HAZERS TURN TO DENTISTRY. Threaten Worse Things.

Rockland, Mich., Nov. (-A new variety of hazing is reported here, where boys in the public schools have been accused of pulling the teeth of others and threatening them with the loss of their tongues. The latter threat has not been taken seriously, but their appears to be good proof that the terth-pulling has been practised. Those who have suffered from it are either unwilling to betray or fear to tell on the perpetrators. One of the victims is said to be in a serious condition, having caught cold in his lacerated jaws. Parents of the victims are promising prosecution if they can learn who the guilty ones are, while authorities of the schools are investigating and also promise action.
