PERSONAL MENTION

Mr Wm Black went to Mt Forest Wednesday.

Mrs Geo. Wilson has been quite ill the past week with pneumonia.

Mrs. Folchard, Nassegweya, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Hunt.

Mr and Mrs Jno. Wilson and children left this Wednesday morning for the West.

Mr Dan McKinnon left Tuesday morning and goes to Winnipeg in the meantime.

Miss Margaret McFarlane returned to town Wednesday last on a visit to her brothers here.

Thos. McClocklin, Durham, was the guest this week of W. E. Theobald.—Mt Forest Rep.

Mr Frank Lenahan started out for the West Tuesday and goes to Fort William in the first place.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Rouke, returned to Winnipeg, Wednesday where he is a foreman carpenter.

Mr Nat Horn, of Toronto, was a guest of his sister, Mrs Jno. A. Darling, a few days last week.

Miss May Aljoe returned home from Stratford on Saturday last, after spending a couple of months.

Mrs Collett and daughter, Mary, long a popular clerk in Mocker's store, left Tuesday for Souris, Man.

Mr Wm. Whitmore, North Egrement, left Tuesday to join his three brothers in Rainy River.

Messrs Sam Edge, son of Robt., John and David Edge, sons of Elias, left on Tuesday last for Regina.

Mr C. L. Grant is in Toronto this week delegate to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W.

Mr and Mrs Jno. McArthur have moved from town back to the farm in Glenelg, their two sons having gone West.

Mr Jas. Wilson, cattle buyer, was prostrated last week with a severe attack of pneumonia. He has rallied somewhat, but is still critically ill.

Michael J. McKenna, of Dornoch, was among the number of our young men leaving for the glowing West, on Tuesday last. He goes to Weyburn.

Master Russell Currie, who has been undergoing eye treatment in Stratford hospital the last two months, returned home last week, but slightly improved.

Mr Amos Chislett left on Tuesday for Toronto where he will be joined by his son Chesley to-day, and together they will go to the province of Saskatchewan.

Mr Thos Bothwell and his bride, (nee Miss Minnie Hooper), accompanied by Stewart, brother of the former, left for Alberta on Tuesday afternoon, going by way of Chicago and St. Paul.

Mr J. S. Drysdale, passing through a typhoid experience, is still critically ill at Mrs McCreary's, but it is hoped medical skill and the careful nursing of Miss Armstrong, will bring him through.

Miss Mary Gordon, Fergus, visited at her home over Saturday and Sunday last. It is improbable that Mrs Gordon and family in town will move West, to Weyburn, this spring as intended, owing to scarcity of water and houses.

Mr R. P. Legate has returned from Gravenhurst, where he went to visit his son, R. D., at the sanitarium, who, we are informed, is still improving, though he had a temporary set back last week, having suffered somewhat from hemorrhage of the lungs. Mr R. D.'s many friends here are anxious to hear of his restoration to health. May he soon be able to return home.—Ceylon cor. of Flesherion Advance.

First-class Piano, Parlor Suit, Sideboard, Dining Table, Dining room chairs, Bed room suites, Springs and mattresses, Stoves, Pipes, Drums, Carpets, Curtains, Curtain poles, Lounges, Cupboard, centre table, side table, small tables, Kitchen tables and chairs, Bureaus, Hall Rack, Lamps, Dishes, Lawn Mower, Tinware, Garden Tools, and a number of other articles too numerous to mention. Terms: Cash. J. ROBERTSON, JOHN CLARK, Proprietor, Auctioneer

—Mr H. H. Miller, M. P. has been appointed on three committees of Parliament: Railways, Canals and Telegraph Lines, Banking and Commerce, Agriculture and Colonization.

A Meaford man asked his wife:—"Why is a husband like dough?" He expected that she would give it up and was going to tell her it was because a woman needs him; but she said because it was hard to get off her hands.

At Naples a burglar introduced himself into a bank in a trunk, which a servant pretended was hers. The trunk was brought into the rooms of the manager who lives over the Bank. A fox-terrier belonging to the manager, barked so furiously that the manager became suspicious, and brought in four policemen who forced open the trunk and secured the man.

MUST PAY FOR THEIR PAPER.—An interesting case was heard in the division court at Woodstock recently when V. D. Francis, who formerly published the Woodstock Times, sued Orlington $10.50, the arrears in subscription to the paper. The defendant admitted that he had been a subscriber, but stated that he had cancelled the paper after one month's trial. The plaintiff offered that the paper had been cancelled, and had continued for three years and a half. Judge Finkle found in favor of the plaintiff, and ordered the $10.50 to be paid in arrears.

The Lord's Day Act.

The strictest defenders of the Lord's Day will find in the Government bill, which Hon Mr Fitzpatrick is presenting to Parliament, all that they would think of asking of legislation. The measure goes as far as the keenest Sabbatarian would have ventured if he had been entrusted with its preparation; and much farther—we venture to think—than he has expected the Dominion Government to go in the matter.

But any who imagine that the Dominion Government does not intend to push the bill through Parliament, if it meets with the general approval of the people, are—we suspect—comforting themselves with a delusive theory. It is never a pleasant thing for a Ministry to retract any portion of a measure which has been introduced with the Ministerial sanction; and there is little doubt that in this case the Minister of Justice has made an honest effort to meet what he believes to be the popular demand on this question. There may be some surprise in Ontario that so strong a bill comes from the pen of a Quebec Minister; but the fact is that some of its strongest clauses are exactly in line with the recent utterances of Archbishop Bruchest of Montreal with regard to Sabbath observance.

Behind this bill, then, are the aggressive advocates of the Lord's Day Alliance, the influence of Archbishop Bruchest and other Roman Catholic clergy, and the natural desire of the Dominion Government to see its own measures passed through Parliament unscathed. This is no private member's bill, likely to be pounded to pieces in committee. We have been accustomed in the past to see Mr John Charlton—an untiring champion of a quiet Sabbath—introduce such measures, and then to see them mutilated beyond recovery by irresponsible members in the ambush of committee discussion. But a Ministerial measure is a craft of heavier armament, and is likely to stand all the fire concentrated upon it, unless the people outside the Chamber authoritatively intervene.

The bill, if adopted, will certainly limit work on the Sabbath to the most carefully-proven necessities and will shut the gates of pleasure altogether. This may be the will of the Canadian people. It undoubtedly is the will of a great many of them, and of those placed in ecclesiastical authority. Whether this will should be imposed upon the others is a fairly debatable question; but it must be debated before this bill passes the two Houses.

Credit must in any case be given the Government for introducing a courageous measure. It is not a compromise; it is a frank acceptance of the Sabbatarian policy. It proposes to stop all work on Sunday; to tie up all railway trains, except those which must run for humanity's sake; to close all places where things are bought and sold; to prevent any man from carrying on his ordinary occupation, unless he ministers to a sick body or a sick soul; and to absolutely prevent the running of excursions, the playing of games to which a fee is attached, or even the shooting at a target for the fun of the thing. Whether golf will come under this latter clause probably depends upon whether a golf club can be called an "engine."

The bill is, in two words, an out-and-out order. If the country wants it, all it need do is to look thankful. If it does not want it quite so rigorous, it should speak now.—Toronto Star.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Thos. Turnbull and Rod McFarlane as butchers has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. The business will be continued by the undersigned who will pay all claims against the late firm and to whom all accounts due them are payable. ROD MCFARLANE. 1st March, 1906.

Yes, 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.
