Denies That He and His Associates Were Locters or Prospective Robbers-Says Their Profits Were Not Isordinate, and That Everything Was Above Board.

Toronto despatch: The examination of Mr. Foster, before the Insurance Commission, was concluded and at his own request he was given an opportunity to make a brief statement, putting before the commission in a concise form his views of the position in which he stands to the various questions which have been the subject of investigation.

Mr. Matthew Wilson, K. C., was under examination upon the subject of his negotiations with Mr. Laidlaw, K. C., which resulted in the controlling interest in the Provincial Trust Company being acquired by the representatives of the I. O. F. The highest he paid for the stock was 65, and the balance remaining over after the purchase of the stock was completed was, Mr. Wilson said, refunded to Mr. Laidlaw. He will produce his checks this morning. Mr. Wilson's examination will be continued to-day, when he will also be questioned further regarding the transaction between his syndicate and Pope and Fowler by which the option held on 200,000 acres of C. P. R. lands was acquired and turned over to the Union Trust Company at advance of 50 cents per acre. At some length Mr. Foster was amined in reference to certain purchases are acre. Having acquired these lands they sold them, as they had a perfect right to do, to the Great West Land Company for $5 per acre, taking the small advance of fifty cents per zere, or about ten pre cent, advance not in money, but in stock, which could not be turned into money until all the lands had been paid for, together with all expenses in interest, taxes, etc., and resold at a profit over and above all these obligations-that is, they postponed the profit to make their stock valuable, could not be realized for six to eight years thereafter. If there were no such profit, they would receive noth-

If a difference of opinion exists as to one of the conditions of the arrange ment of November 28, 1905, that does not affect the original security in the least, and is a matter to be settled between the parties concerned.

He did not object to the ethical argu ment being pressed, provided that it be pressed equally on all the directors, for all were equally responsible. But he protested against a general dietum being applied to any particular case. Neither Messrs. Wilson, McGillivray nor himself were looters nor prospective robbers. Having built up a character in the pretty white fierce light of public life for the last fifty years, it would be for him if after his history so were to go to the Union Trust Company or to the Foresters with any desire to loot their treasury. During the five years of service, as honest and effective as he ever gave to anything, not one penny of their money had gone into his pocket wrongfully, and not a dollar of advantage had come to him from any prospective or actual use of their money. If the Foresters were taught to think their funds had been looted by the syndicate they might take his assertion that there was not a word of truth in it. With regard to the question of duality of representation on directorates. Mr. Foster contended that this was quite common and that in some eases it was absolutely better that it should exist.
