TOWN OPICS

Buy your flannel and wool blankets from Grant. Mr. Geo. Yires has sold his property to the C. P. R. for the sum of $1400.

The Women's Institute held their October meeting which was well attended. Mrs. J. Clark's, Varney, Papers were given by Mrs. Gray on "Thanksgiving." Mrs. McGie "The Books we should read."

EUGENIA TENNEL COMPLETED.—The Georgian Bay Power Company has completed their tunnel through the mountain at Eugenia Park. Work was begun on it in February of last year but the difficulties were such that it was completed only now.

CAUGHT, TRIED, SENTENCED.—These terms apply to Thomas A. Richardson who a month ago married an innocent O. Sound girl, his wife and three children living in the same town.

TRouble AT HOUSE OF REFUGE.—No small stir has been caused by the report of the Grand Jury on House of Refuge affairs, and Supt. Harness has come in for a good deal of harsh criticism.

The Issue in the Local Option Campaign.

By REV. WM. FARQUHARSON Since a petition signed by twenty-five per cent of the electors of Durham asking that a by-law prohibiting the retail sale of liquor within the corporation is being presented to the town council, it is evident that the campaign has begun in earnest.

It is needless to say that it does not hang on the character of the hotel keepers. Personally these men may be as worthy as their admirers sometimes assert, they may carry on their business as well as any other class of men placed in like positions would do it, but if so it only proves that the system under which their business is conducted is fundamentally unsound.

What then is the design of the local option by-law? It is simply the legal abolition of the retail trade in spirits and liquors. It is the closing up of the bar room, and the stopping of the supply of drinks in any room in the house.

It is thus evident that the question is rather one of public policy than of high moral principle. It is not an issue on the success of which you can say that drunkenness will cease. Men who want drink may send for it and may drink it to their own undoing.

Those who believe in prohibition will be blind if they do not give their full support to a measure which goes as far as that direction as the provincial powers will allow. Citizens who are not prohibitionists but who mourn the vile influence of the open drinking dens with their stalls and cubbyholes should unite their forces to make their influence felt.

sucks them with a power they are unable to withstand. Let the issue be clearly grasped and there need be no fear that the three-fifths majority will be secured and more.

FOUND ON STREET.—Spectacles in case. On a boy's suit and overcoat at S. R. Morlock's. A fall line of Turnbull's celebrated Underwear for women and children at Grant's.

HOLSTEIN HOTEL MAN FINED.—By just such practices as led to the sharp fine imposed on Thomas O'Neill, the cause of Local Option is generally being aroused to compel advertising, while licensed. When public opinion forbids license to deal in liquor it is to be expected that the license will be refused.

THE S. S. CONCERT IN ALLAN'S SCHOOL last Friday evening passed off very successfully. The children under the tuition of Miss Clara A. Jones contributed some pleasing music as did also Dr. Brown, Holstein, Wm Ramage, Thistle, Mead and Stirs and the local talent worthy of further development.

We refer to the situation the town is in just now in regard to the Cream Separator works at present standing idle, since the insolvency of the Farmers' Manufacturing and Supply Co. was announced.

There are, we believe, thousands of dollars worth of machinery and material there which would be of value if the works could be set a-going again, but which, if brought to a forced sale by creditors will be so much scrap iron.

Besides there are expert workmen here who may have to move, with families, to other parts, unless operation is resumed. The call for something to be done is urgent. We hope the local financiers will again meet the council with a well-digested scheme and trust the council may receive them in a generous spirit.

Obituary

JAMES BROWN. Thursday morning early this link with a past generation passed away at the ripe age of 82 years, over fifty of which he spent as a respected citizen of Durham.

Mr. Brown was born in the county of Fermanagh, Ireland, in 1825, and came to settled in the township of Wilmet, where he resided for the most of his life and where he bulked largely in public affairs. His last illness was brief, a breaking up of the system, the wheel of life being run down.

Very early in his residence here he took part in Glenelg civic life. Old records show that he was auditor in 1857 and one year being the late position of clerk of the township in 1890 and held it until 1894, 25 years in the working life of a public official.

For ten years back the deceased was assiduously waited on by his son Joseph. He was a man of most methodical and regular habits as to diet, sleep, etc., and to his care in this respect life. His wife pre-deceased him over 30 years, his son Tom 5 years, and his three in the little cemetery one mile east of Holstein.

Norman Kelsey Still another old townsman has fallen with the falling leaves in the person of Norman Kelsey, who died early Saturday morning last. For many years back he was a great sufferer from rheumatism and latterly this was added to by a cancer on the hand, which gave him great trouble and sapped his vitality until death came.

Death in the cases we have mentioned above, found his subjects ripe and ready for the change. Much more impressive and sad it is in cases where the mother is taken in the prime of life, leaving the care of children to the lonely husband and father. Mrs. Firth here to visit her mother in Glenelg and while there became a victim to pernicious anaemia, which carried her off on Friday last.

I. O. F. Entertains

Tuesday evening a rather thin audience assembled at the invitation of the local Court here of the I. O. F. to a lecture and concert that were both excellent in their way.

Quite unexpectedly Miss Rita Irwin was called on during the afternoon and secured as accompanist, and certainly did her part to perfection, winning high compliments from Mr. Mitchell. Inspector Campbell also gave an address along Forensic lines and Organizer Johnston thanked all in a neat speech.

The elections on Tuesday resulted in the election of Martin by over 300 majority. Beattie, conservative, was elected in London by over 1000, his opponent being a labor man. A conservative is again elected in E. Northumberland.
