Paterson's Wire Edge Roofing

I WISH THIS BARN WAS COVERED WITH PATERSON'S WIRE EDGE ROOFING.

is the very cheapest and best you can put on a barn, tool shed or chicken house.

TIN rusts, cracks, leaks—and is unsatisfactory. SHINGLES won't last more than six years. Then more expense.

PATERSON'S "WIRE EDGE" costs less than shingles and with very little attention will last a lifetime. It has had a successful record in Canada for twenty years.

Hardware dealers must everywhere have it. If yours does not, write for free sample and booklet.

In Memoriam.

George Ewen, son of John and Christina Ewen, died in Saskatchewan, 29th April, 1906, aged 23 yrs., 1 month, 13 days.

One precious to our hearts has gone. The voice we loved is stilled; The place, made vacant in our home, Can nevermore be filled. One by one, earth's ties are broken, But we know across the river, Wait the loved ones gone before. Brother, thy gentle voice is hushed. Thy true heart beats no more; But memory fond will linger oft On happy days of yore. Farewell brother, farewell brother, Lying in the distant west, Slumber sweetly God, he knoweth. When to call thee home to rest. Farewell George, farewell George, We have said our last farewell. We shall meet beyond the river. Happy there with thee to dwell. His sister Agnes.

Just About Right.

It is related that a congregation in a small Ontario town, having decided to build a new church, resolved to appeal to the merchants of the place for contributions to help finance the undertaking. One of the business men, who was approached, offered to subscribe $30, provided that the committee agreed to allow him two other subscriptions. The condition was accepted, and when the pastor read the list from the pulpit next Sabbath morning, it contained the following:

John Jones, Jeweller	$30.00
T. Eaton Company	00.00
R. Simpson Company	00.00

The story may not be true, probably is not true, but it carries a moral which is applicable in every town and village in Ontario. The allurements of the seductive bargain counter attract the coffers of the big departmental stores of dollars that should find their way across the counters of our own stores. Local business men assist in the support of the churches and schools of their own town, they bear much of the burden of local taxation and contribute in a hundred and one other ways to the financial support of the community. What do the Toronto departmental stores pay towards the taxes of the average Ontario town or village? What do they contribute toward its schools and churches, or what to the salaries and incomes of the members of its learned professions.—Orangeville Banner.

WANTED—CLEAN MEN.

If one were to go to the President of the United States and ask him to name the country's greatest need he would reply in his quick conclusive way, "clean men." He knows. Smart men there are by the thousands; rich men abound more than in any other age of the world; able men are found in every state and township, but even from a population of 80 millions the chief executive has difficulty in finding the man of exceptional character for a post which requires a square and flawless morality. It is to his credit that he misses no opportunity to preach clean manhood. But neither Presidents nor preachers nor teachers can do the work of fathers except in their own families. We do not mean to underestimate the marvellous influence of the mother. In most lands men who reach success give their mothers the credit. "All that I am I owe to my mother," said Lincoln. "It was you who taught me to write so. You really did, dear mother," said the crabbled Carlyle. We get our moral qualities from our mothers, our mental from our fathers, say the physiologists, and as we look back we find this maternal affection the loveliest thing on earth. But isn't there a conviction down deep in our souls that we should have done much better if our fathers had taken time and trouble to share our confidence in the years that counted most?—From the Delineator for June.
