----Now that a statue of Joe Jefferson is proposed with some prospect of success, there is a plea put in for one to Edwin Booth. An admirer, after setting forth his claims to histrionic immoraltity,

Edwin Booth's private character was of a standard equal to his dramatic genius -gentle, generous, modest, pure and noble hearted, this great American actor needs no monument other than his character to live forever in the hearts of the people whom he inspired with the genius of his noble art.

In these days of dramatic degeneracy surely it is well that the fame and name of Edwin Booth should be cherished. It is often said of us by our critics that in our mad rush for things material we lose sight of higher things. In the failure thus far to honor the memory of Edwin Booth we do alike injustice to ourselves and to the art which he so glorified.

The dull sameness of most wedding write-ups must have often struck the observant reader. The brides all "look lovely," the presents are always "numerous and costly," and the performance is usually "pretty." Here is the report of the wedding of the editor of the Leona, Kansas, Hustler, written doubtless by himself before he had recovered from the effects of the experience:

"The bride wore a beautiful dress of French lawn, at least that's what they said it was. "The groom (that means 'we) wore the customary black hand-me-down, and was about scared to death. "There were no bridesmaid or best man, becouse the groom did not think he could find a better man than him-

Uncle Sam's experiment with reindeer in Alaska is said to have proved to be a complete success. It is now estimated that should there be no more reindeer imported from Alaska, according to the present rate of increase within less than twenty-five years there will be 1,000,000 head of these animals in Alaska. In thirty-five years the number may reach 10,000,000, and the United States will be receiving from Alaska thousands of reindeer carcasses and tons of hams and tongues. Before the end of the present century Alaska will be helping to feed 200,000,000 inhabitants of the United States. ---U.S. Presidential elections cost money. Mr. Sulzer, of New York, in the House of Representatives gave some figures recently which are rather startling. Prior to 1860, he said, the campaign fund at the command of any national committee never exceeded $25,000. In 1860 and the subsequent years the national campaign funds of the two parties were as follows:

Year.		Republican.	Democrat.
1860	 8	100,000	$ 50,000
1864		75,000	50,000
	 	150,000	75,000
1872	 	200,000	50,060
1876	 	750,000	900,000
1880	 	1,000,000	500,000
1884	 	1.100,000	1,400,000
1888	 	1,350,000	1,250,000
1892	 	1,850,000	1,350,000
1896	 	16,000,000	975,000
1900	 	9,500,000	400,000
1004	 	4,500,000	1,250,000

If in war Providence is on the side the heaviest battalions, the same power may be said to be, as a rule, on the political side that has the heaviest money barrel. When it remembered that the legitimate expenses of the U. S. elections are nearly all borne ! by the public exchequers, the conclusion is inevitable that the vast sums already mentioned constitute a sort of corruption fund.
