TOWN TOPICS

SEND US YOUR NAME.—The REVIEW to January 1, 1907, only 50 cents.

The Cement engine ran off one of the rails at the Lake last Saturday, but the report spread around town that it was clean into the lake. It was righted in the morning.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.—On Monday next the office will be open only from 6 to 7 p. m. not in the afternoon as usual. This will allow an unbroken afternoon for everybody at the Demonstration.

NO ROOM.—None of the school rooms being large enough to accommodate the pupils writing on the higher examinations, the trustees are indebted to the Pres. Church for the use of their basement for this purpose. About thirty are writing and all must be five feet apart.

Mr. Jas. Ireland is moving this week into the McIntyre Block, into the store next to the bank, which has been fitted up specially for him. We have no doubt at this fine site he will be able to do an increased business, and his customers will easily find him.

CANDIDATES SWARMING.—This week 83 candidates are writing on the Entrance examination; only once was there a larger number. They are a bright, earnest looking lot of young people and we hope they will enjoy their three days here and be successful.

Rev. Dr. Somerville who has been pastor of Division street Presbyterian church, Owen Sound, for 30 years, has been appointed clerk and statistician of the Presbyterian church of Canada. Last Sunday his pulpit was declared vacant. Rev. Dr. Somerville will reside in Toronto.

NIAGARA FALLS EXCURSION.—The Annual Excursion of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church will be held on Friday, July 6th. For return tickets from Durham, the fare will be $2.35 for adults, $1.20 for children. Tickets hold good for return trip until last train Monday evening, July 9th. This affords a fine opportunity to see one of the world's greatest wonders and the largest development of electrical power in the universe.

The Masonic fraternity on Tuesday evening had a social and fraternal time in their hall, the occasion being the installation of their new officers. These are as follows: W. E. Brooker, W. M., Dr. Arthur Gun, I. P. M., Jas. Ireland, S. W., W. W. Garrow, J. W., N. W. Campbell, Chaplain, Jas. Ireland, Treasurer, Jas. R. Gun, Secretary, Duncan McLean, S. D., Jno. A. Graham, J. D., Geo. Meikle, S. S., Jas. Burt, J. S., Bro. J. P. Telford, D. of C., Neil McCannel, I. G., E. Dean, Tyler, N. W. Campbell and C. L. Grant, Auditors.

JUNIOR LACROSSE.—Quite a number of our nearby towns are perhaps not aware that Durham has a Junior Lacrosse team and a fast one at that—of this year's growth. Hanover's only team was brought over here Tuesday evening and played the Durhams 11 to a tie—4 all. Charlie Briggs of the Durham seniors lined up the men and all playing clean lacrosse, no penalties were imposed upon them. For the first game for almost all the Durhams, they made a very creditable showing, and many will yet be heard from in faster company. Henning, Hanover's goal keeper, saved the day for his team, by his remarkable stops. The Durhams lined up, as follows from goal outward: Knisley, Hunter, Duncan, A. McFadden, McComb, Kearney, Burnett, D. McFadden, Vollett, Smith, Saunders, Glass, captain—H. McDonald. The return game will take place in Hanover next month.

A STABLE BURNED.—The fire bell's warning notes rang throughout town Monday afternoon and it was soon ascertained that the cause was Jack Kinnee's stable being afire, from which the flames could be seen shooting upwards. The roofs of nearby houses caught several times but vigilant watching prevented a foothold being secured. The engine arrived in good time, considering that it had to be brought around by Lambton Street bridge and soon reduced the stable to smoking ruins. Children with matches in the play is the supposed cause. It should be seen to at once that Garafra bridge is strongly repaired, or the new one built, if only for the engine to cross, for the time lost in the round-about trip may be just enough to allow some more serious conflagration in the future to pass out of control, which might possibly be prevented

The Annual Excursion to the Guelph Ag. College retains its popularity, and if perhaps fewer than usual this year "excited," the cause must be found in the multiplicity of attractions past and to come. The Farm authorities, as usual, were overflowing with kindness and crackers, and no one need go hungry. The lessons to be learned from the many-sided institution were as valuable as ever and no doubt many excellent ideas were carried away.

The Sabbath Question.

On Sunday last Rev. Dr. Gamble preached in the Presbyterian church in the morning, in the Methodist church in the evening and addressed a meeting in the Baptist church at 8.15 p. m. besides visiting two of the Sunday Schools in the afternoon. As a result of a number of years research Dr. Gamble has reached the conclusion that according to the way in which the Jews reckoned the time for their Sabbaths, that day was never fixed on Saturday. The beginning of their year was to be on the 15th of the Egyptian month Abib. This was for all time a fixed date, and year by year the lamb was to be killed on the 14th which could never be a Sabbath and as invariably the Sabbath began with the 15th. But how did they manage to keep this Sabbath invariably on this same date seeing that there are 365 days in a year? The device was very simple. They were to count 7 Sabbaths from the Passover Sabbath which brings them to a Sabbath 49 days later. Then on the morrow after this day there was to be a holy convocation on which no servile work was to be done and from this second day of the Sabbath, the weeks from this point counted in regular course for a year, at which point again there was inserted a 48 hour Sabbath rest, which kept the Sabbath always at the same date, but which really moved it year by year a day later in the week.

By this way of counting you were to transfer their calendar to our one of fixed seven days periods. We would have to represent it by showing the Sabbath day as changing each year one day later in the week. After the destruction of the temple the Jews lost their way of reckoning and when two centuries later they reconstructed their calendar they built it on the model of the Christian calendar making the Saturday that happened to be the Sabbath in the year of the crucifixion the Sabbath in perpetuity. Dr. Gamble thus meets the Jews and seventh day Adventists on their own ground and denies that according to their own principles they have any warrant for setting up Saturday as the Sabbath Day.

Dr. Gamble has given the subject a good deal of thought and has presented facts that will give food for reflection.

At Meaford

As a delegate from the Trustee Board, we attended the meeting of the County Council in Meaford last week, to press a claim for more liberal recognition for the Educational work done in Durham. At present Durham is recognised by the county for $300 while Meaford, being a High School, though doing practically the same work, gets over four times as much. The council of course has the law at its back, they must give an equivalent to the Government grant, $300, but may give more, something other counties have done. The matter was debated in committee, meeting much opposition and barely carried, to give 50 per cent of the grant additional, which will be $150. This the council adopted. Same day Mt. Forest High School with about 30 Co. Grey pupils in attendance, was voted over $500 of County Grey money as maintenance, while Durham, with nearly 90 pupils, ALL from Grey Co., gets as maintenance,—how much? not one cent. Chesl. Collingwood and other High Schools get maintenance also. The new Act we are informed will remedy this most unjust state of affairs, but it seems to us incomprehensible that so many of the County Council will not venture on doing more substantial justice to Durham educational work. The only remedy seems to be to create a High School in name, which we already have in reality. That the work is genuine is shown by the Examination results, which have frequently been in advance of many High Schools and always flattering. Possibly the Council of next year, under the new system, when Durham has its own champion, may see things differently.

Oddfellows Celebrate.

Premier Whitney visits Durham.

Thursday morning broke delightfully clear and pleasant following the rain of the day before. It was an ideal day for a summer outing and while, perhaps, not as many as expected took advantage of it, there was a goodly crowd in town. The special train from Guelph came in about 12.30 p. m. bringing the Hespeler Lacrosse Club, a number of visitors, Premier Whitney and Grand Master Blewett of the Odd Fellows. A large number of citizens were present at the station and the distinguished visitors were welcomed by the crowd, the Town Council, the bands, and by Dr. and Mrs. Jamieson, whose guests they were while in town.

The Premier and Mr. Blewett took their places in the fine barouche, beside their hosts, the Town Council following in a special conveyance. All were preceded by Piper Peter McArthur and the bands of Listowel, Hanover and Durham. The visitors were taken to Dr. Jamieson's for refreshments and later, returned in the same way to the Agricultural Grounds, where the speaking was to be done and the Lacrosse game played.

On a platform decked with evergreens the speakers took their places. Near them were Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. D. Jackson, Mayor Hunter, Councillor Cochrane, Conn. Furneaux, Conn. Whelan, Mr. Wm. Irwin, Mr. Wm. Laidlaw. Dr. Jamieson was chairman and gave the first welcoming words, thanked the Oddfellows for their effort in bringing his distinguished leader to town, a leader whom he had ever been proud to follow, and who already had shown that he was a capable administrator, as well as worthy of the first citizenship of the province. He apologized for the absence of Messrs. Miller, Ganev, Downey and others, absent from unavoidable causes, and introduced Grand Master Blewett, who was met by little Miss Marguerite Hutton, and presented with a bouquet.

He was further confronted by Mr. Wm. Irwin, who read an address on behalf of local brethren, expressing their gratitude to him for his visit, and their loyalty to the order and its principles. Mr. Blewett is a free and easy speaker, with a tendency to humor and alliteration and after some pleasant remarks at Mr. Whitney's expense he entered on a discourse brimful of facts showing the wide reaching character of the fraternal blessings of Oddfellowship. It had given $1700 to San Francisco, over $12000 a day were paid out for relief, "By the bed of suffering, by the open grave, by distress in any shape it was found, its visits were paid to the prison as well as to the palace and the lustre of its love would shine through the years for its tenets and teachings were of use to everybody."

The chairman in introducing the Premier again made graceful allusion to his personality and office, and introduced him to Mayor Hunter, who read an appropriate civic address to which Mr. Whitney graciously replied.

The Honorable James Piny Whitney, Premier of Ontario
Sir:—On behalf of the residents of the Town of Durham and vicinity, we beg to tender you a cordial welcome, on this occasion of your visit to our town.

Situated as it is, at the terminus of this branch of the Grand Trunk Railway System, the town of Durham is somewhat difficult of access to those whose business does not lead in this particular direction; and for this reason the calls that we have heretofore received from those in authority have been like Angel's visits—"few and far between."

We therefore feel ourselves the more honored, that the Premier of our fair Province has seen fit to come so far out of his way, to favor the Town of Durham with his presence on this our Civic Holiday.

We sincerely trust that your visit may prove thoroughly enjoyable to yourself and Mrs. Whitney, and that you may carry away with you, pleasant recollections of the hours spent in our midst.

Although some of us may agree to differ in our particular forms of political creed, yet I can confidently assure you, Sir, that we all agree in thanking you most heartily for consenting to honor us with your presence here to-day. ARCHIBALD S. HUNTER, Mayor Durham

Durham, June 21st, 1906.

He thanked the Mayor and Council for the honor done him, regretted that Mrs. Whitney had been prevented from accompanying him, had been delighted with our good town and amazed at the extent of its industries. He proposed to ignore what was usually known as politics, but would discuss the higher politics that was the property of every class. Not that he had anything to say against parties, for we could not enjoy freedom without the party system. There never was a time when there was no party except perhaps when the rope and the headman's axe held sway. As Christianity progressed the masses began to move and to think and to decide what direction their happiness should take. This evolutionary process went on till the British people, first on the earth, began directly to govern themselves.

As people began to think, they began to talk, to consider, then to differ; the decision of several men was more valuable than one and as pebbles wear smooth in the bed of a stream, ideas get improved by discussion and argument, and we have the party system. Let no man say party government is an evil; but rather on a day like this congratulate ourselves that under an over-ruling Providence we are what we are.

We have a fine climate, are part of a great empire, one of its buttresses and a bulwark for the future. Hoped we would all prove worthy of our heritage, and Conservatives and Reformers alike, find it their duty to see that public and private morality should travel side by side, should so conduct ourselves that when our children take our places they may be proud to point to the past.

Mr. Whitney was loudly applauded as he sat down. We should have started earlier that as he came forward he too was presented with a bouquet by little Madeleine Darling, and the gift was gallantly acknowledged by a kiss.

This ended the platform program and as a storm was threatening many did not wait for the lacrosse game.

The music of the pipes and of the bands was good, but altogether too few opportunities of hearing them.

Over the Hurdles.

The Sons of Scotland committee have received instructions from Toronto to have hurdles made for the Dragoons on Dominion Day. This is being attended to. It will be seen that the Dragoons are no dumb show. The evolution and movements and melees that charmed the people of Windsor on the 12th, drawing thousands from Detroit, and that formed the best exhibition ever given in Chesley, will be repeated in Durham next Monday. And don't forget that this is only one of many fine attractions for the afternoon and all for 25 cts. Look up the other attractions and please buy your tickets over town and save delay at the gate ticket offices.

Dominion Day Sports.

This Annual holiday, the observance of which for the past two years has been so successful promises to be more so than ever this year. The Sons of Scotland have a reputation of doing everything they promise which stands them in good stead.

The public cannot fail to notice that the attractions offered are far and away ahead of anything offered in provincial towns. The effort is not to make money but to fittingly observe our National Day and to keep alive the best traditions of healthy Scottish Sports, Music, &c.

The most notable event this year is the visit of a detachment of the Royal Canadian Dragoons and farmers and horsemen should especially note this feature as giving the stamp of horse required for Military purposes. At the same time their rides and evolutions form a spectacle which will gratify every one who has the good fortune to have a seat or a position in our natural grand stand.

The pipers and drummers, the dancers and athletes, the races, the Pallo's, with their wonderful trick mill are all arranged for the afternoon, and with Jarvis, Miss Kirby Ferguson, J. H. Cameron, Mrs. Newton, the Pallo's, Piping and Dancing, &c., the evening concert in the rink, would seem to make a day of wonderful recreation and all for the same low prices as last year. Already loads are being organized from distant points. Durham will be a bad place to stay away from on July 2.

TENDERS FOR SIDEWALK.

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to Monday, July 9, 1906, for the building of a Granolithic sidewalk on Sadler and Queen Streets. Specifications at the office of the Town Clerk.
