Fine weather during the past week, snow on Saturday out we hope not to stay.

Railroading is progressing good; there are quite a number of teams and men at work, east and west and in the centre of this place.

Our town is well supplied with the necessities of the season. Principal Carmichael and Miss Ross are engaged again in our schools here for 1907.

We notice that Top Cliff School is advertising for teacher as Miss Lang tendered her resignation. Miss Lang has all the qualities of being a good teacher, consequently any section engaging her will not be mistaken in securing her service.

Alex McEachern and his nephew, Arch McDonald are in Owen Sound at present visiting friends there.

Willie Conkey will soon have his house completed as he has been at it for some time past. Willie acts in all capacities himself as architect.

Our trustees had the steam drilling machine sinking a well at our school and we are not sure whether they were successful in getting water or not. There were two wells sunk on the school premises years ago and none of them could be used.

Angus McKechnie, down the gravel road, had a well sunk a couple of weeks ago by the Railroad contractors and a windmill placed thereon as the railroad cut him off his old watering place.

Two dogs suffered the severe penalty of the law on the South Line a week or so ago. Norman's, for being too active in endeavoring to stop the progress of swift drivers on the highway and Bob's, for making himself too familiar with the neighbor's pantries.

Collector McCormack is performing his duties in collecting taxes in ward one, Artemesia, while A B McLellan is on the opposite side in Glenelg at a similar job.

Norman and Thos McDougall and David McIntyre came home a few days ago from Port Arthur, where they were engaged during summer at a profitable business.

Hector McDonald, writing from Montana, says his uncle Neil McLean sold all his cattle and bought two thousand sheep. It appears there is more profit in sheep than anything else.

Born to Mr and Mrs Colin McLean, Priceville, a couple of weeks ago, a daughter. All doing well.

Mrs James McDonald, South Line Glenelg, is moving this week with her nephew Alex McDonald of this village.

Alex McLeod and son Frances, of Stuyner and Collingwood, attended the late Mrs McLeod's funeral.

Since we commenced writing, the weather has taken a change and on this Monday morning it looks like winter alright.

The last week or ten days has been notable here and elsewhere as to the number of deaths taking place in our little town and vicinity. We are at intervals reminded that here we have no continuing place of abode.

On Monday night, the 5th inst, Mr Donald McKinnon, of this village, died after a long and severe illness from cancer at the age of about 70 years. Mr McKinnon was a long resident of this place and was of a quiet and inoffensive nature, he bore his illness which was sure and certain to end his life with Christian patience and it was a blessing to the family as well as to himself that he was relieved from the tortures of the flesh, caused by this common and uncurable disease. His remains were buried in the graveyard in this village, Rev Mr Matheson officiating at home and grave. Mr McKinnon was Ex-Councillor Arrowsmith's of Glenelg, father-in-law.

Again on the morning of the 6th inst there passed away peacefully, Sarah Clark, beloved wife of Mr Wm McLeod, Sr., after a prolonged illness, borne with Christian reverence at the age of 68 years. Mrs McLeod has been a long resident of the South Line, Glenelg, and by her removal the neighborhood has lost one of its noblest women. In religion Mrs McLeod was Presbyterian and while able to attend to the duties of church ordinance her place was never vacant. Although deprived greatly of her hearing, she made it her duty to worship by her presence. Mr McLeod is now left like a good number of his fellow beings in his declining years, tossed on life's journey in loneliness, although having dutiful sons and daughters to take care of him, there is an aching void which he carries with him to his resting place, the grave. The funeral on Thursday, the 8th inst, was largely attended. The Rev Mr Matheson preached an able discourse suitable for the occasion at the funeral. She was buried in Suellic's cemetery, Durham Road, Glenelg. The pall bearers were her two sons, Neil and Wm McLeod, her two sons-in-law, Messrs Arch McCraig and David Hincek and her two nephews, Messrs Neil McCannel, of Durham Francis McLeod, of Collingwood.

Mrs McLeod leaves to mourn her loss three sons and two daughters and two sisters, Mrs McCannel, of Durham and Mrs McQueen, of Bothville. Her son Arch, whose residence is in Carman city, Manitoba, was unable to attend the funeral.

Dornoch.

The ideal weather of the past fortnight was terminated on Saturday by a slight north wester and at present old Mother Earth is garbed with her beautiful white mantle. The approach of King Winter reminds us of the flight of time and should act as a stimulus in prompting us to fresh endeavor ere the winter of age approaches and our mental and physical abilities become abated.

Mrs Wm Smith left last week to spend the winter months with her daughters Mrs Robert Mills and Mrs G. Ross of Valetta, Kent Co.

Mr John Vasey, one of our promising youths, left last week to fill a lucrative position in Minnesota.

Mr Wm Buchanan arrived last week from the Prairie Province with the elasticity of youth in his step and the bloom of health on his cheek.

After spending a pleasant holiday at his home in the burg Mr Barrett Vasey left last week to resume his position as bookkeeper with a prominent real estate firm in Sudbury.

We extend our hearty congratulations to Mr Thomas Shewell of Welbeck, who, on Wednesday of last week was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Minke, an estimable young lady of Bentinck. The nuptial knot was tied in Owen Sound after which the happy couple returned to the bride's home where a grody number of friends and relatives had assembled. After hearty greetings all sat down to a sumptuous repast and did ample justice to the many tempting delicacies provided, after which a pleasant evening was spent in dancing and various amusements. Their congeniality will no doubt ensure them blissful happiness in their journey o'er the billowy ocean of time.

We extend our condolence to Mr and Mrs Duncan McGillivray who received the sad news on Saturday that their eldest son, Duncan had succumbed to typhoid fever at Little Current, Manitoulin. The remains were taken home and interred in Rocky Mountain Cemetery followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. Deceased was an amiable whole-souled youth and it is a regret that he was carried off in the blush of promise and at a time when the future was rich with promises of happiness and prosperity.

Hopeville.

Mr Wm McDougall has purchased the McArthur store lot and begun to build a store on it.

Mr John H. Richardson has bought the Saw Mill north of here and has moved into the Dowling house on the lot and intends to run it steady.

Mr James Corbett near Dundalk has announced himself as a candidate for Reeve of Proton for 1907. He is most sure to get opposition, as other names are mentioned.

The Armstrong and McArdle families have erected handsome monuments to their departed friends in the Swinton Park cemetery.

A surveying party has been through this neighborhood surveying for electric road, to come near here.

Mr John Scott, a former mail carrier has got the job again.

Mrs of the W. W. harvest men have returned home and can tell some good stories of that country.

By the look of things here we are likely to have a stir between the Municipal election and Local option, the liquor question.

Varney.

Mr Ed. McAnally has left the employ of A. McCabe and Mr Tom Gordon has taken his place in the blacksmithing.

Mr Wm Smith has had his house treated to a fine new covering. A McClinton made a neat job of it.

Miss Edith Allan was home from Gowanstown over the week end.

We were sorry to hear of the death of our old neighbor Mr John Watson. Mrs C. Gray and son John, Mr and Mrs Wm Mountain attended the last illness and funeral.

Mr McCabe of Holstein visited his brother here one day last week.

Mr Clark is doing some repairing about the sawmill in readiness for a good winter's work.

Mr Will McCalmou intends leaving for Lumsden, Assa. Wednesday morning. Will sold a fine horse lately for $150.00.

The L. O. L. box social, Friday evening proved a great success. Rumor says $43 was taken in.

Miss McKenzie is training her pupils for an excellent program to be rendered at their box social to be held in the school-house, Friday evening, Nov 23rd.

To be sung in the Morning.

Every day is a fresh beginning,
Every morn is the world made new,
You who are weary of sorrow and sinning,
Here is a beautiful hope for you.
A hope for me and a hope for you.
All the past things are past and over,
The tasks are done and the years are shed
Yesterday's errors let yesterday cover,
Yesterday's wounds, which smarted and bled,
Are healed with the healing which night has shed.

Honesty is the Best Policy.

An agent of a patent churn called on the good woman of the farm and said he had a churn that would get more butter out of the cream than any other churn and do it in less time. He only wanted a chance to demonstrate the churn and he was sure she would buy it.

Call to-morrow morning and you can show me your churn.

Next morning the agent was on hand working the churn. He churned and churned, he sweated and churned. The woman went calmly about her morning's work and let him churn. After he had churned for an hour and a half he said there must be something wrong with that churning, for he couldn't get any butter.

"Of course not" she replied. "I churned early this morning, and gave you the buttermilk to get the extra butter out, with your new-fangled machine. You said your churn would get more butter than any other churn so I let you try."

Taxation without representation copied from "Ram's Horn"

Your correspondent T. B. Nutting is wrong, in opposing woman suffrage. If woman is affected by the character of the government, simple justice would demand that she have some voice in that government.

"Taxation without representation" was one of the wrongs which our fathers protested against. Take the saloon for instance, if woman is hurt by the saloon, she should have the power to vote against it. In this state women have municipal suffrage, and will no doubt, in time have full suffrage as they ought to have had long ago.

Under the new Liquor License Act the following are the penalties for violation:—First offence, a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $100. A second offence $100 fine and not more than $200; third offence $200 and not more than $400. Attention is called to the using of false labels on liquor bottles. Bottles in case goods must not be refilled, and the inspector is empowered to test all liquors. Violation of this clause of the act renders the guilty person liable to a fine from $20 to $100. Where the hotel is notified not to use liquor to a certain person, under the act, and disregards the notice he renders himself liable to a fine of $50, and the person giving such notice may recover for personal wrong not less than $20 or more than $500. Hereafter the hotel bars must be cleaned between 7 and 9 o'clock on Saturday nights, not on Sundays. Some have used the pretence of cleaning the bar for violation of the act, but now they are without the excuse of being in the bar on Sunday, and must keep the bar windows without screen or covering of any sort.

Oh these Women!

Some time ago in New York city a man was awakened at night to find his wife weeping uncontrollably.

"My darling," he said, in distress, "what is the matter?"

"A dream!" she gasped. "I have had such a horrid dream."

Her husband begged her to tell it to him in order that he might comfort her. After long persuasion she was induced to say this: "I thought I was walking down Broadway and I came to a warehouse where there was a large placard, 'Husbands For Sale.' You could get beautiful ones for $1,500, or even for $1,200, and nice looking ones for as low as $100."

"The husband asked innocently: 'Did you see any that looked like me?'"

The sobb became strangling. "Doz- en of them," gasped his wife, "dus up in bunches like asparagus, and sold for ten cents a bunch."—From Harpers.

Lingering Coughs

quite often become dangerous. There is no need of any cough lingering if taken in time. Too many people are careless about what they call a simple cough and neglect to take anything for it until they are all worn out with it.

It is easy to cure a cough if PINAL BALSAM is taken—easier at first than when it is allowed to run, but we warrant it to cure in either case.

It is just as good for children as for adults, for it does not contain chloroform or opiates. It acts directly on the throat and bronchial tubes and removes the cause of the cough. Price 25c.

They Clear the Throat

Throat troubles no matter how insignificant are extremely disagreeable, especially to those who speak in public or sing. Quite often such minor troubles develop into some dangerous disorder of the throat. Our
