TOWNSHIP TOPICS

DELAYED MAIL.—Owing to the railway wreck near Guelph, no mail reached here till arrival of late train on Saturday last.

Mt. Forest Agricultural Society's first Fall Show last week was a great success, in weather exhibits and financial receipts. The horse classes were especially well represented.

HEATHER IN BLOOM.—Mr Geo Turnbull received last week in fine preservation a beautiful wreath of heather from friends in Scotland. The average Scot will feel his heart warm towards it.

A BIG YIELD.—Mr Jno D. McFayden purchased 10 lbs of "Two foot Long" oats from his uncle Mr C. C. McFayden and this year has threshed 8 bushels from the 10 lb sowing. Can anyone beat that?

The Standard Bank of Canada have engaged premises in Priceville and will open an office there as a sub-branch.

Miss Dick's Fall millinery Openings takes place on 29th and 27th of September. Remember the date and place.

The "Mail and Empire," weekly edition, offers as a premium to 1907 subscribers a beautiful artograph, entitled "Grace" with a charm of drapery and color tones most captivating. Trial trip to Jan. 1 1907 only 15 cents; to Jan 1 1908, 15 mos., only $1.70, with the Review. Send today.

Ben Nevis Camp meets in regular meeting on Friday 28th September. Full attendance requested.

NOTICE.—The Trustees of the Durham Natural Gas and Oil Company, have disposed of the assets of the Company, and will pay three cents on the dollar. Shareholders calling on Arthur H. Jackson, Durham, will receive amount due them, and can see full statement of accounts.

KEEPS THE KEY.—Mr Ed Kress is in charge of the implement store rooms of agent A. B. McLellan in the absence of Mac himself who is always on hand on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at least. The plough season is on and he is ready for a big season in that line. A few more daisy churns on hand will be sold under cost.

ALBERTA FALL WHEAT.—We have in our office a handful of fall wheat in the straw measuring about 4 ft 6 inches. It was grown by Messrs H. and John McInnes and J. Shannon, formerly of Glenelg, and was brought home folded up in a trunk by Mrs Duncan McDonald. It is a creditable specimen of the bearded variety and was examined by a number in the Show room at Durham last week.

A BROKEN ARM.—While assisting to load one of the large crates in which the plate glass for J. R. Gun's window had been, Mr Geo. Kress had the misfortune to break his arm. He was standing on and near the hind end of the dray as the watering wagon went past, the splash of the water round the horses' legs made them start up and he fell to the ground breaking the bone or bones of his wrist. It has been very painful but we hope he may make a good recovery.

FASHIONS IN HAIR.—Ladies who wish to perfect their appearance and learn all about hair should call on Prof. Forenwend, of Toronto, who will be at Middaugh House on Wednesday, Oct. 10, with a big stock of his fancies, Hair Goods, Styles, Wigs, Switches, Pompadours, Transformations, wavy fronts, etc., all the latest from Paris, Boston, London and other places. A visit is sure to prove profitable.

Daring Burglary.

Robbers get $1000.00 worth of Webster's Jewelry.

In the early hours of Saturday morning last, robbers entered the jewelry store of Perev G. Webster in town and left with a booty in diamonds and watches worth $1000.

Entry was made by the back door in which are two glass panels 9 inches wide and about two feet long. One of these was cut away and through the opening the burglar crawled. Mr Webster was stocked in diamonds heavier than usual and feeling that even the safe was none too sure, had that night put them in an out of the way unlikely place, banking on the belief that burglars would give their attention to the safe in a jewelry store. This proved futile however as they were found and the safe untouched. Along with the diamonds a number of repair watches were taken, at least one of them unreplaceable, a memento of the late Mrs Darling.

The wires were set to work immediately but at time of writing, Tuesday, no discovery has been made. Mr McDermott, florist, of Mt Forest met near there a man whom he would know, who had a second hand watch he wanted 50 cts for and got it. This had been offered to another man previously. Constables Clark and Whelan left for Mt Forest with McDermott, and found traces of a man, but not of a kind to capture him. A government detective is on the case and it is fervently hoped the thief may be caught.

Mr Webster understand can not be sure the watch is one of his custom ones, but it is worth seven or eight dollars. Great sympathy is felt for our young townsman in this severe blow as he is working up a nice business.

Special Notice. In connection with the robbery from my store I wish to announce that all watches left with me for repair will be made good.

Numerous Train Wrecks.

Saturday morning last in a mist two trains met four miles south of Guelph and quick as it can be written, one life was blotted out.—Thos. Farley, of Palmerston, an engineer of 35 years experience, a resident of Palmerston and known to several in Durham. The collision was between a fruit special from St. Catharines and mixed train going south on which was Farley. The first train was in charge of a new crew and made poor time. The blunder occurred in their not stopping at Hespeler, knowing they were slow, and that the mixed was supposed to have a clear track. The engineer tried to set the break and died at his post. Three others of the train crew were injured but no passengers. A fireman has since died.

At Sandridge two trains collided and a fireman was killed and engineer and brakeman badly injured. At Sydney, N. S., the fast express was derailed, the engineer "terribly scalded, the fireman terribly injured."

Near Nanapanoe on Friday last a collision occurred between an east-bound express and a west-bound freight resulting in the death of Engineer Frank Blaine, who seems to have had the hero spirit and stuck to his post, sacrificing his own life, but no doubt saving others.

Two men killed at St. Paul, Minn. two at Puleski, Wis., and dozens injured, another wreck in Britain with loss of life, one is apt to ask where next. An old astrologer would say we are under some malign influence of the stars, the modern traveller will say we are up against gross carelessness in the handling of trains.

South Grey Fall Show

A Success even with Rain.

Literally and figuratively the great annual outing was dampened by rain, the first time in many years. About noon gathering clouds looked ominous but during the long dry spell such signs had faded, and the crowds in the main followed the band and the pipers and passed the gates, at which well up to $700 was collected. However that it did keep away many is certain and it is estimated that with a good day $100 more would have been taken in.

The net returns however are good, the saving of the $100 race on account of the weather was a compensation, and the Society will face the future with unabated confidence, especially as their first Concert was also a great success.

About 60 cattle were on the ground, some of them scrubby looking, but some fine animals. John Fairbairn's 11-mos. old calf was a sight. A Mayor Hunter's cows were simply ugly with fat, but that's what was wanted in one class.

The horse classes were only fairly well represented, but among the "spans" of the various classes there were some noble-looking animals. The rain hurried the judging but little or no grumbling was heard. The racing was far from the mark of other years and the track got useless.

The sheep classes show the old familiar names of winners. The lack of shelter was keenly felt and judging was done in some discomfort. Judges speak highly of the quality of the sheep.

The feature of the show was the Hall, spic-span, attractive and comfortable. Certainly the Directors deserved the many compliments they got for the fine improvements. The ladies' work it was agreed made a record. The edibles looked perfection—we will vouch for two of the pies.

Mrs R. Morice captures again 1st prize for bread among 15 entries—no light honor, Jim Scarf taking first for the brown variety as he did last year also. Geo Binnie and R. Edge were first for tub and crock butter respectively, and we suggest to the Directors to put this down stairs, where it will be cooler.

The Fine Arts showed some ambitious work. Mrs A. McClinton (nee May Leeson) took 7 first prizes for her handiwork and her water color Mrs Arthur McClocklin was also well forward.

Downstairs were the same huge vegetables: two fine "collections," T. Gadd runs off with the big squash again. Geo Binnie's tomatoes were monsters, and he gives the credit of their excellence to a young English gardener he had. The flowers and the fruit were excellent in most cases, the latter in quantity we have seen exceeded. Wm Smith had a very fine exhibit of grain in the straw and D. Hamilton's potatoes as usual were good.

On the wall and attracting some attention was a bunch of Alberta Fall wheat in the straw, nearly 5 feet long and grown by H. and John McInnes, formerly of Glenelg. This was brought home by Mrs Duncan McDonald, and left at the Review office, so we had the pleasure of showing the capabilities of the new province. It is a bearded variety, long heads and a healthy sample.

McQueen and Morice had the crowds enthralled round a beautiful Bell organ, for which they are agents. Mrs R. Watt on the violin and Mrs Watt on the organ made an orchestra that kept an admiring crowd around it. They felt rewarded for their exertions for they made three sales that day.

The Farmers' Supply Co. also had some of their famous Oxford Separators on view and they would stand

Town Council.

The Town Council held a special meeting on Monday evening to consider what action was to be taken in regard to the service on the Mayor by David Kinross of a legal process for failure to enforce the smoke nuisance by-law. As a former meeting the Mayor and Mr Whelan were appointed to see Pres McWilliams and Manager McGrane to ascertain what guarantee they can give for early relief. The cement company are no doubt anxious to accommodate but the problem is an intricate one, and the majority of the council are loath to press for the change till the close of the season. That the change must be made before another season all are agreed.

Later, we learn the committee have met with Mr McGrane and an agreement come to.

Council decided to offer a reward of $100 for the capture of the burglar who raided Webster's store.
