Golden Wedding at Dornoch.

The cosy home of Mr and Mrs Dun-camp Campbell, on the second concession of Bentinck, was the scene of a very brilliant and unique festival on Saturday of last week, the occasion being the consummation of their Golden Wedding. The day was an ideal one, old Sol illuminating the scene with glorious splendor and the bray breeze dispelling the sultry heat so conspicuous for the few preceding days. The entire premises, especially the beautiful lawn in front of the house, was tastefully decorated for the occasion, dozens of Union Jacks, British Lions and an odd Stars and Stripes unfolding their time-honored ensigns and fluttering in the gentle breeze.

About eleven o'clock the guests began to arrive and ere long a happy, social assemblage to the number of 100 or more were renewing old acquaintances, making many new ones and old friends who had not seen each other for years could be seen conversing and shaking hands with an earnestness which could not be mistaken.

About one o'clock all repaired to the lawn where the dainty tables presented a very beautiful and tempting appearance. To say the spread was sumptuous would be doing it injustice—'twas a repast that for variety and magnificence of delicacies would do justice to the cuisine of a king's kitchen.

After all had done justice to the many tempting estates, the most pleasant feature of the occasion, in the form of a programme, was commenced. Rev. N. A. McDonald occupied the chair and by a few pointed remarks, accompanied by his affable manner, soon had each spirit attuned to harmony and all listened with rapt attention to the many appropriate speeches in which the honored couple heartily congratulated on the consummation of such a joyous event in their careers.

The listener's thoughts were often carried back to the pioneer days, when Mr and Mrs Campbell were joined in holy wedlock. Then adverse conditions prevailed, and the many conveniences of modern times and the inventions which the ingenuity of man has devised in these later years were unknown, but it was the triumphing over the adversities and their simple, frugal life, which developed the physical, social and mental qualities of the pioneer and moulded their life in the proper channel.

They had brought up a large family and had seen each member of that family grow to manhood and womanhood and go out into the world and make striking successes in social and financial issues of life. They had been called grandma and grandpa by a number of grandchildren, and the most unique feature of all, had nursed two great-grandchildren, a privilege which falls to the lot of few human beings.

The program was variegated by solos, choruses and selections on the gramophone, which were much appreciated by all. At the end of the program, Mr John Campbell, the eldest son, made a concise appropriate address and on behalf of the family presented the parents with a purse containing one hundred dollars in gold, thus showing the gratuitous spirit of the donors. In addition to this, many other valuable presents, attested to the respect in which the venerable couple are held by their many friends.

Mrs Campbell's maiden name was Catherine MacIntosh, eldest daughter of Mr John MacIntosh, who came to this part of the country in 1845, being the first settler to face the woods of the primitive forests.

The children present at the celebration were: Mrs James Sharpe, Limehouse, Ont., Mrs Robt Nicholl, Rockwood, Ont., Mrs John Pollock, Toronto, Mrs Thos Jones, Idaho, U. S., Miss Colena Campbell, Toronto, Mr John Campbell, Superintendent at the Duluth Transportation Company, a large financial institution, Mr Peter Campbell, Duluth, Mr Wm Campbell, Cloquet, each occupying important positions in the Minnesota Lumber industry, Mr Thos Campbell at home, all the family being present with the exception of James, of Idaho, who found it impossible to be present. Twenty-four out of the twenty-six grandchildren were present and Mrs Jas Sharpe's daughter, Mrs Arthur Ivans, of Toronto, attended, with her two children, thus making the four generations. In addition to the relatives in the immediate vicinity the following were present from a distance: Mr Jno Campbell, Chesley and Mr Alex Campbell, Duluth, brothers of the groom, Mrs Wm McDonald, Toronto, sister of the bride, Miss Susie MacIntosh, Toronto, Mr John Pollock, Toronto, Mr Robt Nicholl, Rockwood, and Mrs Dan Campbell and son, of Staynor. One of the most conspicuous personages present, was Mrs John Holliday, who is now only seven years short of the century mark and who was present at the wedding fifty years ago, as was also Mr John Corlett, now considerably over the four score years.

In the early evening most of the older people repaired to their respective places of abode and all were unanimous in declaring the day was one to be remembered on account of the true, social spirit, which pervaded every feature of the occasion. The young people spent the fore part of the night in various games and amusements, thus terminating a day which memory will, in later years, recall, as one of the most enjoyable of their careers.

We wish Mr and Mrs Campbell many years of health, happiness and prosperity and that ten years from now their cup of joy may be filled to overflowing by celebrating their Diamond wedding.

Durham Won Easily

Captured the First League Match at Home from Arthur. A score of 11 to 4 in favor of Durham at the first match in No. 3 Division of the Intermediate series following a 10 to 4 Exhibition game with Mt Forest, seems to point to victory at the close of the season. It is certain that unless both the visiting teams get down to better combination than already shown they have no chance of winning.

The Durhams are in much better condition than at this time last year, play a fast combination game, and with the addition of Wendorf and Briggs of Hanover, present a strong, evenly-balanced line up. They must beware of over confidence, however, and room for improvement may yet be found in shooting on the nets. True we have one man Briggs, with eyes in front and behind, who secured two of the goals by his mysterious overhead throws, but this method is not always reliable.

Both sides, Arthur in particular, were inclined to rough it, but referee Rogers, Mt Forest, handled what he saw, impartially, and penalized not a few. Durham as stick handlers in a scrimmage is easily first.

The first quarter ended 3-2 in favor of Durham, enough to encourage but not to be cock-sure of. The visitors made great efforts to reach the nets in the second, but Lavelle was all over the opening, when they got it his way, which was not often. At half time it was 5-2, and at three quarter time 7-2. In the last quarter the visitors got two more, Durham doubling them ending 11 to 4. The gate was not as satisfactory as it should have been, seeing there are only two home games. Next League game is Durham at Mt Forest, 28th June, but the exhibition with Guelph here next Thursday, will be a game struggle, and will probably force the Durhams to extend themselves to the limit.
