

REINFORCEMENTS FOR GENERAL DRUDE.

He Will Have 5,000 Under Him When Additional Troops Arrive.

Paris, Aug. 26.—An official note was issued today announcing that Gen. Drude, commander of the French expeditionary force in Morocco, will, when the reinforcements now on their way to Casa Blanca reach him, have at his disposal 5,000 men, which number is considered to be sufficient to insure the protection of the town unless the unexpected happens, for which emergency further reinforcements are ready to embark for Morocco.

It is stated that as a result of the Cabinet conferences and exchanges of views with Premier Clemenceau, who is at Marienbad, where he met King Edward, the Government remains firm in carrying out its programme, which it is reiterated is not one of conquest.

To-day's despatches from Tangier show that the situation throughout Morocco is becoming more serious. There are fears that the whole country will soon be ablaze with a holy war, which will not be checked until after a awful sacrifice of human life, as the native fanatics have no fear for consequences when the fever of a war against the unbelievers has taken possession of them. The interior is in a ferment. The rebels have proclaimed Mulai Hafif, the brother of the Sultan, as the true Sultan. This has aroused the natives to a condition of wild excitement, and they are crying for revenge on the "foreign dogs." A new Moorish army has appeared before Casa Blanca and another attack is expected. The constant strain of fighting is beginning to tell on the French troops of Casa Blanca, while all sleep with one eye open, with the arms beside them. Reinforcements have been asked for by Gen. Drude. With his present force he can repulse attacks, but he cannot follow up the enemy after he has driven it from the outskirts of the town.

U. S. Consul Safe.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Through the courtesy of the British charge at Teheran, the Persian capital, the State Department has received the following report from the disturbed border country where certain American residents were supposed to be in danger:

"The British Consul at Tabriz reports

HOLY ROLLERS LET CHILD DIE

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS FATHER AND MOTHER FOR NEGLIGENCE.

Both Pray Aloud in Court Before They Testify—Admit They Gave Baby No Medicine—Frenzied Sect's Noisy Meeting Disturbs Inquest at Tottenham.

New York, Aug. 26.—Several weeks ago the Holy Rollers of Tottenham, Staten Island, prayed for five hours that Peter Peterson, a member of the strange sect, might die, because in the excess of religious zeal he had proclaimed that he was ready to be rescued by the Lord. Peterson still lives, but yesterday Ruth, his fifteen-month-old daughter, died at his home on Brounau avenue unattended by a physician. Following the tenets of the Holy Rollers, Peterson and his wife had prayed over the sick child instead of administering the medicines a physician had prescribed.

Last night when Peterson and his wife, Anne, were called before a coroner's jury to tell why they had made no effort to suffer without medical aid, both requested that they might pray for divine guidance before giving their testimony.

The mother of the dead child knelt before Coroner Martin Cahill and the jury and lifted up her voice in a prayer. "Almighty God," she said, "I left my loved one in Your hands for I knew that if You saw fit to save his life You would. Now that You have taken my child away I know that You have done it for the Lord, but I know you will permit me to see it in heaven some time. The Almighty God is powerful, and I am satisfied that no doctor on earth could prescribe medicine which would cure my child if God saw fit to restore my child to me."

While Mrs. Peterson was praying the Holy Rollers, who had purposely hired a hall next door to the Knights of Pythias Temple, where the inquest was in progress, were engaged in praying vociferously for the souls of the man and woman who were being examined. Their shouts of glory and hymns of praise shined into the coroner's room constantly during the proceedings. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were held by the coroner to appear before the magistrate's court in Stapleton today.

As soon as the fact of the child's death was reported to the Tottenham police station yesterday morning District Attorney John J. Kenny, of Stapleton, was notified and Coroner Cahill began an investigation. Peterson admitted that the child had been allowed to suffer without the administration of medicine because he took it as a sign that the Lord's will that the little one should die no human aid could avail to save her. He said that a week ago he had called in Dr. David Coleman, who had recommended medicines for the infant, but the prescriptions were never filled. The doctor had been called only because Peterson thought that in case of her death the physician would sign a death certificate.

When the District Attorney made an investigation of the case yesterday he learned much of the peculiar practices of the Holy Rollers. The Christian Alliance is the name the denomination gives itself. The sect has a church in Tottenham and carries on religious services of a character to set most of the people of Tottenham in protest against the votar-that American Consul there, Mr. Doty, was about to leave for Urumiah. All was quiet at that place. The Turks were still at Tergavel, and Kamis (reported to have been destroyed) was safe."

Germany Dissatisfied.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The attention of the German Government is fixed upon the events at Casa Blanca more than upon any other subject in Germany's external relations. The presumption, of course, is that the French Government will observe its declarations and remain in Morocco only long enough to restore order. Yet the indications are that France's developments of that period will depend on a long one. The principle of the French action is considered to be altogether correct. The German Government under circumstances would have acted as France has done; in other words she would have sent warships to Casa Blanca and the German subjects there killed. But the French action, although sound in principle, is looked on officially here as characterized by a certain degree of ferocity and slaughter that might have been avoided.

SHELLED THE MOORS.

Fog Lifted While They Advanced, and They Were Routed.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Vice-Admiral Philibert, commanding the French naval forces off Casa Blanca, telegraphs that while the Moors were advancing on the French camp near Casa Blanca yesterday morning under the cover of a fog, the French shore batteries shelled the Moors with deadly effect. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Gen. Drude had moved forward his field guns to a ridge, situated about four miles from the camp, where he shelled the Moors, who were then in full flight eastward.

Admiral Philibert also reported the situation elsewhere was practically unchanged.

The report that Mulai Hafif, brother of the Sultan, had been proclaimed Sultan still lacks official confirmation.

Those who have attended the services told District Attorney Kenny that in the frenzy of their religious mania worshippers roll about the floor and indiscriminately, men and women alike, pray over the floor of the church there is a "prayer cellar," with a sign over the door. "This is for Christ only." Here, it is said, religious orgies are carried on without lights and sometimes far into the morning.

At a recent meeting of the sect Peterson is said to have proclaimed that he was so pure and so happy in the redemption that he knew to be his that he wanted to be translated at once. Whereupon all the worshippers united in three hours' serious endeavor through prayer to have the Lord show his strength and blast Peterson on the spot.

It is the belief of the Holy Rollers that medicines and physicians' services are interferences with the will of the Almighty, and consequently prayer is the only remedy for sickness among them. Recently when a woman of the flock was about to give birth to a child, the Holy Rollers fought against the calling in of a physician until neighbors insisted. The child had been hailed before its advent as a promised prodigy.

At the coroner's inquest held last night Peterson freely testified that he and his wife had made no effort to minister to the sick child except through fasting and prayer.

IS THE MAN GIANETTI?

He Was Found With Throat Cut in Toronto Hotel.

Toronto dispatch: A man found with his throat cut in Toronto in the Cecil Hotel, at the corner of Beaconsfield avenue and Queen street at midnight last night, was about to give birth to a child, the Holy Rollers fought against the calling in of a physician until neighbors insisted. The child had been hailed before its advent as a promised prodigy.

Bills to the amount of $1,400 were found in the man's pockets. Pending identification the remains were taken to Craig's undertaking establishment on Queen street west.

The bank yesterday was closed, and scores of Italians, driven almost to despair by the fear that they had been defrauded out of their hard-earned savings intended for those depending upon them in Italy and entrusted to the bank, were urging the authorities to have an investigation into the bank's affairs prosecuted without delay. Mr. Michael Basso and Prof. Sacco, the latter of the Ontario Immigration Department, are co-operating with the police in the case.

TO HAVE A DECENT BURIAL.

Hon. Mr. Foy Issues Order to Save Old Soldiers From Dissection.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—According to an order issued by Hon. J. J. Foy, Acting Premier, all dead paupers who have in their lives served as soldiers of the Empire shall be given a decent burial, so far as it can be assured, by a Government grant of $5 in each case. This decision was reached on representations of Major Collins, President of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association.

HETTY GREEN TALKS.

SUMMER GIRL AND HER LITTLE VANITIES JUST FOOLISH.

Admits She Was Gay Once—Wore as Many Trimmings as a Christmas Tree; Now She Detests 'Em.

New York, Aug. 26.—Young girls of today are too extravagant. They think too much about clothes and they don't have enough to do. If they had some useful work to occupy their thoughts they would not run to such extravagance."

So spoke Mrs. Hetty Green, the world's greatest woman financier, as from her corner in the Chemical National bank she watched the tide of girls, young and old, in summer finery, turning toward Brooklyn bridge and Coney Island.

"I speak from experience," she added. "Perhaps you don't know it, but I was quite a belle when I was young. But I grew all that sort of thing. These rainbow silks and metal fingers are not to my taste. I used to wear these things, things on me than there is on a Christmas tree. I have more sense now."

She tutted restlessly at the strings which, in a careless, listless sort of way were holding her tiny bonnet on her head. She spoke in a hoarse, almost inaudible voice and the most careful concentration was necessary in following her remarks. In one hand she held a much worn, small, black bag. With the other she was constantly doing something, tugging at her cape, pulling or rolling her bonnet strings or emphasizing her remarks by jerking the lapel of her coat.

"No, I don't like society, and I seldom go out. Last season I went to one reception given in my honor. One reason why I'm so tired to-day that I can hardly talk to you is that my daughter Sylvia is going away to one of those swell places. I will be busy for a week yet getting her ready."

The bonnet strings received a particularly vigorous tug this time, which said quite plainly that daughter Sylvia was going to visit the social elite with her mother's consent, but not her blessing.

"Society hasn't enough to do to keep it out of mischief. These so-called fashionable women spend all their time these days at bridge and smoking cigarettes and drinking weak tea and strong whiskey. Every one of them ought to be down here working, and they would be better off."

Her manner changed to an odd combination of indignation and humor.

"The airs some of those people put on amuse me. Before they got their money some of them made pants for their own dresses and now they drive about in their own carriages and hold their noses up in the air. They do not know how to use their money yet. They are not accustomed to it. We had money in our family for four generations. Oh, they can't teach me anything about that."

She paused in her reminiscences to laugh until tears came into her eyes, and then she added grimly: "But Hetty is living yet."

To describe the real Hetty Green is a difficult task. To describe her clothes and her personal appearance, or rather her face, separately, is to create two distinct personages, and only an alchemist could amalgamate the two personages into a single description. But even a mere man recognizes the fact that the clothes and the woman are somehow a part of each other in Hetty Green's case.

PREFERRED SUICIDE.

Once Prosperous, Now Old and Neglected, Shoots Himself.

Jamestown, Aug. 26.—Neglected by members of his family, it is charged, to whom he had given away his fortune, amounting to $300,000, Andrew Johnson, at the age of 83 years and living in a cellar of a house he had once owned, committed suicide last night by shooting himself through the head. Had he not done so he would have been removed to the county house at Dewittville today. Arrangements to that end had been made, and it would have been a very great improvement over the life he led by his children, who had squandered the money he had given them.

Johnson was a former prosperous builder of the city and had accumulated considerable property. His wife died and he decided some fifteen years ago that he would remarry. Before he did so, however, he divided his property among his children and the second wife, who was much younger than himself.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

Letter of Credit Taken From French General's Pocket in Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 26.—A daring robbery was committed to-day, when General De Negrier, of Paris, a guest at the Windsor Hotel, was relieved of his wallet, containing a letter of credit for a large amount, while he was attempting to board a street car.

General De Negrier, who is well known in French army circles, having had command of the French troops in Algeria, is on a visit to Canada. According to his story, he was followed to the Bank of Montreal, where he drew a considerable sum on his letter of credit, by those who eventually stole his wallet. After leaving the bank and while trying to board a car in order to return to the hotel, he felt himself pushed, but paid no particular attention to it.

FIGHT FOR BIG FORTUNE.

Two Toronto Men Are Among the Claimants.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—A fight for millions the rightful heirs of Edward Derry, a commercial traveler for Berry Bros, of Detroit, and his son, Mr. D. M. Derry, in the employ of Mickleborough, Mulvey & Co., 50 Front street west, who lives at 41 Woodlawn avenue. With about a hundred others they claim to be the rightful heirs of Edward Derry, a one time Milwaukee man, who became a diamond king in South Africa, and was afterwards murdered.

His estate has been valued at $5,000,000, and for years efforts have been made by the British Government to find the rightful heirs to this fortune. One of the claimants is a Wisconsin woman, Mrs. Ruth Derry Vance, and her claim is protested, among others, by Mr. Derry.

VIENNA LOVE AFFAIR ENDS IN MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Jealousy Leads Man to Slay His Bride and Send Bullet Through His Brain

New York, Aug. 26.—In a fit of insane jealousy Julius Teich, a silk weaver, shot and mortally wounded his beautiful young wife, a bride of two months, in their flat at 510 West 126th street, just before noon yesterday. He then turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet crashing through his right temple. Both died an hour later at the J. Hood Wright Hospital.

Teich and his wife were heard to quarrel earlier in the day, although none of the occupants of the house where they were living paid much attention to them. The husband, it is said, frequently resented the attention his wife attracted when they were out together, and their differences had become a matter of gossip among the neighbors.

The police had to force an entrance to the Teich apartments after the shooting. They found the man and his wife lying in bed clad in their night clothes and unconscious from their wounds. A five-caliber revolver lay on the floor near the bed, and it had evidently fallen there after Teich shot his bride. Neighbors of Teich and his wife said the husband lavished his money on her to the last cent he could earn. He was employed by Smith & Kaufman and drew a salary of $50 a week. He had furnished his four-room flat well and his wife always dressed in the best of style. Back of the tragedy was a love romance that had its beginning in Vienna, when Teich and the girl were schoolmates. They were sweethearts as children, according to Josephine Herter, a cousin of the dead woman, but when they grew up the girl's parents objected to her marrying Teich. Thinking that if they were separated she might forget the business situation is sound and satisfactory.

SOCIALIST CONGRESS MEETS AND DISCUSSES COLONIZATION.

The Hague Conference Described as a Gathering of Thieves and Murderers.

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 26.—An interesting discussion of the colonial question developed at yesterday's meeting of the International Socialist Congress which is now in session here. Dr. David, one of the German delegates, expressing the views of the majority said that colonization was necessary as a means of civilization, but that the present method of conducting colonial wars was purely for conquest, followed by the exploitation of the country for the benefit of capitalists, must cease. The products of territories rescued from barbarism, he said, should be sent to the benefit of the world. The natives, however, should obtain an equal share of the results with the citizens of the civilizing power on the principle that all men are

LABOR MEN'S TRIAL.

TWO MEN FOUND GUILTY AND OTHERS WILL BE TRIED.

Shoeworkers Decide That Charges Against Hickey and Murray Have Been Proven—End of Sensational Case.

Toronto dispatch: Hickey and Murray were found guilty of the charges of bribery and corruption brought against them in connection with the last election of officers of the International Union of Boot and Shoe Workers.

Counsel for the prosecution and defence delivered stirring addresses. Hickey, in a speech full of emotion, indignantly repudiated the charges and disavowed to pose as a martyr who was being crucified on the altar of To-bianism.

At the conclusion of the addresses the chairman of the judges said it was unnecessary to sum up the case, the delegates had heard all the evidence and it was for them to say which side had told the truth. A vote was taken of all present, each delegate's name was called by the secretary, and the response was either aye or no. Of the 236 who answered the roll, 130 considered the charges proven.

The chairman then asked Hickey and Murray to stand up, and told them it was his painful duty to inform them they had been found guilty of dishonorable conduct in trying to illegally interfere with the election of officers.

What action will be taken as the result of the verdict will not be made known until the counter charges brought against the executive officers have been dealt with. The hearing of these will start on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. In the interval the election inspectors and committee of judges will go to Buffalo to bring back the ballots cast at the last election, as they will play an important part in the new case.

A resolution was unanimously passed that Walter Edmunds and Jerry Donovan, election inspectors, be charged with entering into a conspiracy to control the result of the last election, and that the delegates deal with the matter at the present convention, so that the union be freed of two members who, by their own confession, are conspirators and traitors."

Deputy Warden Speaks of the Conditions There.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—"We have about 450 prisoners in the institution at present where a few years ago 600 was the normal number," remarked Deputy Warden Dan O'Leary to a Citizen reporter this morning. Mr. O'Leary has been spending a few days at his old home in this city.

"The operation of the ticket of leave system," he continued, "has resulted in quite a thinning out of the prisoners."

"What proportion came back to the penitentiary after being released on parole?" was asked.

"It is a very small proportion," said the deputy warden. "I recall only two or three cases." Mr. O'Leary said the discipline at the institution is good. Mr. Gill, of the Ontario Bank, Phillips of the York Loan, and Martineau, of Ottawa, are engaged as bookkeepers, and seem cheerful in their confinement. "We need several bookkeepers for the different departments," Mr. O'Leary stated, "and they are the best men for the job. Their fare and treatment, however, are just the same as the other prisoners."

U.S. CROP FORECAST.

MAY BE DEFICIENT IN QUANTITY AND QUALITY.

Business Situation Sound and Satisfactory—Chicago Bank Gives Conclusions of Many Correspondents' Replies.

New York, Aug. 26.—The Times says: The Commercial National Bank of Chicago, in its summary of financial and commercial conditions, compiled with special reference to the crop outlook, to be issued to-day, draws the conclusion from the 30,000 replies received from its correspondents that the overwhelming preponderance of evidence is that the business situation is sound and satisfactory.

The bank comments on the fact that in the thousands of replies there is scarcely a reference to the present position of the speculative markets. That there has been a let-up in business compared with the feverish activity of last spring and winter, is generally admitted, but this, the bank says, is acknowledged by its correspondents with entire satisfaction.

On the crop outlook the bank reaches the conclusion from the data gathered by it that this year's wheat crop will amount to 640,000,000 bushels, the corn crop 2,400,000,000 to 2,600,000,000 bushels, while the oat crop will be deficient by perhaps as much as 150,000,000 bushels.

Regarding the financing of the crop the bank says that though the yield may be deficient in quantity, as well as in quality, there will be required practically as large a volume of funds for financing the crops as was needed last year.

CHEAP TRAVEL.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES ENTER UPON A RATE WAR.

German Lines Reduce Fares to the United States—Competition With the Russian Lines—English Company Hits the German Companies.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—The Cunard line has offered a minimum first cabin passage from Hamburg to New York of $127.50, including a free ticket to Liverpool and expenses there, the Hamburg-American announces a reduction of the rates from $124 to $107.50, and the North German Lloyd line a reduction from $130 to $117.50.

The German lines are becoming involved in rate wars in various directions. The Hamburg-American line's new connection between New York and Baltic ports is a blow at the Russian line, which has answered with a further reduction of the steamer rate to New York.

The German lines have found it impossible to continue to draw Russian emigrants by the railroad from the Russian frontier to Hamburg and Bremen, because they preferred embarking at home ports, Riga and Lituau. This necessitated bidding for emigrants at Baltic ports. The view prevails at Hamburg and Bremen that the Russian lines will prove unable to keep up the fight for any length of time, and will offer to compromise before many months have elapsed.

Demoralization prevails in the freight business to Brazil and other parts of the South American continent, caused by a cut from $8.75 to $3.75 per ton by the English shipping firm of Lamport & Holt. The latter went into the trans-Atlantic business owing to the entrance of the Hamburg South American Steamship Company and the Hamburg-American line into the trade between Brazil and New York, competing with Lamport & Holt and the Brazilian Lloyd. The German lines have been hard hit by the Lamport & Holt line.

AUTO CRASHED INTO BUGGY.

Serious Injuries Result From Accident at Chatham.

Chatham dispatch: The first serious automobile accident to be recorded here happened last evening, when the machine owned by J. O'Keefe, and at the time under the control of Mrs. O'Keefe, collided with a buggy in which were seated Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Owens, and their little baby daughter. The auto was turning a corner with Lamport & Holt. This necessitated bidding for emigrants at Baltic ports. The view prevails at Hamburg and Bremen that the Russian lines will prove unable to keep up the fight for any length of time, and will offer to compromise before many months have elapsed.

London, Aug. 26.—The Birmingham Chamber of Commerce has asked, and the Commonwealth Government has declined, to postpone the operation of the new tariff by temporarily postponing Mr. Winston Churchill, speaking today in the House of Commons, stated that the Commonwealth has replied that it was not practicable to accede to a temporary postponement. Mr. Churchill also stated that there was no foundation for the report that the British flag had been raised on Isle Royale in Lake Superior.

He Has Refused to Accept the Sitings Made by Chief Justice.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 26.—Legal circles in Vancouver and British Columbia are in an uproar over the refusal of Judge Martin to accept Chief Justice Hunter's appointments for sittings throughout the province.

As a result Vancouver is without a judge.

This is only the culmination of a long series of quarrels between Hunter and Martin. The Bar Society of Vancouver is discussing a proposal to have Martin impeached. A resolution has been passed by this law society to that effect.

THUG SHOT DEAD.

JOHN MAROONEY KILLED, PROBABLY BY CHARLES DIBERT.

Some Postman Held Up—Attacked at Van Buren and Morgan Streets, But His Identity Unknown.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—John Marooney, a hold-up man who had been a source of trouble to the police for a long time, was shot and killed early yesterday morning while running away from the place on West Van Buren street, where he and two unknown companions held up a letter carrier.

The police credit Charles H. Dibert, in the local and traveling business at West Van Buren street and Loretta court, with firing the fatal shot. Dibert, when directly asked, simply laughs and says he fired in the air. He acknowledges using a revolver the size of the bullet taken from the dead man's body, but claims he fired only one shot and that somebody else fired another.

Deputy Coroner Herrmann, who conducted an examination on the ground, is positive that Dibert killed Marooney. One of the most troublesome things to the police is to ascertain the identity of the man who was held up. This man wore the clothing of a mail carrier, wore a Government badge, and told Policeman Patrick J. Free, William Zimmerman and Smedekoff that he worked at the post station, U. S. joining the Union Depot. There the foreman stated that only nine men worked there until the hour of the robbery, that all of them had been accounted for, and that it was probably some carrier who was being cross-examined and was now afraid to come to the front.

Leut. Madden's efforts to discover the other two hold-up men caused him to investigate certain doings at the saloon of J. J. Kerr, Peoria and Congress streets. The police were informed that one of the hold-up men was seen to enter the side-door of the saloon after the affray.

Kerr claims to have been absent from home at the time, and the barkeeper on the things or anyone else entered the place after the regular closing time. When pressed he qualified his answers by saying:

"Well, I was drunk and don't know for sure."

ROBBERY OF THE LETTER CARRIER.

The hold-up occurred in front of an address in the building of the Automatic Electric Company, West Van Buren and Morgan streets. The letter carrier was sending his way slowly west when the men, among them Marooney, sprang upon him. One hit him a blow back of the ear, and he shouted:

"Murder, help, police!"

Fred Eicke, keeper of the saloon across the street, at 283 West Van Buren street, and two call boys, had observed what was going on, and started across the street to surround the hold-up men. Eicke says they would have succeeded if the letter carrier hadn't yelled.

The frightened man's shouts attracted the attention of Policemen Poo, Zimmerman and Smedekoff, and three started toward the scene. The patrolmen saw the three robbers scatter, but could not get close enough to intercept them.

DIBERT HEARS CRY FOR HELP.

Dibert fired his rifle in the rear of his place of business, but he was aroused by the kicking of a horse when he heard the letter carrier shout. He grabbed his revolver, ran out the front door, and started east and down Morgan street, and that he fired in the air, but several witnesses asserted that the robbers part of company and that while one ran east to Morgan street the other two ran west and down Loretta court on the other side of the street from where Dibert was standing.

At any rate, when Marooney and a companion got under the Metropolitan building structure, 250 feet south of Loretta street, the companion supporting Marooney and urging him to keep his feet. Just before reaching Sanson street Marooney fell and was picked up by his comrade, who then set him down in the doorway of the Kellogg Switchboard Company. In the meantime Frank Burb, of the fire insurance control, located just opposite, found the dead burglar a few minutes later.

"Marooney's companion stripped his clothing off, and he possessed when he found death was certain, and several of value was found on the body. That the dead man had been in hard luck is shown by the fact that on his left foot was an old shoe with a big hole in it. Detective O'Neil made with his revolver last June when he was arrested Marooney for attacking a woman. The woman never could be found to appear against him, and Marooney got off with a day in jail.

"Worst Bunch in Chicago."

"The worst bunch in Chicago holds around here," said Dibert. "I have been robbed, my windows have been smashed; they have acted threateningly toward my wife, and committed all sorts of depredations. Here is a hole in the partition where I shot through at the gang a short time ago. They are fellows with whom no chances can be taken."

"Marooney has often been in trouble," said Leut. Madden. "He was arrested for picking pockets early in the winter, and in June he attacked a woman, when O'Neil shot him. But you would be surprised if I told you the names of the big men who always get him out of his scrapes."

The inquest was continued until Friday afternoon.

ANOTHER DRY DOCK.

Tobacco Capitalists Will Invest in One in Ontario.

St. Catharines, Aug. 21.—F. J. Yelman, of Toledo, representing United States capitalists, has been in this city for some days looking for a site for a dry dock. Mr. Yelman has inspected several points from Port Colborne to Port Ballouise, but thinks the most advantageous one will be in the gully owned by Mr. White, above the elevator at the latter port, which has splendid facilities for reaching the harbor without being locked through. The dock is understood to be large enough to accommodate the largest lake steamers, and especially those with heavy draught, which now go to the docks in the States and pay extra duty.
