Prevent Consumption.

The following points and suggestions regarding the prevention of Consumption which deserve the attention of eyerybody, are gathered from a recent article by Dr Knopf of New York which is to be found in the Medical Record of November 18th, 1905.

There are more cases of advanced tuberculosis to be treated than any other disease.

There is no disease where so much can be done to render the patient comfortable and hopefu! as pulmonary tuberculosis in the advanced stage.

There is no disease where one case in a family can more readily become the cause of infection of other members. particularly in the stage where the consumptive begins to be confined to the close association of the family members

It is extremely important to remember that advanced consumptive patients less, constitute the greatest danger to Grey, is the only member who so far radius of 1 1/2 miles of the Corners. the health of the community. Probably the best that fortunate or unusually mean. can be done in the meantime is to suggest that tuberclous men should have two pockets lined with some material which can be easily cleaned and that they should carry in one of these pockets very cheap handkerchiefs or bits of cheesecloth or other cheap material cut like handkerchiefs, which, when used can be put into the other pocket and there kept until the close of the day when they can easily be destroyed or sterilized by boiling after their return home. In this way they can escape observation and at the same time secure their fellow workmen and associates against danger. When so simple a precaution as this, and one so easily within the reach of every right thinking man, is available, not to make use of it, would seem to be little less than crim. inal neglect.
