Her associations with both White and Thaw after her return from Europe in 1903; the interviews with Abe Hummel, hen was drawn the famous affidavit Fee and expenses of Hartridge which she has denied she had any part in framing; the European trip of 1904; Services of Lawyer Gleason ... the incident of the Cumberland hotel, and other meidents with Thaw, following her return; her marriage and the subsequent events up to the fatal night on the Madison Square Garden, None of these have been inquired into on cross-examination. It would seem that the chmax of sensationalism had been reached yesterday, but it is said the District-Atorney expects to bring out on Monday incidents of at least as sensational character as those of yesterday. No woman ever before faced a more terrible ordeal on the witness stand than Evelyn Nesbit Thaw-an ordeal that is not yet half over. Although it was evident that the slender, fran, emildish wife of Harry K. Thaw was under a great strain yesterday only once did she give way to tears. That was when, after fencing with the District-Attorney for an hour she was finally driven into a corner by his almost brutal questioning and took refuge in tears. But even then the tears did not seem to be caused so much by the Expense of bringing witnesses details she was obliged to tell as by | to New York the fact that with all her fencing she Court expenses had not been able to keep to herself the Forty policemen on duty about secrets which she knew must injure her ;
