GE COMPANY

int-Complain ers Are Warnto Shun St.

nother move ek Stove and its legal camby the Ameriagainst the ugh its coun-. C. Sullivan, a temporary cott.

nce the instito restrain Federation of il, its subors two million boycott and ing the busirequire seviony can be and on this unction is the District e Federation wember Sth. not issue te organizaof the com-Don't Patrons, pending dings begun

s filed with notice to Labor, a t to offend ng the Buck A similar lerald, of t local merroducts had unfair list. of notices ficial organ of Labor. a placed on resumably

result of ores of the routed out clad, were where they ring in the they had mores the ed twentyrms with hed them the school forced to the class

able arose

en to obey

to wear

itness in kely that. the York ht from ovember. eact time ny comes re to be inst the of vari-8150,200.

time this recently kly suped with the bar-

a rifle l there ion and of the

Sent to inue of le peni-Justice Willette. Mutual as confrat dead Jury a bank tion af-

hat Dr. t trout result

Shootagainst in the dentally on Woerter at nd that he True

Ellen O'Leary. After the early storms, ful? But it was the heavenly beauty of hours brought her to Howlett Hall where and laid her tired head upon her soft Ellen and her little family of the soul within that gave the wondrous she was received most affectionately by bosom when she was exhausted. And Ellen and her little family. They still charm to Maud's lovely face. She was lived at the rock-bound cottage on Silver Creek, and were supported by the produce of the fractional farm. Ellen O'l care was a supported by the passions. Her affections were quiet, profound and eternal. In self-reliance she found and eternal. In self-reliance she at the piano practicing her Italian music.

Mrs. Hunter, who took her at once into the sitting-room, where Miss Honoria, in her morning-dress of white muslin, sat at the piano practicing her Italian music. O'Leary was a very bad manager, or seemed rather diffident, and in selfrather no manager at all. She knew little, because she cared little at the little at the plant practicing ner station music.

The young lady arose with her usual dispitation for the plant practicing ner station music.

As Ellen v tle, because she cared little, about farming. Here was the lifeleng light at the lifeleng light and saw defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service of her friends, her resolution amballion and defense timid; but in the cause and service defense timid; but in the cause and service and a long-lost hope. So that the days flowgard of consequences, and her courage looked at her, a dainty, delicate, digniher was the lifelong listlesness of ounted to a total forgetfulness or disrefied little lady, and a strange pang shot looked at her, a dainty, delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty, delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, digniher stretch her feeble arms, and her courage looked at her, a dainty delicate, dignishe did not care. She never took the passionless, deliberate manner of profarm. If she could tell a field of wheat from a patch of potatoes, it was the exits quietude by the visit of Mr. Ipsy, who announced that Daniel Hunter was rational from a patch of potatoes, it was the exin her formal courtesy, Ellen clasped her in her arms and burst into tears. Mrs.

| her formal courtesy, Ellen clasped her in her arms and burst into tears. Mrs. | herself, and uttered the Ave Maria, for she thought it was an apparition of the blessed Madonna. from a patch of potatoes, it was the extent of the potatoes and potatoes are potatoes. The potatoes is the potatoes are potatoes and potatoes are potatoes are potatoes and potatoes are potatoes are potatoes. The potatoes are p certainly could not tell a field of wheat | permanently at Howlet Hall; also that

But for the invaluable presence and services of Big Len, the farm, and everything upon it, would probably have gone to the auctioneer's hammer! But Big Len was fidelity and skill combined. And, assisted by his strapping son, Little Len, faithfully worked the farm-such as it was, with a fractional field here, there and everywhere, broken up among the great politician's corrugated brow. —when I saw you, I—" had made a patch of arable soil,

Old Abishag was the cook, house-servant, spinner and knitter to the little establishment. And she, too, frequently added, by the works of her hands, a halfdozen pairs o fcoarse yarn socks, to be exchanged at the village shop for "two pounds of sugar, a pound of coffee and a quarter of a pound of tea," or else for "a pair of number seven girl's shoes, and a pair of number ten boy's."

Ellen's only epistolary correspondence was with Mrs. Hunter, with whom she exchanged a letter every month, and from whom she continually heard most satisfactory accounts of Honoriasatisfactory, except in one respect-that Honoria seemed to have forgotten that she had ever had any other parents than by his side and toyed with her ringlets, of whom received her with great corlegally and regularly adopted her. And his mind was far away. The lady sighed pared to take leave, resisting all Mrs. only daughter and heiress of the great Daniel Hunter. And she was the beauty, of his rest. Both are changed in these well and that she feared to leave there the pride, and the boast of all the sing- six years. Augusta's pale cheek is paler alone all night. Therefore Ellen bade ing and dancing schools, and all the than ever, and her countenance has a them all good-by, imprinted a passion-Queen of the May." But in consenting thus to Honoria's premature entrance into vanities, rivalries and selfishness of a juvenile fashionable world, Mrs. Hunter wrote that she had acted against her own better judgment, and that now, having seen the effect of these amusements upon the mird and manners of Honoria

Ellen had no neighbors—in fact, that ner, is also more majestic than ever be- ing tenderness, until they were refresh- were about a half dozen of teachers, each rugged mountainous district was very fore. sparsely settled, and the roads were so intolerably bad as to amount to a positive embargo upon social intercourse. The tax-gatherer, Mr. Ipsy, was her only visitor, and he came but once a year.

intelligent, as they were beautiful.

Her son, Falcon O'Leary, was a fine, He paused in his thoughts, and looked manly boy of thirteen years of age. He at her in the most perplexed, amused was tall and slender for his years, yet way, and then said: of firm, elastic frame, with nerves and "Why, you are mixing up past quesblack hair, and eagle eye of Norah. No that are dead and buried, and bills that and agile spring were in perfect unison. fess I cannot at present see any way But the countenance of the venerable pre-It was his delight to rise in the morning before the sun, and with his light "You know that nothing can be done the morning prayers were over, and the evergises of the school company of the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. Wou know that nothing can be done the morning prayers were over, and the evergises of the school company of the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. Sought to the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. Sought to the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. Sought to the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have been described in the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have been described in the control of the venerable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreboding. It have generable present see any way late was overcast, gloomy and foreb and the glory of nature; or simply chormed with some individual effect of light and shade upon mountain, valley or forest-trying to reproduce it upon paper, often throwing down his pencil with a tyro's disgust at his own awkwardness and failure, but oftener working on, inspired with the young artist's exquisite sense of genius, and the thrilling presentiment of future fame and

But Maud, "sweet Maud," sweeter served. now at ten years old than ever beforehow shall I paint for you her exquisite eyes filled with tears. Again 'e smiled: loveliness? The child of Daniel Hunter But Augusta raised the lock and pressand Augusta Percival-the child of gen- ed it to her lips instead, murmaring: fous and love, beauty and goodness, un- "Not for the world. I would not remove ited and blended in perfect harmony- one of them for the world. I love these weak and sickly.

Scott's Emulsion.

NOW:

entire body.

blacksmith.

he was going to build a church and school at the Summit.

CHAPTER XVI.

brain repose a little while?" murmured Honoria. I knew your father well and Maud's thoughts returned to healthful, Augusta, softly passing her fingers over loved him. I love Mrs. Hunter also—and ordinary life. arrival at Howlet Hall, and they occu- are very good, and I am very much that oranges and some fine apples, and sat that will draw persons to the church. pied their favorite, wainscoted sitting- tered, I am sure," said Miss Honoria, room. The furniture o fthis apartment haughtily, as she adjusted her slightly had been purposely left unchanged, and disordered dress. the room preserved its old-fashioned, sober, slumberous air. It was cool, did not recollect that at Honoria's age the superintendent, he said; and Mrs. ments. spring weather, and a fine wood fire she herself was just such an insolent. Daniel Hunter and Mrs. Lovel, the pret- About $90,000 is needed to put the glow of health to thousands of sufferers who glodly been testimony to that of Hunter sat before it in a large, stuffed, Mrs. Hunter rang the bell and ordered or two other ladies of the county, were on its feet, the buildings now in process feet. One of these is Mrs. Elizabeth Danto the eighteenth century. Augusta en- guest had taken some refresament, the tered, and came softly behind his chair, lady bade Honoria sit down to the piano and was stooping over him until her and sing for them. And the young lady, the brow, and muttered: "Will you rest now?"

hand clasped in his, watching the profound thoughtfulness of that noble countenance, and then she inquired, soft-

Ellen's children, nurtured under the se- "Now, what is it-the French question, vere but salutary discipline of poverty, the Sub-Treasury bill-what is it that seclusion and self-denial, were good and has pursued you even to this place, and will not let you rest."

sinews well strung for strength, agility tions and present questions in the most and grace. He inherited the gypsy skin, unacountable manner, my love -bills step upon the mountain was like his- are scarcely born. It was the French his flashing glance, quick, clear tones, question that occupied me then. I con-> rest-recover, and then in some healthful, hopeful, strong moment, the answer will ome to you like a sudden inspiration." As she said this she was passing her and he smiled and said:

SAME OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE

"Will you rest now? Will you rest? faltering voice: Will you let this overwrought, toil-worn You must please to excuse me, Miss faded the bright vision of the lady. And fowling-piece to range the mountains, in this matter before the next meeting sought to throw off the shadow from menced So Mr. Inst. to the chaptainey.

The Ladies' Humane Society of the refuse an ice cream? and return with a well-filled bag of of Congress; then why harass your mind his brow and spirits, but in vain; and game before the family were ready to with it? A problem that has racked the after dinner he requested an interview game before the family were ready to with it. A problem that has racked the sit down to breakfast. Or at noon to sit powers of Congress and the Cabinet for three months is not likely to find its so into the library and they sat down on Nevertheless, Mr. Ipsy took a New Teson some projecting point of rock, receiv- lution in the present exhausted state of opposite sides of a small writing-table, ing into his expanding soul the beauty your mind. Do not labor with it. Rest- the bishop with an ominous sigh and fingers lightly through his hair, and her eyes unconsciously fived upon the silvery threads. He saw, or felt her look, "No matter, love!-so that yours is beautiful portion, Augusta, and your beauty I have indeed wished to see pre-She sought his eyes, and her own what shall she be but divinely beauti- few grey hairs. Daniel, they are eloquent

A Boston schoolboy was tall.

His arms were soft and flabby.

The physician who had attended

To feel that boy's arm you

He didn't have a strong muscle in his

the family for thirty years prescribed would think he was apprenticed to a

ALL DRUGGISTS; BOG. AND $1.00.

ბტტტტტტტტტტტტტტტტტტტ

your life's greatness-they are sacred' ed the lock to her lips.

Ellen received an invitation from Mrs. night, scarcely allowing herself an Hunter and prepared to make her a visit. hour's needful rest in the twenty-four. She went by the shortest rouse, the Old Abishag forgot to swear, and prayed bridlepath and therefore took neither of instead. And Falconer learned a lighter the children with her, but only Little step and softer tone when he entered Len, mounted on a plough horse, as her her sick room.

sue. But Miss Hororia withdrew herself And Falconer, when he heard the seat. Mrs. Hunter instantly arose again, lovely lady's smiles and tones-under-the first to speak, albeit in a broken,

Ellen was cut to the heart. Poor Filen ringlets lay upon his cheek, as with never unwilling to display her inusical sweet, grave tenderness she smoothed his powers, complied very graciully, and sang several sweet songs, to the delignt of Ellen. Soon after this dinner was an-He smiled gravely, put his hand be- nounced. At the dinner table Ellen met hind him, and drew her around to a seat Daniel Hunter and Miss Letitia, both but in a thoughtful, abstracted manner; diality. Early in the afternoon Ellen precalmer and profounder beauty. But the ate kiss upon the haughty, unwilling lips change that has passed over Damel Hun- of Miss Honoria, received a warm, affec-

The lady sat by his side, with her installed in the parlor. The young couple lected around her. Among the teachers has been spent on churches in Canan-not a nook or corner in Canada where some people said, because, forsooth, both Mrs. Hunter had a large-sized square It has been decided that the next Eu- Williams' Pink Pills. On the word of other respect of moral, mental and Chris- shaded, save by the drooping black Marks at Venice is progressing rapidly, medicine dealers, or from the Dr. Wiltian worth. Mr. Lovel was greatly the ringlets. superior of his pretty, gentle, frivolous Mr. Ipsy, as superintendent, stood be- years for completion.

groan, Daniel Hunter in quiet expec-

"Does your memory serve you to recall the last occasion upon which we met, Mr. Hunter?" inquired Bishop S-Daniel Hunter reflected a moment, and then answered:

"Certainly, sir. It was upon the ocnot gray, it is no matter. You are my several other gentlemen, at the Execufor the reprieve of William O'Leary, convicted of the murder of Burke." "Yes, sir; and, Mr. Hunter, it is eleven years to-night since you refused to grant our petition for the reprieve of that "To what end, reverend sir, is that painful event recalled?" 'To the end, Mr. Hunter, I fear, that ou may regret your refusal more than you ever regretted any act of your life." "Be good enough to explain yourself,

"Heaven be pitiful, Daniel Hunter, so will. But when you have heard-listen, then. It is not two weeks since I was called to the deathbed of a man of the highest social position, who confessed, in the presence of myself and the Mayor of A-, that he was guilty of the murder of Burke, and the he was dying of remorse. He had killed Burke to avenge an insult offered to his sister; he had escaped and gone abroad instantly after the deed and, after remaining in Franc several years, had only recently returned to find out that an innocent man had been executed for his crime. His deposition was taken down, and he died in ten minutes after signing it."

Daniel Hunter was not a man to start or ejaculate. He heard this terrible annunciation, and lifted up his head, and his strong, massive face seemed turned to marble-and:

"God be merciful to human error!" he exclaimed; "for if the convict had been my own son, I would have done as I

CHAPTER XVII. In the meantime, at the Silver Creek farmhouse, little Maud lay ill. Ellen, on returning from Howlet Hall, had found her in a high fever, and had sent off to the Summit for the doctor. Her again she bowed her face and press- tive fever, threatening the brain. And all the family vied with each other in "I shall see them come with more phil- devoted, though profoundly quiet atophy than heretofore, dear," he als- tentions to the gentle little patient. Ellen watched by her bedside day and attendant. Ellen employed herself dur- And Maud, in her fevered dreams, ing the whole ride in trying to steady babbled sweetly of a beautiful lady, and strengthen her nerves for the inter- that led her by the hand through green view with her daughter, lest her agita- and shady woods and lawns, and who tion might excite the surprise and curi- gave her cold, sparkling water from fresh countenance irradiate with joy, to wel-"Honoria, this is Mrs. O'Leary, a dear come the vision of the sweet lady-so real seemed this vision to the sick child, with an offended air, and resumed her child babbling in the daytime of the took Ellen's hand and, pressing it of stood her visions-but somehow, even fectionately, led her to a seat upon the to him, they were invested with a sacred sofa. Ellen recovered herself and was mystery that awed him into silence. At last the crisis of Maud's illness > down by her bed and told her of the | The American Board of Commissioners for dedication at Easter, and the new fied of a legacy of $100,000 from the es-Sunday school that was to be opened tate of the late D. Willis James, the blood brings the ill, disheartened woman the same day. He himself was to be amount to be paid in three annual instalty wife of the young minister, and one Wesleyan East End Mission of London who gladly bear testimony to that ef-

Ipsy called at the cottage to know if urgently required. Hunter, prevailed over her scruples, and buildings in the foreign field. better than none at all, and that the terra cotta are to take their places. sect which had produced Mrs. Hunter | The British Church Missionary Society | gained strength, the distressing heart ter speaks of the fierce strife of political tionate one from Mrs. Hunter, and so out together to walk to the Summit. Punjab, China, Mauritius and Japan. are truly a marvellous medicine, and I ate a slight, hasty breakfast, and set Turkish Arabia, Persia, Southern India, twenty years. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills By the footpath the distance was short. Rev. J. E. Rattenbury has assumed cannot praise them enough." forehead is—or seems—greater than ever The family were preparing to receive coner and Maud had a delightful walk. founded 20 years ago by Rev. Hugh aches, loss of appetite, general weakby reason of the growing baldness of the a newly married pair—Mr. and Mrs. LoThey reached the Summit and entered Price Hughes in what is called the wickness, backaches, weariness and a host of upper portion, for his raven bair is fall- vel. And one lovely afternoon in April the church. The sexton conducted them edest section of the metropolis, and the other troubles are all the outcome of ing off, and here and there a silver the bride and groom arrived, and there upstairs into the spacious gallery, in man who superintends it can be no bad blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be anything but desirable, she should thread shines amid its darkness. Yet the were kisses, and congratulations, and which the Sunday school was kept. Here, weakling. countenance, if sadder, graver and ster- inquiries, and gentle attentions, and nurs- dispersed about in the gallery pews, ed from their journey, and comfortably with some eight or twelve pupils col-

were fair-haired and fairskinned, and pew beside the great organ. There were charistic Congress shall be held in West- your neighbor we ask you to try this so in this respect; though in every and the lady's beautiful face was unwife else had not Daniel Hunter called fore a large desk in the corner, doing The average attendance in the Sunday him to the pastoral care of his new something with pen and ink, and lightly schools of Massachusetts has dropped in kicking his neat boot toes together, and a year from 177,467 to 168,031, the de-On Thursday before Easter Bishop S twinkling his eyes and eyebrows, and crease being laid to the shifting popula- a lodge? - arrived at the Hall to solemnize the every little while sticking the pen be- tion. rights of dedication, and was received hind his ear, and flying off at a tangent Trinity Church, Halifax, has purchased with the utmost respect and cordiality. to hand a book to some pupil, or to the chapel which has been used by the menced. So Mr. Ipsy told them when First Universalist Church of Providence, Falconer walked up to his desk, made R. I., which has just started on its easy mark for the modern girl? tament out of his desk, and opened it and handed it to Maud, and told her to read for him, that he might test her abilities, and know in what class to place her.

(To be continued.) ----SURE AND SAFE.

Baby's Own Tablets is the best medicine in the world for the minor casion of your calling, in company with ailments of little ones, and the saftive Chamber in A-, with a petition | word for this-we give you the guaranest. We do not ask you to take our tee of a Government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate harmful drug. It is equally good the new born babe or the well grown child. It is a certain cure for all the minor ailments of childhood. Andre Tremblay, Sayabec, Quebec, says: "I have proved the value of Baby's Own Tablets as a cure for several of the troubles that afflict young children, including skin disease, indigestion and teething troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

A Deal in Bananas. (T. A. Daly, in Camolic Standard.) No like da skeeny olda man Dat com' to dees peanutta stan' To-day an' buy da wan banan'. He mak' me seeck! Eef evra customer ees go For maka treecks an' talka so Like heem, you bat my life, I no Gat reecha queecz.

Wal, dessa man he com' an' say : "How moocha for banan' to-day An' so I tell beem right away 'Eees two for fl'." "Oh, my, I mus' be gattin' deef Or you ees talka like da t'ief!" He say to me, an' look as eef He gons cry.

"Eees two for fi'," I say agen, He shak' hees head at me an' den He tal me : "Mak' eet fi' for ten And tak' da mon." "All right," I say, "I guess weell do," Den "FI' for ten ees wan for two." eH say. "here ees two cent for you, I tak' wan!"

He tak' da beeges' wan of all? Ha! what you theenka dat for gall? He ees so means man, so small, He mak' me seeck ! Bot evra customer ees go

 The Church Abroad.

IN THE MISSION FIELD.

The hop-picking season in England is over and the special church mission to the fields has returned.

The Students' Missionary League of Georgia is to have its second annual conference at Macon early next month. The Women's Baptist Home Mission Society has 2,936 auxiliaries in the States, of which 2,469 are for adults, the headquarters being in Chicago. The immense missionary exhibition be ing planned for next June in London by the London Missionary Society will be opened by King Edward. The greatest difficulty of missioaries in China is to find the teachers that are

The Episcopal Sisters of the Church, boats is always rough and on the Ewalwho have their centre at the Missionary ani, as the ship lay at anchor out in the Training Home at Upton Park, London, channel, the nights were intensely warm.

Uganda is likely to be the mission field it is the only way practical as no wharf for all Africa, as there are 57,000 mem- could withstand the lashing of the waves bers of the Church of England there caused by the mad fury of the winds now, and they are supplying workers for during winter. At that season it is ofthe rest of the continent.

The East London church fund, in the rockey coast of Molokai. -Mrs. C. which the Bishop of London is especially R. Miller in Leslie's Weekly. interested, is trying to raise $60,000 bepassed. The fever waned, and with it fore the end of the year to keep up its

The Union Presbyterian Church of Den ver believes that the best mission work Mr. Bill Ipsy came over to see the is done by having the edifice open at all Made Well and Strong by Dr. Wil-It was the first evening after their "Pray, do not mention it, madam. You little convalescent, and brought her some that will draw persons to the abundance. beautiful new church that was all ready for foreign missions has just been noti-the children were not to be allowed to The New England branch of the Wo- my heart would palpitate so violently go to Sunday school. The children were very anxious to go—and their entreaties, joined to Mr. Ipsy's arguments, and its work last year $46,576, besides a be- instead of improving I lost strength, and Ellen's secret inclination to oblige Mrs. quest of $37,700 for the erection of school my weight decreased from one hundred she afterward confessed it as a sin, for sion stations in England constructed of the doctors' treatment and try Dr. Wilshe was a Catholic), that there was no corrugated iron are called, are hereafter liams' Pink Pills. I am glad I did so, and wondered what "question" had folHunter's persuasions to stay by saying hood—that the Protestant Church was small buildings of cement covered with could see a marked improvement in my

has just sent out two parties, about 175 palpitation ceased and at the end of two So the next Sunday, very early in the in all, part going to Africa, Palestine, months I was fully restored to health morning. Falconer and Maud got ready, Northern and Western India, the rest to and felt better than I had for the past

GENERAL CHURCH NOTES.

were a pretty, innocent-looking pair of were Mrs. Daniel Hunter and Mrs. daigua, N. Y., a town of but a few thon- you will not find some grateful person both about the same height, Mr. Lovel about a dozen little girls around her. minster Cathedral in England some time medicine if you are weak, ailing or but will probably require another two liams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

during its existence nearly $31,000. Because of certain alterations in the musical part of the service made by Rev. J. G. Adderley at St. Saviour's Church, near Birmingham, England, the whole choir has gone on strike. we wish we'd never posted?

With $155,000 already expended for the preservation of Winchester Cathedral in England, it is found that at least $175,000 more will be needed, and until this is secured the work has been stopped. Catholics in China now number about 2,250,000, as compared with less than 500,000 in 1880; in Indo-China they have increased in that time from 300,000 to few single ladies object to embark? 1,000,000, and in Japan 50,000 have been That you hardly ever see a policeman added to the four that there were 25 bother anyone larger than himself?

years ago. Rev. Davis Brook, of the new United lights and they make the home bright-Methodist Church of England, has been er? selected as president of the National That it's easier for some men to Britain has steadily decreased for Council of Evangelistic Free Churches make love than it is to make a living? in successior to Rev. John Watson, better known as Ian Maclaren, who died shortly terly than when she weeps for spite? after being elected to the position.

Cruelty to Animals in Hawaii. Afterward I was taken to Kawaihae. where I saw cattle loaded in a most cruel manner. It was a little after six o'clock when I landed on the beach among a lot of cowboys and half-naked natives. The cattle were corralled under the trees, and when one was ready to be taken aboard a rope was tied about its ing? horns, A cowboy on horseback then rode into the surf, dragging the frightened steer into the water. The rope was tossed ming, and he in turn carried it to the men waiting in a small boat. There men pulled the animal, which must now swim or drown, to the boat and tied him by the horns to its side. After eight steers had been tied up in this manner the engine on the steamer was set to work and the boat pulled alongside by means of a rope. The cattle were then hoisted on board by the use of a belly-band. The method of handling these dumb animals is brutal, and while the men seem to use as much care as possible in moving them about, their piteous bellowing caused by fear made as pathetic a scene as I have ever witnessed. Thousands are shipped every year, and it seems that to a half-naked native who was swim-some more human method of putting them aboard might be adopted. The Japanese sailor on these ships is said to be the best for keeping the ship clean, while the native excels in handling the boats, especially in rough water. The Hawaiian is a born swimmer, and native boys will follow these vessels for so much needed, over 1,000 schools being ing Honolulu, swimming alongside and now without instructors of the right diving for coins thrown overboard by the travelers. The passage on these are to occupy a building that has been a Freighting in this way is necessarily expensive, but those in authority say that

SUFFERING WOMEN

liams' Pink Pills.

of erection threatening to be a crushing ham, of Welland, Ont., who says: "For In the course of the next week, Mr. burden, despite the fact that they are more than a year I was greatly run down. I had sickening headaches and she consented, saying to herself (though | "Tin tabernacles," as many of the mis-

> make new, rich, red blood-the pure run down. The pills are sold at 50

> > DO YOU KNOW-

That all odd fellows do not belong to That a widow who wouldn't flirt is

Government garrison, it having been de-That you can't meet a girl who will

That a faint heart is considered an That even a blind man can find trouble without much difficulty? That if you kiss a pretty girl once you'll feel hungry for more? That we sometimes write love letters

That the girl that cannot sing and will sing ought to be muzzled? That nothing costs more than things we try to get for nothing? That it's only the pretty women at a show who will remove their hats? That courtship is a vessel in which

That a woman never weeps more bit-That the most timid girls have a way that a bargain is a bargain unless she

That smiles cost less than electric

That whenever a man angles for a pretty girl he baits his hook with flat- restricting production. It thinks that That the "better" half, whichever it Perhaps they do. is, should build the fires in the morn-

That truth is better than falsehood, but false teeth are better than no teeth at all? That about the second time you meet a woman she begins to tell you her something useful to make something ornamental? That no matter what a girl's political That you hardly ever can tackle a

That a woman enjoys ripping up boarding house steak which is "ten-

But the automobile owners are not yet sacrificing their machines to buy Thanksgiving turkeys, we are told, will be plentiful and cheap. Something be thankful for.

New York is adopting the same style of street car as Montreal, with one door for ingress and one for exit. It is said to avoid much confusion.

----Wasn't it enough that butter and eggs and milk and such luxuries should rise in prices, without taxing us more on beer and whiskey and such necessaries?

---Japan has just launched from its government yards the 14,620-ton cruiser, the Kurama, the most powerful vessel of its class. Japan is determined to maintain her naval prestige.

Mayor Schmitz, of San Francisco, convicted of accepting bribes, loses his right of appeal by an attorney's neglect, and must don the stripes. And probably no suit better fits his case.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company is to electrify its entire system as rapidly as the change can economically be made, Every dose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills The Pittsburg terminals have already spent on them in five years.

> A majority of the principles of New York schools favor the restoration of corporal punishment in the schools. The reign of namby-pambyism may be pass-

The suspension of the great Knickerbocker Trust Co., of New York, and the failure of another $6,000,000 institution go to show that business is carried on largely on confidence, and that those who would destroy that basis are ene-

The Canadian Trade Review is of opinion that the breadstuffs market is too bullish, and that there is danger of the too venturesome speculator being ambushed. In other words, it thinks care should be exercised in building on excessive prices, not believing them to be warranted by the crops and demand,

The Hague conference was not altogether a failure. The restauarnt keepblood does the rest. That is why these ers and caterers furnished more than half a million dollars' worth of food and drink to the delegates. The florists also did well. The telegraph and cable companies received $1,125,360 for transmitting messages from delegates to Governments and vice versa. Other business people profited in a lesser degree, Perhaps it is just as well that Corea as a nation should pass. When a nation reaches the point Corea reached, as shown by its budget, it is time for a change. Think of $1,103,359 for the imperial privy purse and $424 for public works; $1,000,000 for the funeral of the public schools in the country outside the capital; $5,000,000 for what was called the army, $450,604 for the annual expense of keeping in commission one old gunboat which constituted the whole navy of the country, and an expenditure of about $250,000 for the palace guard. Japan will at least give the people something for the taxation levied. It may be Egypt over again.

The Railway News and Commercial Traveller differs with Canon Welch as to the cause of the prevalence of drinking in Canada. The Canon, according to our contemporary, put the blame for the increase in the drinking habits of the people on the immigrants who came from the old country. This, it declares, to be incorrect, claiming that drinking in Great years. If this was not the case it asks, why is it that there is an announced surplus of 118 millions of of hinting at supper after the theatre? Scotch whiskey in Scotland, enough That you can't convince a woman to stock the market for four years, and it is proposed that certain distillers close down with the view of the Canadians drink their own share.

An excellent work on The Fruits of Ontario has just been issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, It deals with all the principal fruits which interest Ontario horticulturists, and will prove of much interest to growers. Not only will it help to the selection of good varieties to plant, but much information creed may be, she always wants pro- is furnished as to the care and culture of orchards, and detailed statistics of the extent of the industry are given. It may astonish many to learn that Ontario That no matter how good a church- orchardists have no fewer than 14,039,156 man he may be, there is not one in a trees, 10,373,806 of which are bearing, producing 15,127,790 bushels of fruit, That a man who was demonstrating valued at $4,863.345, and that 266,015 to a crowd that there was no such acres are devoted to orenard culture. thing as hydrophobia was the first to climb up a lamp-post when a small yellow dog came running down the 4,000,000 in the number of trees planted