OUT OF BUSINESS .- After a long and stubborn battle against heavy odds to place the order in Michigan, on a stable footing, the Grand Lodge of Michigan, Ancient Order of United Workmen, has voted to surrender its charter. In spite of a number of increases in the insurance rates, the death claims have accumulated faster than the receipts. Present members who can afford to meet the premiums will be provided a way of keeping their insurance in force, by dealing directly with the Supreme Lodge.

GARDEN PARTY.—The Annual Garden Party at the Presbyterian manse was held last Friday evening, a postponement from Thursday on account of rain. Delays are said to be danger-ous, but it did not prove so in this case for there was a large attendance in fine weather, and considerably over $100 was collected from the various sources. A most creditable musical program was provided, and a section of the 3Ist Regimental band helped a great deal to make the evening enjoyable. The fine manse ground, electrically lit forms an ideal place.

most exciting, most decisive lacrosse match of the season, perhaps ever in this district, and then after extra time the Durhams left the enemy's field with victory perched on their shoulder. Interesting, because of the clean, fast play between almost evenly-balanced teams; exciting, because of the closeness of the score throughout; decisive, because it practically decided the district winner. Had Hanover won, Durham would still have had a fighting chance; the Durhams winning in their opponents town really assures them

The Durhams presented their strong-est line up of the season, playing four outsiders but of these Calbeck and Mc-Cartee now almost look on Durham as "their lacrosse town." Kearns of Orangeville filled Matheson's at point while "Pete" went down to third defence and McKinstry an old war borse from Bradford assisted at the scoring end. Hanover also had their four Owen Sounders on the line up, and it yesterday. is only fair to state that all played a strong game, as much in earnest as the home men of the teams.

applause and excitement, caused by the numerous pretty plays on both sides, and frequent turnabout scoring. Shortly after four the game was on and in a few minutes Hanover drew struggle with a tuberculous disease, first blood, but the Durhams didn't let Robert Legate, Jr., of Ceylon, breathed the grass grow before evening up. his last, at the early age of 28 years 4 The visitors appeared to miss many mos. Nearly two years ago he spent passes and consequently were kept defending their goal but Hanoyer dropped in another. Cummings and Mulvey Cowan became suddenly 'friendly' and were given a 10 min. rest to enjoy it. Some pretty combination resulted in McCartee scoring goal no. 2 for the low. Kester last, took to had and has in McCartee scoring goal no. 2 for the green and white and the quarter ended been most assiduously and tenderly The home team always took the initiative and soon appeared in the lead with their 3rd. a spurt and scored two in succession.

It was do or die for both. The crowd by neat, quick passes, Herman Wendorf secured the ball near the goal and bulged the nets. And now Hanover rooted. Here a dispute arose, Time was up-in fact overtime when the goal was scored, both timekeepers agreed by a few seconds, but the bell hadn't rung till after it was in. Waghorne announced he couldn't accept

This was the crucial period; the next goal would decide the fate of the district. Both sides strained eyery nerve to score and finish the contest. McGiffin accidentally laid Chesney out with a cut and received a rest while B McDonald was off to even up. Durham was now one short but on the draw secured the rubber, kept it, McIntyre made a pretty pass to McKinstry who shot the winning goal in 12 min extra time Durham 9. Hanover 8. Then enthusiasm broke loose altogether among the Durham supporters. McKinstry was carried down street, amid tremendous rooting and cheering But it was to be expected after a game lasting off and on almost three hours. "For such must be, at every famous
