SOUTH GREY FALL SHOW.

The critical examination they were getting.

The rain of course sent hundreds for shelter, and the crush was great but taken in good humor. The musical features of the day were very good: Hanover's fine band and the McGregors, of Hamilton, father and son, pipers, and old favorites here. These latter played at the Concert also, the younger giving the sword dance.

The Concert.

Was most liberally patronized, and more than ever the lack of a suitable hall was demonstrated. Perhaps one hundred were turned away—could not be packed in, even standing room. The performers were all good, secured through the Harry Rich bureau. Mabel Manley has a clear voice in wonderful control, Eddie Pigott as a comedian was clean and clever and convulsed the house, especially in his policeman piece, young Rich made a fine accompanist but the the honors of the evening went to Miss Eva Cuthbert, a young lady of 14 or so who will yet be heard from. She dons Japanese, Italian and western costume and in this latter role was most captivating being recalled twice. In dancing too she illustrates the poetry of motion in perfect time. Pres. Binnie was chairman.

The prize list follows. One has some idea of the long tedious work of Secretary Davidson and his daughter, as we secure the names of the winners, not half the number of entries they have to handle. We beg to thank them and the Directors for all courtesies.
