

EVELYN NESBIT THAW IN THE WITNESS BOX.

Court Hears Read Some of Thaw's Letters to Her—Talks of Having Nothing to Live for.

Mrs Thaw Tells How She Met Stanford White and How He Forced Himself Upon Her.

Evelyn Thaw in the Box.

The familiar figure in blue, now for the first time without her veil, appeared from the judge's chamber. She stood near the jury box as Clerk Pennington ministered the oaths.

"I swear," recited Miss Thaw, in an audience voice as the end of her formal declaration, which was made just a little more impressively than usual.

Miss Thaw took her place in the witness chair calmly. She looked directly ahead at Mr. Delmas and gave her answers to his first question in a clear and firm voice which was soft in its quality.

Harry Thaw smiled at his wife as she walked to the witness stand, but she apparently did not see him at the time. After she was seated, however, she smiled faintly at the prisoner.

Mrs. Thaw's beauty was generally commented upon in the press, and her heighted effect. Her long dark hair and heavy eyebrows were noticeable now for the first time to those who followed the trial. In the excitement of testifying, her paleness of skin, two weeks fled before a rust of crimson tinted in her cheeks.

Tells Her Age.

Mrs. Thaw, in answer to Delmas' first question, said she was born Dec. 25, 1884. She told of going to the cafe Martin to dinner on the evening of June 25, with her husband, Thomas McCabe, and Truxton Beale.

"While at the Cafe Martin, did you see Stanford White?" A.—"Yes."

"At what time did you see him?" A.—"I don't know. It was sometime after we arrived."

"Where did you first see him?" A.—"Coming in at the Fifth avenue entrance."

"How long did you see him?" A.—"I don't know. He passed through and went on to the balcony."

"While he was on the balcony could you see him?" A.—"No."

"Did you see him leave?" A.—"Yes, I saw him come in from the balcony and go out of the Fifth avenue entrance."

"While you were in the Cafe Martin, did you call for a pencil?" A.—"Yes."

"With whom?" A.—"I think Mr. McCabe. He said he did not have one." Mrs. Thaw said that McCabe sat on her left. Beal on the right and that Thaw was facing her.

"Did you ask again for a pencil?" A.—"Yes. I got one from someone. I don't remember whom."

Wrote a Note.

"Did you write a note?" A.—"Yes."

"On what?" A.—"A piece of paper. I think Mr. McCabe gave it to me."

"What did you do with it?" A.—"I passed it to Mr. Thaw."

"What did Mr. Thaw do?" A.—"He said to me, 'Are all right?'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I put it in my pocket."

"What was your opinion as to being disturbed or affected?" Mr. Justice Fitzgerald asked.

"Was there anything unusual in your manner that was visible to others?"

"Again an objection was sustained."

"After the show, how long did you remain?"

"Mr. Thaw, have you that slip of paper now?" A.—"I have not."

"Have you seen it since?" A.—"No."

At the Root Garden.

"Did what you wrote refer to Stanford White?" Mr. Jerome objected, on the ground that the party itself was the best evidence. The court sustained the objection to this question was sustained.

"What did you do with it?" A.—"I went in with Mr. McCabe."

"What did Mr. McCabe do?" A.—"He said to me, 'Are all right?'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I put it in my pocket."

"What was your opinion as to being disturbed or affected?"

"Was there anything unusual in your manner that was visible to others?"

"Again an objection was sustained."

"When you last saw him?" A.—"About a week ago."

"The play was not interesting to you?" A.—"Not a bit."

"How did you meet him?" A.—"I went in with Mr. McCabe."

"How far did you go with him?"

"What was the distance?" A.—"About 20 feet."

"What was the name of the artist?"

"Mrs. Thaw pronounced distinctly with a slight emphasis in her voice."

"Where was he?" A.—"He was seated at a table."

"How far did you give him?" A.—"About six feet from him as from the end of the jury box." Mr. Thaw indicated the distance about 20 or 30 feet, and then said: "Stanford White, when did you see Mr. Thaw at the same time?"

A.—"I did not see Mr. Thaw until a month or two later." A.—"I saw Stanford White."

Mrs. Thaw pronounced distinctly with a slight emphasis in her voice."

"What was the name of the artist?"

"Mrs. Thaw had an old picture in front of Mr. White." A.—"Yes."

"What was the position?" A.—"He had his arm out like this." Mrs. Thaw indicated the gesture of a man about to fire a pistol.

"Then what happened?" A.—"I heard three shots."

"Did you exchange anything?" A.—"Yes."

I then turned to Mr. McCabe and said: "My God, he has shot him!" Mr. Thaw walked toward me." A.—"I

"What did you say to him?" A.—"I said, 'Harry, what have you done and Attorney Longfellow. The postscript follows:

"WILVER MAKING
since I first saw her that she would show anyone, except he I first thought she writing any letter I should have been every cent in the world three times to get money for fabulous presents for you that, after our training each other, no hypnotist could break us." Mr. Delmas' first question to the witness was as follows:

"Yes, I received the reply of Mr. Thaw, continued, "but he has not yet written to me."

"Yes, I have nothing to do with you because you are a dangerous woman."

He never lied to you."

"From the first time he ever saw you

he wanted to do his best to win you to school in Paris with your mother or to send you both to school, and he never did anything so respectful."

"Yesterday he said you believed every thing false people told you, you did not know if I could dance. Somebody played a piano and I danced. Finally I was taken into the elevator. She and Thaw were married on April 4, 1905, in Pittsburgh."

"Where was the ceremony?"

"At the residence of the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church."

"Who was there?" A.—"My mother and her husband, Mr. Hoffman and Mr.

Thaw's mother and his brother Josias."

"When did Mr. Thaw first propose to you?" A.—"It was in 1903, in Paris."

"Did you refuse him when he proposed to you?" A.—"Yes."

"Did you tell him why you refused?" A.—"Yes."

"Was it because of any event in your life?" A.—"Yes, Sir."

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"May we be married after the trial?"

"Lady Yarmouth arrived in Paris."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

"What did Thaw do after the refusal?"

"He came over to me and said he loved me and wanted to marry me."

"Will he not ask you to love me?" A.—"Yes."

"Then he said 'Yes,' I said 'Give me a reason.' I said, 'Put him off my shoulders and looked straight at me and said, 'It is because of Stanford White!'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I cried."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

"What did Thaw do after the refusal?"

"He came over to me and said he loved me and wanted to marry me."

"Will he not ask you to love me?" A.—"Yes."

"Then he said 'Yes,' I said 'Give me a reason.' I said, 'Put him off my shoulders and looked straight at me and said, 'It is because of Stanford White!'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I cried."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

"What did Thaw do after the refusal?"

"He came over to me and said he loved me and wanted to marry me."

"Will he not ask you to love me?" A.—"Yes."

"Then he said 'Yes,' I said 'Give me a reason.' I said, 'Put him off my shoulders and looked straight at me and said, 'It is because of Stanford White!'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I cried."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

"What did Thaw do after the refusal?"

"He came over to me and said he loved me and wanted to marry me."

"Will he not ask you to love me?" A.—"Yes."

"Then he said 'Yes,' I said 'Give me a reason.' I said, 'Put him off my shoulders and looked straight at me and said, 'It is because of Stanford White!'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I cried."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

"What did Thaw do after the refusal?"

"He came over to me and said he loved me and wanted to marry me."

"Will he not ask you to love me?" A.—"Yes."

"Then he said 'Yes,' I said 'Give me a reason.' I said, 'Put him off my shoulders and looked straight at me and said, 'It is because of Stanford White!'"

"What did you do?" A.—"I cried."

"Did you tell him why you refused?"

"Was it because of any event in your life?"

"Connected with Stanford White?"

"Mr. Jerome objected. Mr. Delmas put the question in another way."

"In stating your reasons to Mr. Thaw did you say it was because of an incident in your life connected with Stanford White?"

"This time Mr. Jerome did not object and Justice Fitzgerald warned Mrs. Thaw that she should tell only what she told Thaw at the time of his proposal."

</div