ARE LOYAL.

HE ANTI-EUROPEAN AKS AT LAHORE.

e of Educationists Con-Consider the Problemsand Hindus Opposed to s on Europeans.

nass meeting of Moham-Labore the following re-meeting of the Mohame strangly condemns the in assaults on Eurofor criticism of their s, and abusive language vernment, and emphatino sympathy whatso-of that class. The edues are asked to use colleges, professors, of teachers and others tion has been conven-

HORS LOST.

shing Schooners Are Missing.

News comes from ?t.

TO WED. ense for Columbus

N TRACK. res the Life of a

S IT'S LEGAL TO W SUNDAY.

Special.) -By the of Judge Morson, tonto to sell reson Sunday, proion of John Dayening candies on 8.0 and costs.

MADRAS. Spreading Amon

pecial desputch of Queen Vis-

IS SLEEP.

ND CUT OFF AGAIN.

0. Louis Ed-Stairs, when in te of his head ay, and his left A physician position, and

"Rutherford had placed the ring upon | esleigh and Baroness Etheridge of Swinmy finger, and was holding it there and burne. repeating after the curate the words of the ritual, 'With this ring thee I wed; i caused him to look around. He started the thunderbolt upon their ancient and me guilty?" suddenly, dropped my hand, rushed to noble house. the nearest window, dashed it open, and More happily, the unaffected humility, threw himself out of it.

"At the same instant the church was gayety of the young duchess, had made filling with constables and the posse as many sincere friends as her surpassing comitatus they had summoned to assist beauty, exalted rank, and distinguished them. They were led on by a London success had made secret enemies; and police officer, who had slowly traced the thus, though society was shocked to its siminal down to our obscure village, foundation by the news of her arcest upand who carried in his hand a warrent on so grave a charge, yet she was not for the arrest of-"

"Rutherford, of course." all England shuddered! Thugsen, who had eluded the police, and hidden himself | imputed to her but of every thought conwith us until he could secure his retreat | nected with such sin. With the most dito France- Thugsen, who, under the aboileal exaggeration of malignity on the name of Rutherford, stood with me at part of her enemies, the indictment of the altar of the church of Swinburne.

"My poor foster-mother was struck so narrowly escaped. The clerk and dered at the thought of appearing. the curate were both appallel, I, in the Willingly would Rose have fled alone 14th of May.

"I believed him dead until this night, This night he suddenly appeared before me. He dared to claim me as his own:

"And you, Rose-what said you?" to you, and take my fate from your but not at the Old Bailey. hands. And I do, oh, my husband! oh, For, though her legal right to the title my judge! my sovereign! I am yours, of the Duchess of Beresleigh, and the to dispose of as you list. I know that benors and immunities belonging to the of justice, had purposely thrown himself what you decide will be right, perfectly rank, was now questioned, yet, as the right; and if you banish me from your | Paroness Etheridge of Swinburne, she | cause you are obliged by honor to do highest tribunal in the realm. so, and that even then you will give poor, exiled Rose a kind good-by!" He looked at her sitting there so pale,

"Rose, you are an honorable woman, Come to my bosom, my beloved wife: you are mine own, and my arm shall shield you against the world!"

And with a cry of irrepressible joy. Rose threw herself into his arms and swooned away: He laid her gently on the sofa, and without venturing to call assistance, he applied such restoratives as were at hand, until his efforts were crowned with suc- The particulars of the alleged first mar- And as the day for the trial approach- can't possibly do harm. Mrs. James cess, and with a deep sigh she recovered, riage were not known, but what was ed, without casting any new light upon Savoy, Little Lameque, N. B., says: and opened her eyes. Almost the first missing in fact was supplied by fancy. the dark secret of the murder, her anxi- "I believe that had it not been for words of her returning consciousness The blackest slanders were circulated, ety deepened to despair. Yet her an- Baby's Own Tablets my child would "Oh, what will your mother say?"

that to-morrow they set out for Paris, latter. on their way to the south of France. The duke and duchess were sitting to-They will be travelling over the contin- gether in the drawing room late in the ent all the summer and winter; before evening, discussing the new calumny, they return this threatened misfortune! when the door bell rang. my wedded wife, whom I will shelter and said the duke impatiently. defend against the world."

taining the delicate creature, whom he had vowed before heaven to cherish until death, he led Rose to the door of her dressing-room, and gave her into the affectionate care of the little French dressing maid. He went to his own room, and passed a night of silent agony.

Very early in the morning a message came from the duchess dowager to know how her beloved daughter-in-law had passed the night. Rose sent word that she was much better-in fact, quite well. And, with a super-human effort at self-command, she left her bed, and, aiter a careful morning toilet, repaired to the breakfast-room, where, with a heavy heart, but a cheerful countenance, she door, and as soon as breakfast was over. the Duchess and her daughters took leave, and departed.

Duke of Beresleigh, as he watched the two carriages roll off and disappear, and then he turned into the breakfast-room, Phere Rose stood, pale and frightened. "Well, love!" he said, going to her should hear from him before noon to-day. heart. And the clock is on the stroke of 12!" she said, trembling.

the street door. . Rose shuddered, and clung to the duke. | you." The next moment a stranger was an- | The duchess stooped and raised her up, nounced. He was a civil officer, bearing | saying: Wardour and Etheridge, Duchess of Ber- dove, and believe that all evils from the simple kindness, and the innocent left without warm advocates among the "Thugsen, the criminal, at whose name world. And, most happily, Rose vas as innocent as a child, not only of the crime

CHAPTER XXIX. Happily, the Dowager Duchess of Ber-

Bailey, where, among the lowest and with consternation at the danger I had worst criminals of Newgate, Rose and her through the approaching trial that midst of my great horror, felt an awful to some remote region, whence she never more might have been heard of, could she have borne away with her into the cedes a trial for life, and no despair so the continual gossip of the people and bert Bakewell. It was not until 1860 cle.

fled from the church dispersed in search she have borne away with her into the cedes a trial for life, and no despair so the press, concerning the tragedy at Lest that this breed was given a separate fled from the church, dispersed in search wilderness the sorrow of her husband, deep as that which follows the sentence ter House, brings my name more and classification at English shows. Among of him, but he managed to make his es- leaving him happy. But this could not of death. Afterward, I heard that he had be. Rose was greatly beloved, not only fled to the Continent; and long after- by her husband, but by many devoted ward there was a confident report of his friends, who remained faithful to her death. He was said by all the news- in her deep distress, and like a child in papers, to have been killed in an emeute her humility, gratitude and trust, she spair loomed darkly before her. All the placed herself in their hands, to be guid- strong hopes that had supported her in ed by their united counsels.

e dared to promise me forgiveness for and based upon so slight a foundation beneath the weight of impending doom. what he called my inconstancy, if I as an unfinished marriage ceremony, would fly with him to the Continent: | might possibly have been quashed, but dow over the devoted head of the prisdared further, to threaten me with a the arrest and the charge having been oner. eriminal prosecution if I refused to ac- made public, it was deemed, by the duke and his friends, essential to the fair had failed of doing any good. fame of the young duchess that she "I said that I would refer my cause should be vindicated by an open trial be issued for the arrest of Thugsen, alias I were capable of such a breach of side forever. I know that it will be be- had a right to claim a hearing before the

It was therefore by the advice of her friends, and the express desire of her dence against him, he was discharged-a husband, that she exercised her right result that he had evidently foreseen so sorrowful, so resigned, and he opened of peerage, demanded a trial by the from the first. House of Lords, and remained quietly in London to await the issue.

The trial was arranged to be comexaggerations, distortions and inventions shudder at the inscrutable mystery ad in order to set the seal of truth upon guish was confined to her own bosom, or have been in her grave. She was comthe packet of falsehood, they said that confided only to her venerable friend, Dr. pletely run down, would refuse food, and He knelt by her side, and speaking the Duchess Dowager of Beresleigh and Clark. very gently, as he bent over her, said: | the Ladies Wardour had abandoned the "Dear Rose, my mother and sisters young duchess, a circumstance, they need know nothing as yet. Remember argued, that looked very black for the may be warded off. Compose yourself, "Who can it be at this time of night? dear Rose, and remember that you are It is an odd hour for visitors to call," same evening.

Rose, frightened at the very idea And so, soothing, comforting and sus- visitors, listened like a startled fawn, Then followed the opening of the hall door, and a little bustle of arrival, and in another minute the drawing room door was thrown open, and a footman an-

"Her grace the duchess, and the young to fill a mother's place toward you? same relief in that as in death." Doubt no more! If sorrow has come

CHAPTER XXX.

She looked like a queen or a goddess. as she stood there in her noble rectitude. The young duke released Rose, and with a burst of irrepressible emotion. "That dreadful man threatened I turned and clasped his mother to his Rose, released from his embrace, sank at her mother's feet, sobbing forth: They were interrupted by a knock at "Oh, madam! Oh, lady! I had rather died than have brought this sorrow upon a warrant for the arrest of Rosamond | "Come to my bosom, you wounded

Convalescents need a large amount of nourishment in easily digested form.

Scott's Emulsion is powerful nourishment-highly concentrated.

It makes bone, blood and muscle without putting any tax on the digestion. ALL DRUGGISTS; 50c. AND $1.00.

which we cannot save you, we will share sister-or his wife," added Laura El-"And-the Ladies Wardour?" said the luke, turning a questioning glance to- ing her hesitate. while the young ladies, with tearful eyes that he might never more feel desolate and extended hands, came forward and alone in his sorrow. Doctor, I can-silently embraced their brother and not be his sister, but -- "She hesitated, sister-in-law. No miserable egotism, no and again her pale cheek flushed. mean question as to how the impending calamity might affect them and their prospects in life, had any place in the souls of these noble girls.

"But oh! Is it possible!" said Rose, with her voice half-drowned in tears, "that hearing of my arrest upon such a dreadful charge, and knowing nothing of with all my worldly goods I thee cu- esleigh and the Ladies Wardour had the particulars, you still had so much dow, when a sught noise at the door quitted the kingdom before the fall of faith in me that you could not believe

"No." said the duchess, emphatically and almost indignantly. "I knew you too well, sweet Rose. And now dismiss forever from your mind the idea that you have brought this trouble upon us. Providence visits us all with a trial in which you have the hardest part to bear, and we the duty of making it as light as possible," concluded her grace, tenderly pressing the hand of Rose. In an hour from that time the re-united family supped together cheerfully, as though no impending caalmity lowered darkly over their heads. That night, for the first time since her arrest, poor Rose retired to bed tranquilized. And the next morning all London knew that the duchess dowager, as bigamy had been preferred at the Old of her daughter-in-law upon a criminal was arranged to be commenced on the

Laura Elmer in a state of tension to which a physical torture by the rack the first days of Cassinove's imprison-The proceedings instituted against her, ment had utterly given way and sunk be compelled to give evidence so seri-Darker and heavier lowered the sha-

> Roberts, alias Rayburne, had been serv- confidence, it could do no harm since ed upon him. Indeed, that mysterious | hearsay' is no legal evidence." individual, far from avoiding the officers

> the thing over once for all," as he laugh- the murder of the baronet," said Laura, ingly declared. He had been taken be- in a low and shuddering voice. fore the Bow street magistrate, by whom | "I see, I see, my poor child! I see it he had been very carefully examined; all! Tell me how I can serve you. What but in the absence of any positive evi- would you have me to do?"

Laura Elmer's latest hope went out with the discharge of this man, whom in heart she believed to be guilty of the menced on the fourteenth of the ensuing | murder for which Cassinove was about to be tried. She knew Cassinove to be Meanwhile the enviers, haters and guiltless, but she had no longer any faith maligners of the beautiful young duchess in the necessary security of innocence. were busy with her name and fame. Her | She could only remember how often the

One evening, after taking leave of Cassinove, and hearing the door locked of Baby's Own Tablets, and these have hurried home to her lodgings, and des- 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams patched a note to the venerable physi- Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. cian, entreating him to call on her at his earliest convenience.

The good doctor waited upon her the He was shocked to notice the change that had passed over her queenly person in the few days that had elapsed since he had seen her last. The emaciated figure, the pallid face, ooking paler stlil in contrast to the large, dark eyes and ebon locks, the look and attitude of mute despair, touched his heart. "Miss Elmer," he said, in a gentle, parental tone, advancing towards her. "Doctor, this is very kind; sit down," she replied, rising and placing a chair The duchess dowager, with her hands | for him. "Doctor," she continued, as soon stretched out, and her eyes full of tears, as he was seated, "I wished to speak to advanced towards her son and his wife, you particularly this evening-" She hesitated in embarrassment. "My dearest George! my dear, dear Dear child, speak on; but try to take Rose! You could let me depart and some hope and comfort to your heart." remain abroad, while this great trouble | "Hope? Comfort? Ah, doctor, when was impending over you! Oh, George, suspense verges to near despair, is it not The travelling carriages were at the could you doubt your mother's love? better to know and confront the worst Could you, Rose, doubt one who has tried at once? Methinks there would be the

"Despair is sinful, my child. You and "Thank heaven, they are gone! Oh, upon you, my children, your mother I believe young Cassinove to be guiltless. that I should have lived to see the day must bear it with you! If dishonor, she And believing him to be so, we must beupon which I thank heaven my mother must share it! The hour of adversity lieve that he will be acquitted, which is Who never complains when a rough epot and sisters have left me!" thought the and danger is not the time for a family equivalent to believing in the justice of to be separated. 'United we stand: God, which it were impiety to doubt." of old. I grow strong and hopeful while I listen to you," said Laura Elmer, earn-

> "It is the power of the truth spoken, and not of the speaker," said the doctor, neglect needful food and rest, and re- The out-of-door boy is the fellow for me. "Doctor, it was not to talk of my-

you to come to me to-night. Have you seen him lately." "No, my child; I have not had hour's leisure, except early in the morning or late in the evening, just before the prison doors are opened, or after they are closed. But to-morrow I will make the leisure and surely see him." "He is fearfully changed, doctor; you will be pained to see him; he has grown so thin and pale from his long and close confinement in that dreary prison. And he is so desolate, doctor; can any man only me-" She hesitated and her pale cheek flushed. "But you are all to him-his guardian angel." "I am his betrothed. I do all that I may for him, yet not enough; I cannot be all that I might be to him were I his

be more desolate than he is? Think of it!

-friendless, poor and in prison, without father, mother, sister or brother, without a friend in the wide world, save mer, in a lower tone. "Well, my dear?" said the doctor, see-

"Oh, doctor, that I were only his sis-"They are my daughters and your ter, or his wife, that I might have the isters," said the duchess, significantly, privilege of being with him always, so "You might be his wife," said doctor, finishing her sentence. "I promised to be so long ago. Doctor, greatest possible consolation to me sible chance of safety to Cassinove."

rests in this relationship." "My dear Miss Elmer, explain your- pure breeds.

Lester, I was overlooked or forgotten. At least, I was not summoned as a witness before the coroner's inquest. There were, perhaps, witnesses in plenty without me, who testified directly to those fatal cicumstances that were deemed could sufficient to convict Cardinary to the lard producing class of the lard quite sufficient to convict Cassinove. | hogs In all the woe of this world there is And I was glad to be left out. But now more into the affair, and under the no-Such an anxiety now held the soul of tice of the authorities. They hint at a the chief classifications of the Yorkshire DANGEROUS PURGATIVES. cause of that murder that makes my of the present day are its docility, vigor, cheeks burn and my heart shudder. I muscular development and its excellent would have been as nothing. Such a de- live in the daily dread of being subpoenaed to testify as to this cause on the early maturing, reaching with good care relationship to him, doctor, I would not ously affecta Cassinove?" "It would put the seal upon his fate." "Miss Elmer, my child, tell me what this testimony is, that I may judge of She had done all that was possible and its importance. You may confide in me with perfect safety, for I shall never The warrant that she had caused to repeat your words; and even

"It was a fierce and deadly quarre! between Ferdinand Cassinove and Sir in their way, giving himself up, "to have Vincent Lester on the evening preceding

(To be continued.) ----

STARVING BABIES.

The baby who suffers from indigeschild is peevish, cross and restless. was rapidly failing. Nothing I gave her did her any good until I began the use upon him-a sound that always struck | changed her into a well and growing like a death knell upon her ear-she child." Sold by druggists or by mail at

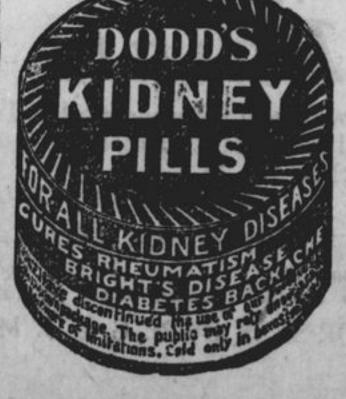

Reviving the Gaelic Tongue, It will be fourteen years next July Gaelic League for the restoration of the and to some extent they have been suc-Irish language, which is now 50,000 1846 was spoken by more than two- seys. thirds of the population of Ireland and | With the description of each breed is which half a century later had fallen published a scale of points by which, into disuse and contempt, has taken a | with the illustrations of typical animals, new lease of life. The corpse has feeded a valuable service is afforded in teaching ored perfumes while hibutens man have ter and crops mature more rapidly. It only to be touched to spring to its feet. the correct ideals to be looked for in sel- ored perfumes, while bibulous men have adds:

The Out-of-Door Boy.

Whose flag at the masthead of honor is

"You speak like one of the patriarchs | Who's strong in his labor and strong in Who has an ambition to better each day, humbly. "And now, my child, you must He may be a huntsman or fisher, and still process of value you probably want

take care of yourself. You must not Be prince of the river and king of the to protect your idea by obtaining a Who betters his pastimes what ever they self, but of Cassinove, that I requested | May be grow in the numbers the self, but of Cassinove, that I requested | Is an out-of-door scholar, partaking its May be grow in his numbers till every boy

* STUDY OF BREEDS OF SWINE

An instructive pamphlet devoted breeds of swine has been issued from Ottawa as Bulletin No. 11 of the Live if instead of coming into Newgate, Fer. Stock Branch. It deals with the history, ance of each patent is $20 payable withdinand Cassinove had come into an in- characteristics and points of excellence in six months, thus making a total of heritance, the first use he would have of the six principal breeds reared in $35 in fees to the government. A lawmade of his property would have been Canada. Commencing with a review of to ask me to share it with him. Doctor, the origin of domestic swine the bulle. $35. providing there are no communihave I not the same right to share his tin teaches that the many varieties that adversity?" cried Laura, with a burst are found in various parts of the world "My child, I know not what to say to of wild hogs. The variations that were The patent office will not respond you," said the good physician, in pain- effected by domestication upon the pro- to inquiries concerning the patentabil- ful perplexity. "Doctor, listen to me farther. This lowed out briefly. It is pointed out that | cant to employ a competent attorney to privilege that I crave would be the confinement along with an ample sup prosecute his case for him, as the value ply of food soon affected great and last. of a patent depends largely upon the and—take notice, doctor—the only pos- ing changes in comformation, disposi- specifications and claims which it covtion and aptitudes of the animals. With ers. "The only chance of safety to Cas- these changes there came about a breed- Information as to what may be patsinove!" echoed Dr. Clark, in extreme ing to type and color in various localities as suited the requirements and de-"Yes, doctor, his only chance of life sires of the hog raisers resulting in the of which is that "any new and useful

The breeds described in the bulletin "Listen then. In the confusion and and represented by illustrations of typi-classification at English shows. Among crossing qualities. They are said to be approaching trial. But if I bore this a marketable condition, weighing from short, fat and heavy shouldered ing its growth. The Berkshire is stated to have assumed a fairly uniform and desirable type about the year 1825. It was at that time tion is simply starving to death. It a fine appearing animal, very hardy, of half dozen boxes have made me as well loses al! desire for food and the little good size and length yet without coarseit does take does no good and the ness. Unfortunately, owing to a fashion which prevailed some years afterwards, girl in the land to try them." Mothers will find no other medicine the Berkshire was developed into a thick, and fat back. Later this style of hog became unpopular and the attention was given to developing greater length, symmetry and fleshiness. As now found, the Berkshire exhibits desirable qualifications as a packers' animal. back to a pair of white hogs imported a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The into Cester County, Pa., from England Ort. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, him or any other citizen is to leave the with the result that the Chester-White rapidly grew in favor. In its early years it was a fairly lengthy type of hog, Once Conspicuous in Drug Store Winbut for many years past few breeders in Canada, the bulletin states, have sought by selection and management, to develop ored water which were once in the front process of the courts, by criticism in since Dr. Hyde in Dublin founded the looked upon with favor by the packers strong, with important centres in New have during the past ten years grown York, San Francisco and the Argentine less and less popular in Canada, accord-Republic. In the national and other ing to the author of the Bulletin. In schools of Ireland the native tongue of 1905 only eight members of the Dominthe fathers is being taught to more than | ion Swine Breeders' Association bred Po-200,000 children. The speech which in land-Chinas and three bred Duroc-Jerto the Live Stock Commissioner at Ot- the emblem of the chemist.

---HOW TO OBTAIN A PATENT. First Steps to be Taken and the Probable

Cost of Getting It. If you have thought out some im provement in tools, machines or other articles in daily use, some laborsaving device, a new design of any kind or any patent. The first step in obtaining a patent after perfecting the idea is to make a rough pencil sketch showing in detail the various parts of the device. A defintte description should also be made explaining all the features, advantages and how to work the invention.

It is a good plan to number the dif- blue is made from sulphate of copper ferent parts in the sketch and refer to the numbers in writing the description. by an admixture of bichromate of por- appointed to interview President Roose-If it is easier to explain by the use of ash and sulphuric acid. Any person | velt on the subject, reported that he had a model a small one should be made or can make these beautiful colorings, es- from the first insisted upon a fair trial mounted photographs of a model often pecially the green, but as the acids used is time to consider whether to employ of nitric acid on the hand will eat a hole one of the committee sprang to his feet a patent lawyer or send the idea directly | in the flesh. to the patent office. If there is any | "In fact, even druggists make misdoubt about your being able to obtain takes. I remember one who tried to get a patent on your device the best course a fine new color that other druggists would be to employ a regular lawyer, dion't have, so he mixed tincture of for the government charges a fee for | chloride of iron with antipyrine. It did, making a preliminary examination of in fact, make a fine color in the globes, the patent records to ascertain whether but when the sun's rays rested on it for quently they still believe we didn't do seems small they will not undertake the

The government fee for filing an application for a patent is $15, payable in advance. Whether the patent is allowed for not, this fee is retained by the patent office. The ordinary lawyer's fee would be $5 for the preliminary examination: thus, if there is any doubt the originator would save $10 by first consulting a patent attorney and hiring him to conduct a preliminary examina-The government fee for the allowyer's total fee is usually from $25 to are all descended from one original stock | ing a patent would be from $60 to $75.

ented will be found in the revised statutes under section 4.886, the substance course of time in establishing the present art, machine, manufacture or composiimprovements thereof" can be patented. A change of an old device is patentdistress that immediately followed the cal animals are the Yorkshire, the Tam. able, no matter how simple the change discovery of the murder of Sir Vincent worth, the Berkshire, the Chester white, may be, as long as it produces a new

Separate patents must be obtained

Medicines of This Class Do Not Cure-Their Effect is Weakening.

Nothing could be more cruel than to induce a weak, anaemic person to take a purgative medicine in the hope of finding The Tamworth which is also described relief. Ask any doctor and he will tell as belonging to the large breeds is trac- you that a purgative medicine merely ed from about 1815, when it is said to gallops through the bowels, weakening have been introduced into England from the tender tissues. He will tell you also Ireland by Sir Robert Peel. The author that a purgative cannot possibly cure of the bulletin claims that this breed is disease, or build up bad blood. When the purer than any of the others inasmuch | the blood is weak and watery, when the as its improvements has been brought system is run down, a tonic is the one about almost entirely by selection of thing needed-is the only thing that will put you right. And in all this world stated to have received little attention there is no tonic so good as Dr. Williams' outside of the Counties of Leicestershire, Pink Pills for Pale People. Every dose Staffordshire and North Hamptonshire of these pills actually makes new, rich, red blood, which fills the veins, reaches pig, every organ in the body and brings which they found quite unsuitable for health and strength to weak, despondent bacon production. The Tamworth then people. Miss Annie Beaudreau, Amherst, came into prominence as an improver of Magdalene Islands, Que., says: "I was some of the other English breeds. It pale, my heart would palpitate violently seems to have maintained from the first at the least exertion, and I suffered greatly from severe headaches. I tried several medicines which seemed actually to leave me worse. Then I was advised to try Dr. Willians' Pink Pills, and a as ever I was. They have done me so much good that I would like every weak

It was the new blood Dr. Williams' stored Miss Beaudreau to health and strength, and in the same way they Clarence Darrow, their counsel, says: will restore all sufferers from anaemia, indigestion, heart palpitation, neuralgia, rheumatism and the secret ailments that make the lives of so many women and The history of the Chester-White is ex- growing girls a burden. Sold by all tremely interesting. It is said to trace medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents

FEW COLORED GLOBES NOW.

dows, But Slowly Disappearing. "The big glass globes filled with colseen now as frequently as of old," said a drug clerk. Of course, many are still window displays in drug stores by rea- ciety suffers when he does not get it. son of the installation of the electric light they have been displaced. With

"The colored contents of these globes | vest comes along very much at the same and their chemical constituents are a time every year. Nature seems to promystery to most persons and I have vide compensations after a severe win-Is there a parallel case of linguistic re- ecting breeding animals. The author of the good stuff that was going to its feet. the correct ideals to be looked for in ser- in the good stuff that was going to its feet. Early seeding is invariably followed. suscitation on record?—New York the Bulletin is Mr. J. B. Spencer, B. S. the good stuff that was going to waste by a spell of drought and the grain lies A., who has in this work presented a in those big bottles. The globes are in the ground and refuses to sprout systematic study of swine that should made in all sorts of fancy and elaborate through lack of moisture. Or it may be be highly appreciated not only by stud- shapes and designs and some are costly. that having sprouted the tender shoots ents of animal husbandry, but by swine Their history is buried in antiquity, but are cut down again by early May frosts. the fellow for me raisers in all parts of Canada. Copies of as they contain chemical compositions On the other hand grain sown in a seed

"The water is filtered and beautifully and in the genial sunlight makes rapid colored by chemical admixtures which are composed of such chemicals that We hope the farmers out there will and not fade. The exquisite pale green which is one of the popular selections | sophically as does the editor. This way for coloring is a solution of nitrate of some of the farmers worry themselves nickel, and most persons will be sur- into early graves over the vagaries of prised to learn that it is derived from rissolving the common 5-cent nickel piece in nitric acid. A few 5-cent nickel harvest time are promised. pieces dissolved in this acid will produce enough coloring body to tinge several gallons of water and give a coloring not pull well together. It is charged that which is most pleasing to the eyes.

"The red, which is also a very bright and ammonia and the yellow is product

CURRENT COMMENT

But wait till King Alfonso has to learn what a royal colie means, and has to walk the palace floor in the small hours. 'Call no man happy till he is

A new Insect pest brought from northern Italy is said to be ravaging the wheat and out fields of the southwestern States. It is said to be very destructive, but as it is a warm country insect, it is hoped that our Northwest will escape the plague.

It is to be hoped that we are not to have widespread trouble in India. And yet it is to be feared that only by the most judicious and statesmanlike course can it be avoided. People are prone to forget, and the cleavage in races is sharp and distinct.

The Minnesota railways, compelled to adopt a 2-cent rate, have set about shaping their business to yield obedience to the law. They have withdrawn every numerous other concessions, and great is the outery raised by those affected. If the 2-cent rate has been imposed on roads that have but a small margain of profit, means must be taken to make good the losses, or more business must be secured. Time will show the wisdom, or the reverse, of the movement; meanwhile there is likely to be severe unset-

The New York Sun asks: "Why do the public school children of New York speak and write such wretched English?" It answers by saying that "many of the instructors in the employ of the department of education are themselves grossly ignorant of the first principles of composition and careless in their use of words." It declares that "dozens if not scores of teachers have sent to this paper communications which a properly inown. The letters of this description wonder if the majority of teachers, men and women, regard the accepted rules of capitalization and punctuation and grammatical construction as oppressive, to be resisted at any cost." It is not in Hamilton alone that pupils of the public schools make blunders in writing, composition and spelling.

Asked for his opinion of President Rooseevit's references to Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, who are before the Idaho courts on a charge of murder,

Under the laws and constitution Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone are to be tried in court by a jury of their peers. courts and juries to administer the law fairly and without prejudice and without influence from the outside. Mr. Darrow's statement summarizes the case correctly. It is a good safe printhe form and quality of the animal windows of every drug store are not advance of trial, by flattery, by political pull, or by intimidation. Every man acin use, but in the readjustment of the cused is entitled to a fair trial, and so-

The Saskatoon Phoenix is not worrythe old gas pet arrangement there were ing any over the backward spring weathbut two or three separate illuminations, ther in the Northwest. It says that no matter how the seed time may vary harthe Bulletin are obtainable by applying they were primarily, as they are now, bed under which the frost is just relax-

be able to view the matter as philothe weather even though see dtime and

The Socialists and organized labor do the former are not sincere in their agibeautiful and permanent color and which tation on behalf of Moyer and Haywood, shows very effectively, both by day and the Labor men charged with the murder when illuminated at night, is made from of the Governor of Idaho. At a meeting resublimated or metallic iodine. The the other night of the Central Federation of Labor in New York, the committee are very powerful, it is best to have for these men. The Socialists resented After getting this material ready it them prepared by a chemist, as a drop this report, whereupon, says a despatch, deal let us give him a square deal, too. Some of the delegates to this body tee to assassinate the Prosident. Conseor not the device is patentable.

This service is performed by most of the good patent law companies gratis thousand pieces and weeker the conand if the chance of securing a patent tents of the window."

our full duty. There are men here who are not sincere in their sympathy for Moyer and Haywood. They are simply trying to use this case to advertise their propa-