Misses Blyth and McIlvride two winsome ladies of Egremont, Sunday-ed in the village, being the guests of Mrs Harry Hunt.

Miss Susie MacIntosh arrived this week from the Queen City for an extended visit at her home in the burg.

We had a pleasant chat with Mr Geo Corlett, who is renewing acquaintances in the burg and community, after an absence of five years in Hutchinsons, Kansas. Geo is a cultured gentleman and the vim and energy which characterizes his conversation make him a pleasant visitor at all times.

Rev N. A. McDonald, the popular Presbyterian pastor is enjoying his annual vacation. We wish he and his estimable life partner a pleasant recreation and trust they shall return with renewed energy and enthusiasm to carry on the work allotted to their charge.

A number of sturdy yeomen from the immediate vicinity intend leaving for the progressive West on one of the coming Excursions. Their anticipations are undoubtedly great, but may their realizations greatly exceed their anticipations?

Mrs D F Sager, an old Dornoch girl, now happily wedded in Chicago is enjoying the invigorating atmosphere on the old homestead in Ben-tinek.

Mr Matheson, a student of Knox College, Toronto, delivered an impressive discourse in the Presbyterian Church on Sabbath last. His depth of thought and solemnity of manner impels an audience to think the first step in mental or spiritual advancement.

The Township Fathers met in the council chambers of the village Hall, on Monday last and transacted a large amount of business essential to the financial well-being of the municipality.

After spending a pleasant month, enjoying the hospitality of Queen City friends, Mrs Wm Campbell, of Cloquet, Minn., is visiting her sister, Mrs Robt Corlett, of Glenelg.

The Bell Telephone Company are extending their line from Williamsford to Dornoch, the loveliest village of the plain. This will supply a long-felt want and put the hamlet in more immediate connection with outside points.

The weather for the past week has been exceedingly warm, the mercury doing its prettiest to reach 100. This is the time when a few inhalations of fresh, unpolluted country oxygen possesses more life-sustaining, health building qualities than ten times the amount of noxious, sewer-contaminated air inhaled by the citizen of the large centres of population.

Dromore.

Mrs John Hyland's and little boy, together with her niece Miss Jean Brown, all of Toronto, are visiting at present at Messrs Garson, Sr. and J.

The return football match was played on Friday evening last at Dromore between the team here, and one from No. 12 S.S. variously known as Lakeview, cement or marble, though they had a score of 2 to 0 registered against them, their name is not mud, nor Dennis by any means.

Towards the close of the game they made some rather uncomfortable brushes towards the Dromore goal. The two goals were taken by the home team in 8 and 1 minute respectively, before the others were rightly on their guard. Good feeling prevailed throughout, the game the referee Mr. David McKelvey keeping the players under control. Quite a large turnout of the neighborhood witnessed the game and felt thankful no doubt that they were not doing the kicking in the prevailing temperature. A sumptuous lunch was afterwards served to the excess many of the spectators sharing in the unbounded hospitality of the citizens.

Mr Colin McMillan returned from his pleasure trip to Calgary, Edmonton and other points in the west last week and experienced great pleasures and benefit thereby. Fortunately his five hours was only required once during his absence. We welcome him back again among us, while away he met with Mr. John A. Wilson and Mr. Walter Lothian late of our town and report them as doing well.

The Rev. John J. Hastie of Belgrave spent his holidays around the old homestead at his brother's Revue Hastie and other friends around town and preached acceptably at Amos Church on Sunday last. In addition to the above Mr and Mrs Jos. Snell, Mr. Chas. and Mrs Alice Ramage, Durham, Mr. and Mrs David Leith Normanby, Mr. Hyland, Toronto, contributed on a small scale a sort of boys' reunion.

Miss Elliot of Guelph district is visiting with her consins here, the Messrs Renton.

Mr. and Mrs Jas. Isaac after a residence of a little over forty years here left last week and took up their abode in Mt. Forest, to enjoy a well earned rest and we hope a pleasant ending to a life well spent in the bosom of their family.

Mr. Smith contractor, assisted by Mr. Adair from Caldwell, have been engaged with their fine drilling machine, in search of Aquapura, for the last week or more on the farms of Mr. Matt Hooper and Mr. Peter Reid, and in both instances finally encountered rock, though at varying distances. The article secured is said to be of a I quality. We are glad to know that Egremont is on solid footing in more ways than one and judging from the coolness of the water a good way from the supposed boiling cauldron below. They are going next to Mr. Jones Harrison's to operate.

Miss Eliza Wilson visited some of her many friends at Vickers last week.

Mrs and Miss Wilson of Dromore visited at Mr. T. H. Lawrence's over the week end.

Mr. David Adlam has greatly improved the appearance of his farm, recently purchased here, by the erection of a fine brick house.

We were sorry to learn of the illness of our worthy teacher Miss McLeod who had to undergo an operation in the Fergus hospital. We hope she may soon again be in her usual health.

The Sunday evening prayer meetings which are held in the homes here are well attended. The last meeting was held at Mr. Ed Hopkins.

Orange Hill.

Haying is now a thing of the past, most people having better crop than they expected some time ago.

Hugh McLean, while returning from delivering a load of hogs in Dundalk, happened with an accident which might have been serious although no damage was done. While he was in the act of opening the gate his horse, a spirited team of colts, took fright and dashed into the ball open gate breaking it into splinters and rushed down the lane to the barn and up the gangway, not satisfied with their position, then attempted to turn, causing the wagon to upset horses and wagon going over the side, falling a distance of 10 feet or more, but luckily no injury was done while help soon gathered and had them unhitched.

Miss Mary McFadgen went to the Queen City to see her sister Sadie, who has been in the hospital some time. We hope to hear of her speedy recovery.
