Town Topics

FOUND ON STREET.—Spectacles in case. This Office.

Rev John Potts, one of the pillars of Methodism and a foremost citizen of the Dominion, died last week.

AUCTION SALE.—Mrs. Peel will have an Auction Sale of Household Furniture moving from town. At the residence on Lambton St.

The bachelors and benedicts of Durham held a successful assembly in the hall Tuesday evening—the first of the season. The London Harpers were engaged for the occasion and supplied choice music.

AN EDUCATIONAL ISSUE.—This number of the Review, with Supplement, may be described as above. Our readers will ask no apology for the abundance of educational matter following the County Convention. The work was all of a high order and we trust the samples we give may result in bringing to parents and teacher into closer touch.

SICKNESS.—Mr. Jas. Brown during the past week or two has been seriously ill with pneumonia, but though in improved, Mrs. A. Marshall has been confined to bed with a neuralgic affection of the neck and is also improving. Mr. Hugh MacKay came home from the far north last week and is suffering from acute pneumonia, is expected to recover.

FREE—FREE.—Under the auspices of the I. O. Foresters, there will be given a free entertainment in the Town Hall, Durham, on the 29th of October. Supreme Organizer Geo. Mitchell and a Scotch entertainer will be present. All welcome. Remember the date.

Farming is a business which requires access to practical business information. This is supplied in the columns of the Weekly Sun. The secret lies in its untiring devotion to the interests of the farmer. The memory of the good it has done will long after the subscription price is forgotten. To be posted a farmer must read The Sun.

LOCAL OPTION.—Petitions asking the Council to submit the local Option by-law, as in circulation, to Art. 22, being largely signed. Mr. Forest entered on a crusade against the bar-room and treating system and all the evils that spring from the liquor traffic. The highest interest of the town will be furthered by the success of this measure we believe and from a commercial standpoint there can be no question of its benefit. The greatest good to the greatest number.

LANE SINKING.—We learn that the contractors for the new G. C. R. line have struck a new difficulty in the mesita where a piece of the road bed, some 100 feet in length, has sunk several feet. The engines have been going over it for some weeks and at present there are two engines this side of it. Special gangs were at work on Sunday we understand, at both sides of the steel. This is delaying progress. It is likely a new track will have to be laid and this strange depression in which we are now standing we have been informed by an eye-witness.

HYMNICAL.—The community was pleasantly surprised when informed of the marriage last Wednesday at Art. 22 of Miss Elizabeth Crittenden, to Mrs. Elizabeth Crittenden. They both are esteemed residents of the 2nd con. of Durham and are neighbors, whose families are grown up, and nothing seems to have come between them in their mature years. The happy couple attended Presbyterian church Sunday evening last and received and are receiving many congratulations in which the Review cordially joins. For the present and for the winter they will likely occupy Mrs. Grady's home.

B. Y. P. SOCIAL.—This organization had a pleasant evening socially in the Baptist church on Tuesday, when a number of people took part. One of the unique features of the program was an original recitation on the history of the old church up to the present time given by Mr. J. H. Brown. Mrs. Newton and Miss A. Brown, in a duet, made a fine contribution. The latter also in a solo, Messrs A. Bell, Search, Harding and Clemis in a male quartette, instrumentally by Mrs. In. S. Lily Walker and Gertie McComb in a recitation and solo respectively. Mr. A. Smith in a solo and some small boys in recitation, made it a pleasant program to listen to. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were dispensed.

Teachers' Convention

Favored with fine weather and a good attendance.

Some 70 or 80 teachers assembled Thursday and Friday last in the Public School here and spent two profitable days. The Inspectorate comprises six townships, with towns of Dundalk and Hanover, and villages of Dundalk and Markdale, in which are slightly over 100 teachers so that the attendance was a good proportion of the whole.

Rev. J. Farquharson and Bice, the editors of the town papers, Trustees Grant, Ramage and McIlraith, and a number of other citizens attended more or less frequently and took part occasionally in discussion. There is an unaccountable lack of rural trustee in the Convention. Every yet we only saw one of the number present, Mr. J. W. Blyth, of Varney.

The sessions were brightened and benefited by the presence of Inspector John Ritchie, of Port Arthur, who nearly 30 years ago was a member of this same body as a budding young teacher. By steady application he has risen in the profession with-out the adventitious aids of Schools and Colleges, an example to younger teachers and youth generally. He brought to the discussions much matured thought and experience and with a clear and ready utterance his presence was a distinct pleasure.

Inspector Campbell opened the session Thursday forenoon in the absence of the President, but later the chair was occupied by Vice-Pres., Miss May McClocklin in a very creditable manner.

Routine work filled up the first forenoon, Secy Allan's five minutes of last convention bringing everyone into touch with the work. Everyone who miss the first session lose a good deal, and fully 50 were on hand on this occasion.

The afternoon opened with the Vice-President's address which was an admirable one showing value to teacher and pupil of the proper inculcation of duty as implied in "discipline." Miss McClocklin is one of our thoughtful teachers and her treatment of the subject was suggestive and aroused a profitable discussion.

Following this came an official welcome from the Trustee Board, Messrs Grant, Ramage and McIlraith extending the welcome. Mr. Irwin of the Chronicle spoke in a reminiscent Association. Rev. Mr. Farquharson spoke on the meaning of character and the importance of clothing historical and other facts with new life making them live over again to the pupils.

Miss Clark on "Libraries and how to use them" spoke of the high privilege of being consulted as to child's reading and the importance of choosing books with proper ideals. Choose books that would emphasize the victories of peace as well as war and urge them not to consider a good book once read as finished. See page 5.

Insp. Campbell in discussion pointed out the importance of every teacher being interested in Libraries. Insp. Ritchie referred to lack of Bible reading, for the fundamental principles of life. There was a really fine discussion, Mr. Urquhart, of Dundalk, making a lucid contribution and nearly all anxious to have Bible reading lessons placed on an equality at least with other lessons.

Mr. Thompson on Junior Grammar made a clear logical presentation, especially his method of beginning. For instance: ask the pupil to think that something, then ask him where it will be in his mind, though he had had one say in his stomach. Impress him that no one in all the world knows that thought but himself, two ways to make it known, speak it or write it, taking the latter way, they have made a sentence, and a beginning in grammar and there is no need for a long time in mentioning parts of speech.

Miss Isa Campbell, of Boothville, gave a thoughtful paper on "The Teacher's Responsibility as a Canadian Citizen" which we intend to give in full as a condensation would leave out too many good things. Read it in full in this issue.

Miss Coppinger, Hanover, was down for Primary Reading and our readers in this issue will find her excellent paper in full. She wishes it distinctly understood that she has drawn some of the matter and her inspiration from a book by Miss Alice Graham, of Minnedosa, though we are sure it has lost nothing in the recasting by Miss Coppinger.

Friday. Another good day and rendering the title "umbrella brigade," quite a misnomer. Miss Annie McKenna.

Obituary

LIZZIE KHARNEY

A heavy blow has fallen on Mrs. Alex. Kharney and family by the sudden death of daughter and sister Lizzie, aged 15 years. This deeply lamented death occurred on Monday evening shortly after 9 p. m., the cause being typhoid complications by pneumonia.

She went to Mt. Forest early in September to take a course in Business college and came home ill soon after and though a very sick girl a fatal termination was not feared. Her illness was not severe and she recovered. Mrs. Beggs' brother died quite recently and she was summoned from her home by her father's dying bedside by her daughter's illness. The deep sympathy of the town will be extended to Mrs. Beggs, to deceased's twin sister Annie and to her brother's over the loss of this bright young maiden.

MISS ALEXANDER.

Tuesday last the remains of Mrs. Alex. Alexander, of Bentinck, near Hutton Hill, were laid to rest. For several years back she has been in delicate health from an insidious disease, and on Saturday last week she died. She was in her 20th year and husband and two children are left to mourn.

ARCHIE McDONALD

For several years back Mr. A. C. McDonald of this town has had more than his share of the grief that comes when "friend after friend departs." About a week ago he had word from Seattle that his brother Archie had died there on the 6th October. He learned his daughter Martha was called, one year before his wife, two years ago his brother Neil in N. Dakota, and also his brother Norman in Michigan. Truly the stroke of the destroyer has been falling heavily and he and his brother John of Glenelg have the sincere sympathy of their fellows in the unwanted number of their griefs.

Archie, the youngest son, who has just died, was in his 47th year and leaves a widow and one son twenty years of age as chief mourners. The cause of death was apoplexy. It is 23 years since he left home last. He learnt his trade of framer with Mr. Geo. Simpson of Priceville, then went to Manitowish, Mich., as millwright there for some years. Later he went to Seattle as bridge superintendent for a Railway Co. and was in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake disaster and lost heavily. He then moved back to Seattle to make his permanent home and has died there as above.
