THE LATE MRS BLACK.—We copy the following appreciative remarks from the Chesley Enterprise, as another reminder of the warm-hearted lady who has gone: "In last week's issue we noted the death of Mrs Jno. A. Black of Durham. Mrs Black was a schoolmate of ours and her sudden departure makes a break in a family of old pioneers at whose home we spent many a happy time in boyhood days. She was a cheerful kind-hearted girl, well-liked in the neighborhood where she spent her girlhood days and after she was married and went to her own home at Durham, it was a pleasure for any old acquaintance to meet her again for it seemed to be her supreme delight to make others happy. Only July 1st last year we enjoyed the hospitality of Mr and Mrs Black at their home in Durham. Then all was sunshine and happiness where to-day a bereaved husband and little daughters mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother. Mrs Black was an unselfish, brave-hearted woman, a true friend and not only in Durham where she made new friends by the hundreds, but around the old homestead and wherever she was known, there is sorrow over the sad event.

Dr. John A. Conkey, Miss Genevieve Campbell

A large number of our readers in Durham and Priceville and for miles around will remember the above gentleman whose engagement to Miss Genevieve Campbell we recently announced. They are to be married on June 5, and hearty good wishes from the groom's many friends here are assured. John, as we may be allowed to call him, was a steady and ambitious youth, and has forged his way in life with great success. We hope this latest move will be better than the best. Last Saturday's Indianapolis News had a double column cut of Miss Campbell, in society dress. She is an attractive lady and having secured her thus, more than ever we congratulate Dr Conkey on his prize. Below the portrait is her name and the announcement, with the names of the attendants at the wedding which comprise two matrons of honor, a maid of honor, two bridesmaids, best man, four groomsmen and two flower bearers. Long life and happiness to the young couple from the REVIEW.

The late Mrs Mary Loughead.

The death occurred on Tuesday, 15th, at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr Wm. Pearse, London, Ont., of Mrs Mary Loughead, relict of the late Jno. Loughead, who pre-deceased Mrs Loughead by only three and a half months. The deceased lady lived to the ripe old age of 81 years. Shortly before her death, she signified her desire to be visited by her pastor, Mr Davis, of the Church of England, committed herself into the hands of the Saviour and quietly and peacefully passed to her rest.

Mrs P. Pennock, of Glenelg, was very much startled upon receiving the telegram conveying to her the sad intelligence of her mother's death and left by first train for London to be in attendance at the funeral, which was strictly private. The deceased leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their sad loss, foremost among the number being one son and six daughters and a brother and two sisters, all of whom attended the funeral, to pay the last respects to their loved one, with the sole exception of one sister, who was unable to attend on account of her feeble health. The funeral services at the house and at the grave in Woodland Cemetery were conducted by Rev M. Davis on Wednesday, the 16th inst. The deceased and family were, until recent years, residents of Holstein, and the sympathy of all their old friends is with the family in their sore bereavement.
