The annual Sunday School entertainment was held in the Presbyterian church in this place on Friday evening the 14 inst. in spite of the unfavorable weather, a goodly number attended and the receipts summed up fairly good.

The Program which was a lengthy one consisted of singing, recitations etc. Miss Irving of Toronto, eloquentist gave several well selected pieces as was expected were rendered in a masterly manner, of course she could afford to give her best as $25 was a big thing for a few recitations or readings.

The choir under the leadership of Mr Ramage sang some fine pieces at intervals. The recitations by the little tots were excellent, also a quartet by four young men including Mr Ramage was well rendered.

The chairman noticed that the Rev Roach was trying to hide himself away back at the far end of the church but was soon called upon to the front. Mr Roach is always ready to give or make a speech, which he did in a short and to the point manner. We were pleased to hear and see Miss McLean taking part in the singing part of the program after her long stay during summer and fall visiting friends in the West. The speaker of the evening was the Rev Mr Kipp who on reasoning said he was neither Scotch nor Presbyterian but for all he was in close touch with Presbyterians as both his father-in-law and mother-in-law were Presbyterians and scotch at that, so Mrs Kipp must have been Presbyterian too, but as it happened that she could not forsake her country, as she did her former faith for it did not well for a Baptist preacher to have a Presbyterian wife for it is becoming for the woman to be in obedience to her husband, hence the necessity of becoming one in mind, doctrine, etc.

Mr Kipp is a fine speaker and commands his audience well. A dialogue by some four or five young persons was well rendered but was of a boisterous nature, and was more becoming for a concert in a hall or in Barnum's circus than in a church. We are only giving expression to our individual feeling, when we say that we would prefer hearing the beautiful strains of Mr Hector McDonald's bag pipes than such noisy character on the platform of a church.

The pastor, Rev Mr Matheson occupied the chair, and commanded good order, although some boys who are more bent on mischief than good, were disorderly at times. Miss Maud Reilly organist did her part well. The ladies' part in the basement was hard to excel.

Those boys and girls who were the happy recipients of prizes did their part well for regular attendance at school. Our young superintendent, Mr Wm Mathier, is worthy of congratulations for his success in the honorable position. After a vote of thanks to all concerned, the crowd dismissed with the benediction being pronounced by Rev Mr Roach. Proceeds of the evening amounted to $46.25.

Hopeville.

Mr John McWilliams, an elder in the Episcopalian church, has been appointed by the congregation of Cedarville and Episcopalian, to go to the North West Missionary fields, where ministers are wanted and cannot be secured. The people of these two churches consider Mr McWilliams well fitted for the task.

James Glenister, John Glenister and John Small, three young men who formerly lived here, but went to Toronto to live last fall, have arrived to visit their friends until after Christmas.

Mrs Fettes of Egremont is visiting her daughters here.

Proton Council held a meeting here at Bilton's Hotel on Saturday the 15th and the two collectors were stationed here. They got a large amount of money in for taxes. Several would ask where did all the money go to?

The Council appointed eight able men to act as scrutineers for the 7th January voting on local option.

The sleighing has been good and a lot of brick has been drawn past here for buildings in Egremont and Proton from the kilns near Proton Station.

Rocky Saugeen.

Don't miss the Christmas tree which is to be held in the Rocky Saugeen church on Friday evening Dec 21st. A grand program is being prepared.

Mr Will Heugban has made the purchase of a brand new cutter.

Mrs Middleton Sr., visited friends in Durham last week.

Mr Walter Middleton was busy doing some carpenter work at Mr Heslop's new house last week.

Mrs N. Dunsmoor is on the sick list at present.

Misses Maggie McKechnie and Tena MacDonald visited Miss Ethel Heugban on Sunday last.

Miss May Morton is at present visiting friends at Mulock.

W. H. BEAN

Orange Hill.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr and Mrs Sam Kinzel at present as that dreaded disease Diphtheria has broken out in their family and on Tuesday the 11th, little Murray aged 6 years fell a victim and the remains were interred in St. Winton Park burying ground on the following day, the other three Nellie, Retta and Roy are improving and will soon be out of danger.

Mr Kianel having sold his farm had planned to have a family reunion on Xmas at the old home and Willie and Myrah of Lumsden, Assa, Mrs Gendinning, nee Edna, of Swan River, Man, had just arrived home when the disease broke out and turned their joy into sorrow for when Christmas comes and they all gather at their old home for the last time little Murray's chair will be empty, he having gone to that happy land where sorrow is no more.

Mr and Mas S. McLean are visiting their son Archie of Cape Rich.
