D for a closer walk with man! Sweet fellowship of soul, Where each is to the other bound, Parts of one living whole.

Our Father, God, help us to see That all in Thee are one: O warm our hearts with Thy pure love Strong as you glorious sun.

Pride, envy, selfishness will melt Beneath that kindling fire: Our brothers' faults we scarce shall see But good in all admire.

No bitter cry of misery Shall ever pass unheard: But gentle sympathy spring forth In smile and strengthening word.

And when our brother's voice shall call From lands beyond the sea. Our hearts in glad response will say, "Here, Lord, am I, send me."

O Jesus Christ, Thou Who wast Man, Grant us Thy face to see; In Thy light shall we understand What human life may be.

Then daily with Thy Spirit filled, According to Thy Word; New power will flow through us to all, And draw men near our Lord.

Thus will the deep desire be met, With which our prayer began-A closer walk with Thee will mean A closer walk with man. -C. B., in Lendon Examiner.

Habitual Kindness.

There is no gift of grace that goes further toward making one beloved than the art of simple kindness. Just to be kind, in smile and word and deed, is the shortest, surest road to power over other lives. It is better to be kind than brilliant; one brings affection and loyalty; the other usually brings in its train only envy and bitterness. This adornment of simple kindness is one within the reach of everybody. There is no person so untalented as to be incapable of habitual kindness. The grace is one that grows in any soil, and beneath clouds or sunshin, snow or rain. It has taken centuries for men to grow into anything like an appreciation that is adequate of the wondrous excellencies of Jesus Christ; but the humblest peasant by the Lake of Galilee or upon the hills of Judea could instantly discern and understand His simple kindness; for kindness is the universal language.-West-

The Key to God's Silence.

Thou who are crying for a new revelation of heaven, art thou ready for thy wish? Would it be a joy if there were revealed to thee the pleasures at God's right hand? What if these pleasures should be what the selfish man calls Knowest thou not that the joys of love are not the joys of lovelessness? Love's joy is the surrender of itself the joy of lovelessness is the keeping of itself. If heaven were open to the vision the sight might startle thee: mightst call for the rocks to hide thee for the mountains to cover thee from the view. To make the revelation a joy to thee thou thyself must be changed into the same image. It is not every soul that can rejoice to be a ministering spirit sent forth to minister to the heirs of salvation; to rejoice in it fully we must all be changed. If death were abolished to-day it would not free thee from that need. It is not death that demands thy change; it is life. It is not death that brings thy change; it is the Spirit of the Christ. Thou needest not wait for death to find thy change, for the Spirit too can transform in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye. Blessed are they who shal lnot taste death until they shall see the kingdom of God. -Gea. Matheson, 1842-1906.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE Laymen's Centennial Commission

(By Mr. J. Campbell White, General Secretary, 1 Madison ave., New York.)

At the six public dinners held by the Laymen's Missionary Movement in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore Toronto and Boston, more than twelve hundred men have been present. They have constituted for the most part, the leading Christian business men of these cities. Several of the most prominent citizens of Toronto said that the dinner there brought together the most influen-tial group of Christian men ever assembled in that city. The presentation of the ideal of the Laymen's Movementthe evangelization of the world generation — has most sympathetic and cordial dorsement in all of these meetings. The strongest men tees to arrange for these gatherings, and are now organizing into City Co-operat ing Committees of the Laymen's Missio and adequate missionary policy in all the churches of their city and surrounding district. It appears likely that there wi be "Co-operating Committees" of this character in many of the cities of United States and Canada this year.

Some of the details are new and before the work of building the line could be started. The manufacture of the plant is now in progress. It in eludes interesting features, especialy relating to telegraph poles It would not do to string the wires s low that they would interfere with camel caravans in the desert. There must be no fence in that great waste to obstruct travel in any direction. So the hollow telegraph poles that are being made of steel are so long that they may be firmly planted in the earth and the wire fastened to their tops will be fifteen feet by means of camels, and the problem was how the poles might be carried, for bundles eighteen feet in length are not adapted to camel transportation. The solution was reached by making the poles telescopic so that each can be reduced to a length of about five feet. When the pole is erected the sections are pulled out and locked and become a stable and lasting support for the wires. The constructed part of the line now extends through Algeria to Beni-Abbes. at the southeast corner of Morocco's part of the desert. Thus the first 150 miles of the desert part of the line is now in operation. From Beni-Abbes the wire will follow the route surveyed for it two years ago to Adrar, in the very heart of the desert, 800 miles south of the At this point the line will turn to the southwest, and make for Burem on the Niger, this stretch being about eight hundred and sixty miles long. In the northern half of this section the main difficulties of building the line will be encountered, for it must cross a vast region that is poor in water and where the bandit tendencies of the inhabitants have not yet been entirely suppressed. It is believed that the expedients which have been approved for dealing with his ideas are sartorial . Occasionally
