HAVE YOU DEFECTIVE EYESIGHT?

Most people, you included perhaps, are extremely negligent to their eyes. This is because the public have literally no idea of the number and variety of eye defects. They know in a general way of near sight, far sight, old sight, squint, etc., and many with one or other of these defects foolishly think it only necessary to pick out at random from a number of Spectacles a pair that suits. Alas! many of those selected in this way that seem to suit exactly, prove most injurious and cause permanent injury. The fact is that optical defects occur in such varying degrees that only the competent eyesight specialist with a complete eye testing equipment, such as I possess, is qualified to discover the exact nature and degree of the trouble and properly correct it. If the glasses you now wear are not right do not neglect the opportunity of having them properly attended to.

Pain in, over the back of the eye, granulated eyelids, inflammation, watery eyes, pain in the temples (supposed neuralgia) and cross-eye. If so it will cost you nothing to consult me. If you require glasses, I will frankly say so

REMEMBER I make no charge for examination whether you purchase glasses or not.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

That White Elephant.

M. R. Editor:

In your last issue is a reply to my last letter, the writer of which says that we are told, or in other words I told them, that the meeting called to discuss the Separator works question turned out a fizzle and that at another meeting a proposition made at the request of company No. 2, was embodied in a resolution and carried unanimously. If citizen, the writer of the letter, will again look at mine, he will see that I made no such statement regarding Com. No. 2; what I did say, and I now speak from memory, is that a member of the council made a proposition or an offer for the property, (I don't know which way you would put it) and as I have already said those terms were accepted. He did not say who had authorized him to make those terms, I didn't ask him. I was afraid to, for their has been some secret work in connection with the business all through so I said nothing and naturally came to the conclusion that he was asked to do so by some responsible party and for anything I know, Citizen, the writer of the letter, may be that party and for argument's sake let us just say that he is the very man.

The man who authorized that member of the board to make that offer and he must have known the offer was accepted and knowing that why did he not come as any sensible business man would do and close the deal.

Or if he thought he had made too big an offer why not put in an appearance and have it made less? But no, there is a certain amount of ceremony to be gone through with in connection with the purchase which we were expected to wait upon them and not having sense enough to know that the sale of the property was I suppose lost through our ignorance which I am very sorry for indeed. Had I but known or dreamed for a minute that the waiting upon them would have done any good I should have gone and waited and waited and waited until the white elephant and all the menagerie were theirs. In my letter Mr. Editor, I told you we had never got an offer for the property, "Citizen" don't contradict it, which I think is ample proof of the correctness of the statement and still I am sometimes asked upon the street why we do not have a sale and get the place a-moving.

Now Mr Editor I will just change the subject for a little while and tell you what your fellow tradesman, the Editor of the Chronicle a few days ago told me. He was on one side of the street and I upon the other and at the top of his voice called out to me that he was going to borrow a gun and I was the first of the Durham Council who was going to get the contents of it and I fancy Tom Swallow would come next. "Ah Tam, ah Tam, thou'll get thy firing." Had the street not been between us I would have asked him the cause of so severe a sentence. However shortly after I got it from another source; I was told there was a good many charges against us but the two principal ones were for turning the main street of the town into a mud hole and the other for turning the Clean Separator into a white elephant. Now if friend Irwin draws a bead upon poor Tam he will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that he has not shot an innocent man as Tam is one of the three responsible for the hole. Mr. Irwin is a man of wisdom and any amount of good sound common sense and after hearing both sides of the story, I think will not riddle poor Bob, but will free him from all responsibility in having the mud, talked of white elephant upon our hands. R. COCHRANE.
