Taylor & Co., Dromore

Priceville.

We had all kinds of weather during the past week, such as rain, snow, frost, high winds, etc. Some are done seeding long ago while those who are not so highly favored are somewhat behind yet. Saturday night's rain made everything look like summer by having a growing appearance.

During the thunder storm a couple of weeks ago the barn of Robt Fisher of the S. Line was struck by lightning and his best horse badly paralyzed but under the treatment of Vet. McIntyre he is getting along well, but probably will never be as sound as ever.

Some of the sick people are still complaining. Mrs. Hugh McPhail is still a sufferer and her mother Mrs. McLean is not much better.

The sons of the late Hugh McDonald put a fine monument up in the cemetery in this place in memory of their beloved father, an act that shows that they respect the memory of their beloved parents.

While driving home from church on Sunday Mr. Roger McEa's horse became unmanageable from the cause of one of the tugs getting loose coming down a hill. The horse got away from the driver, throwing all six that were in the rig onto the ground and demolishing the rig badly. Miss McEachern and Miss McEa got a few bruises and as we happened to be one of the number we escaped with a big scare. The horse ran about a mile as they thought it was too much of a good thing running for nothing. We are all thankful for the narrow escape.

The choir in the Presbyterian church has been re-organized, Mr. Wm Ramage attends to the teaching of the choir at least once a week and finds delight in walking from home sometimes to be punctual in attend-ance.

We notice that in all Presbyterian churches, the good old Psalms are not even mentioned now, only "Psalm Selection." Some aged person who dearly loves the good old Psalm book may be in the audience in our churches and for their sakes the number of the old version would not be out of place to give.

The anniversary sermons will be held in the Presbyterian church here, probably on the first Sabbath in June but further notice will be given.

Mr. Wm Webster of Vancouver, an old Priceville boy paid a visit for a week to his birth place. Many remember his father, the late Alex. Webster who did good business here for more than twenty years before moving to Vancouver.

Miss Kate Campbell of Toronto is home at present, attending the mother or who had the misfortune of breaking her leg a couple of weeks ago. The good lady we are pleased to say is doing fine and we hope to see her out before long.

We admire the pluck of the venerable gentleman, Mr. John Campbell of Swinton Park, who is now 88 years of age and attended Gaelic meeting in our church here on the 1st Sunday in May. Mr. Campbell comes 7 miles while some that might be his great grand children are too tired to come a couple of miles.

Mrs. McDonald moved to her old home on the South Line a few weeks ago. The old lady greatly desires to end her days in the old home. She is alone. She was comfortably kept with her nephew Sandy McDon-ald of Froon, but the spirit moved her to go to her old home and had to be taken there. She is 88 years of age and the opposite neighbor always looks to see her door opened in the morning which is a sure sign that she is yet living. There is a great danger of finding her dead some morning as she is subject to weakness.

Mr. Hector McKechnie treated himself to a new top buggy from McQueen and Morice.

Norman McIntyre placed a new organ in his house from the same firm. Norman had lightning rods put on his barn lately too.

Mrs. McPherson is spending a while with her sister, Mrs. McCannel, of Durham.

Mr. N. McCannel of Durham paid a visit to friends in this part while on his way from Swinton Park.

We noticed a good change in the enlargement of last week's REVIEW by way of improvement.

Our town is kind of quiet at present but after the busy season is over we expect more stir. Our hotels are open as usual and the travelling community will be accommodated in accordance to the recent act for there is plenty of bread, butter, eggs and so forth to be found at reasonable prices and nobody need go hungry.

Lots of good water also to drink so we need not go dry. Our hotel keepers are accommodating as there will be found cigars and such drinks as come under the new Act by those desiring to indulge.

We thought a few months ago we would hear the train whistle coming in to our town by this time but it seems as far away as ever and by all appearances we will have to use the old style of travelling to Durham this summer yet. Our fathers and mothers thought nothing of walking to Durham and back and carry 50 or 100 pounds of provisions on their backs some fifty years ago, now, our sons and daughters, think it beyond their dignity to travel anywhere without a top buggy or a swell cutter.

HARDWARE!

It's the quality and quantity of our goods that increases our business.

A CLASS RE-UNION.

On Thursday of last week, the Knox College Class of '86 met in Toronto to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their graduation. The class originally had seventeen members, of whom fourteen survive. Of these fourteen nine rallied for the celebration. Paterson, now a D. D., with brogue as verdant and face as smiling as ever, came all the way from Philadelphia, Kinneer hailed from Montreal, Wilson from Walkerton, Drummond from Belleville, J. L. Campbell from St. David's, McIntyre from Westminster, Ont., Farquharson from Durham, and Tibb and Haddock from Toronto. Kindly mention was made of the two Campbells, Craig, Haig and Ballantyne, who were unable to attend.

The guests of the evening were Principal McLaren, D. D. and Rev. Dr. Gregg, the only surviving members of the old staff. The proceedings were thoroughly informal, but there were the speeches, the stories and time-honored traditions. There were peals of laughter, rounds of applause and the touch of pathos from which springs the tears. Dr. Gregg was in his happiest mood though he had to leave at an early hour to celebrate the fifty-ninth anniversary of his wedding. Principal McLaren was never more genial in manner, or more delicious in expression, and as for the rest we were all the boys over again living anew in the good old college days.

At times you could have taken the whole company—yes, Dr. McLaren and all—as a group of boisterous college dons, yet in a moment the tone would change and the full stream of burning zeal with all the growth of the years would issue from the sacred springs.

At the class reunion of ten years ago the speeches echoed of weddings and the ringing laughter of the bairns. This time household matters were less in evidence, though in the lapse of time two had been widowed, and one had been saved from the jaws of death by a critical operation. There were stories from Paterson just as funny and kindly as ever—visions of the ridiculous side of things so characteristic of the McIntyre of "Witch of Endor Fame," a recitation from Haddock that was wont to be called for again and again at the impromptu concerts at the head of the stairs, experiences, stories, impressions from all—the events of a lifetime came up for review and the discussion of the lighter things was chastened and beautified by the growing seriousness that gave both charm and dignity to the gathering.

Compliments were paid to the surviving professors and fellow graduates who had passed away. The resolution was unanimously adopted that such as survive meet in five years to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of graduation. Then we all fell on our knees and Dr. McLaren, with patriarchal grace gave thanks for the blessings of the past and commended all to the God of all grace for guidance for the days to come.

For a little time we lingered, loath to part, but "time and tide no man bide" and so the reluctant farewells were said and each took his several way, yet with the feeling of gladness at the privilege of once more meeting the boys and the old professors. W. F.

South Egremont.

On Thursday afternoon the 3rd inst, as Mr. John McDonald's two sons were coming home with two heavy loads of cement and on approaching the bridge on the 15th con. and Arthur town line they found it necessary to put both teams to one load, and when they got nicely on the bridge, the whole thing gave, letting both teams and the load of cement into the river. One mare, which Mr. McDonald refused $200 for, was drowned, the others escaping with slight bruises. One of the young men was injured slightly. The wagon, a new one borrowed from a neighbor, was totally wrecked. The wonder is that any of them escaped. One of the young men was in the water for nearly an hour before help arrived, holding one of the horse's heads up, but so far as we know, he is none the worse yet.

The bridge is known as the McNair bridge and was only built a few years ago. What was the cause of it going down we do not know, it should have borne the weight. The approach is very steep and had settled considerably and there was quite a lift, probably a foot just at the bridge, and likely when the wagon, heavily loaded, struck the edge of the bridge, the two heavy teams drawing caused it to give away.

YES, YES, YES, Y-E-S.—A young woman in Millerton, N. Y., recently received an offer of marriage, with a request to reply by telegraph. Going to the telegraph office she asked the operator how many words she could send for 25 cents and he told her ten. Then she wrote, "Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes." The name of the young woman was withheld by the telegraph company, as was the name of the lucky man.
