line, has gone West to seek his fortune.

Mr and Mrs James Aldcorn, of Corbeton, visited his brother and mother on Saturday.

Born to Mr and Mrs Thomas Campbell, on Feb 28th, a son. We hear some of the young ladies saying it will be safe to go driving now, as Dan is gone. We notice a young gentleman in the park is going in for an education, we do not think it will take him long, as he has three very good teachers.

A very successful quilting was held at the home of Mrs George Black, on Thursday last. We heard there was only one boy there, and he must have been very good at threading needles, as he kept all the ladies busy.

Mr Will Heard has been teaching lumber to Durham this last week. We notice he likes going to town, as he was in Dundalk twice.

I wonder who the young gentleman is, who has the habit of borrowing horses and rigs to drive the ladies home. I hope he has better luck in the future than he had in the past. I think it would be a good time for some one to start a livery.

Mrs John Hardy has rented her farms: one of them to George Parslow and the other to Robert Knox.

Quite a number of the young people of the Park, took in a dance at Mr Thomas Weir's and report a good time.

Hopeville

The McArthurs are travelling considerable lately trying to arrange their fire business.

There are large numbers leaving here for the North West and Cobalt in North Ontario. From our village Mr. Hamilton Allen, blacksmith, has gone.

Mr Wm Dezell of Badgeros and a former resident of Proton is visiting his brother and friends here. He is still lame, the result of the collision of the trains in British Columbia, when he went first there. He is talking of going again; if so we wish he will have a safe journey.

The tea-meeting on the 7th in the Esplan church was very successful, a very large gathering of the members and attenders being present and enjoyed themselves well in a good neighborly way and with a good Christian spirit. The tea in the basement got up by the good housewives and their daughters was excellent. The Cedarville choir with an addition to it of Mrs Rev McInnis and a band of four from Swinton Park known as the Haw brothers who were up to their usual style, gave all the music that was required. Rev Mr McInnis, the new pastor and chairman of the meeting, with the Rev Mr Archer of Comand and the Rev Mr Little of Holstein, with short Christian addresses pleased the people well. On account of an overflow of good provisions they had a social on Thursday evening, the 8th, which also came off well. The village was well represented at both meetings although the following parties were deprived from attending, namely—Mr J. H. Scott detained in the store and P. O. Mr Jos. McArdle, being detained in the house by sickness, and some of the Burnett family. Mrs A. H. Burnett had to go to Dundalk, as her daughter's family was sick. The committee realized over $60.00 by the sale of tickets. Nightly services will be held in the church all this week.

Leis.

Mr Henry Reay, of Red Deer, Alberta, formerly of this part, is at present visiting friends here, and reports times flourishing in the West.

Miss Mary Vickers, of Durham, is spending a couple of weeks with her parents Mr and Mrs J. W. Vickers.

Miss Annie Leggette, of Durham, visited at Mr and Mrs J. Robt. Leggette's last week.

The Sunday School has been organized, and will commence in April, Mr David Hopkins was appointed Superintendent.

We are glad to hear that Mr and Mrs John Couits are recovering from a recent illness.

A very successful social was held in the school, at Vickers, on Friday night last. Mr Alex Grierson was auctioneer and skilfully filled the position. The price of the boxes ranged from fifty cents to three dollars. Mr Wm Livingston acted as chairman, and proceeded with a short programme, consisting of dialogues and solos. The proceeds for the evening amounted to over forty dollars, and it is to be spent in a picnic.

Mr and Mrs Henry McCasin Sundayed with Mr and Mrs John Bailey.

Miss McLeod, our popular teacher, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Durham.

Mr Will Glass, of Durham, took charge of the service here Sunday owing to the illness of Rev G. I. Stephenson.

Boothville.

I will try and write a short budget this week as it seems no one else is writing. Our little burg is quiet but we are not sleeping.

Mr James Marshall has had a busy winter of it, he has shipped several carloads of live stock to the city.

Mr Henry Hoffman has been mail-carrier in the mean time, and it is needless to say anything only the mail was on time every time.

Mr and Mrs James A. Wilson and Mr John Hannam left for their home in Regina last week. We wish the young couple every happiness through life.

Mrs Ernest, of Boothville, spent a few days visiting at Mr D. Ferguson's this week.

Miss Spence spent Saturday and Sunday at Mr John McQueen, Durham.

We notice a number of small children are taking advantage of the mild weather and going to school.

Mr H. Hoffman is loud in his praises to the honesty of the young lady who found and returned his fur mit but he says what else would she do with it as it is too big for her to wear.

Mr John McQueen, of Durham, spent Sunday evening at his father's home, who we are sorry to say has not been well of late.

We wonder whose waggon we heard going along the road at an early hour last Sunday.

A happy event took place at the home of Mr and Mrs Jas. McDonald, Boothville, on Tuesday evening, Feb 20, when his daughter, Katie, was united in marriage to Mr Jas. A. Wilson, of Regina. The ceremony was performed by Rev J. A. Matheson, of Pricerville, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the two families. The bride, who was tastefully attired, was assisted by her sister, Maggie, while Mr George Wilson ably assisted the groom. After congratulations, the company retired to the dining room where a bountiful tea was served. Mrs Matheson played the wedding march. The evening was spent in games and other amusements. The many presents were both beautiful and useful. Mr and Mrs Wilson spent several days visiting friends at Singhampton, before leaving for their western home.

All join in wishing them a safe journey home and a long and happy life. Wedding bells are ringing.

ALEX. RUSSELL

North Egremont

On Monday of last week but too late to get it in for that week's paper, there at the home of Mr and Mrs Amos Chislett "Craigalee", S. Glenelg, a large representation of youth and beauty of the neighborhood who had met to do honor to the host and hostess for their many fine qualities of heart and neighborhood before leaving the old homestead where they had spent so many pleasant years of their life. They were made the recipients of a leather upholstered arm chair and a velvet covered, spring rocker, together with a warmly expressed address a copy of which I have requested to be sent you. The address, on the calling of Mr. W. L. Dixon who was unanimously elected to and occupied the chair very ably—was read by Mr Wm Ramage, and backed up by a finely worded speech of that gentleman of gentlemen (vide the recent horse transaction,) Mr Neil McCannel, and the approbation of a host of as fine stalwart young men as one might wish to see. What a nucleus to draw from, in filling the ranks of a volunteer Co., if they could only be induced.

Following is the address: Dear friends,—

It was with feelings of regret that we learned some time ago, that we were to lose you from our neighborhood, and the more so because we had not expected that we were so soon to part, but were still looking forward to the enjoyment of as pleasant social gatherings, with you in the future as we have enjoyed in the past.

Now as it draws near the time when our relations, as neighbors, must for the present be severed, permit us to express the high regard we entertain for you, as kind friends, whom we at all times found willing to assist us in trouble as well as to rejoice with us when we were glad. Accept then our best wishes for your future welfare, and also these chairs, which we offer as a token of our esteem and affection. We ask you to take of our esteem and affection. We ask you to accept them—not on account of their intrinsic value, but for what they represent; and we will feel pleased to know that in the use of them you will sometimes think kindly of the old friends and neighbors, among whom the years of your youth have been spent.

Signed on behalf of the surrounding neighbors: (Henry Eckhardt, Neil McPhail, Miss K. L. Dixon, Miss Maggie Hooper, To Mr and Mrs Amos Chislett, Top Cliff, March 5th, 1906.

Mr Chislett very appropriately and ably replied at length, thanking them for the appreciation shown by the donors, whom they would always hold in loving remembrance of the many happy times spent together. This is very inadequately expressed but taking no notes at the time, it has escaped our memory.

Music of a first class order was supplied by Messrs Neil McKinnon and Thos McDougall who played very evenly and nicely together on the violin and who handle a bow, with equal facility as they do a vaulting pole or a tossing caber. Messrs Arch McDonald and his brother Alex, also contributed some on the same instruments very creditably for comparatively new beginners. Miss Lang, teacher of No. 10, gave by request a recitation entitled "Garibaldi," a deceased gentleman whose widow (for the nonce) invited young men in want of a wife to make speedy application. A recitation by Miss Mary Brown, N Egremont, giving the troubles of a maid fresh from Ireland, and the setting of "Skeer's Plue He" by Mr Andrew Watson with some of the jokes added, completed the list of recitations. Songs were given by Miss Belle Dixon, Messrs Hector McDonald, Chesley Chislett and Wm. W. Ramage. Miss Maggie Hooper and Miss Kate Dixon contributed organ selections. A most enjoyable time spent together amongst sociable and handsome ladies, (the quality of the young men has been already referred to) came to a close in the early hours of the morning by the singing of Auld Lang Syne, after which dancing was indulged in till near the break of day we are told.

Mr Neil McCannel in remitting the note for a deceased horse bought at his sale, is worthy of a verse in that grand song, "Heroes and Gentlemen." He is one in a thousand. I believe it makes us all better men.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. A. Hooper, S. Glenelg, when his eldest daughter, Minnie, was married to Mr Thos Bothwell on Wednesday, the 7th inst.
