WHITSETT-LAMB

It would hardly be correct to say that Danforth was surprised to hear of the wedding of Dr. Whitsett and Miss Margaret Lamb which occurred at the Great Northern Hotel, Chicago, Monday, as all appearances indicated that the affair was about due. The wedding was a very quiet one, only a very few of the nearest friends of the happy couple witnessing the ceremony. The Rev. Stachling spoke the words that made two lives as one. Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett returned to Danforth on the late train Monday night and are domiciled in the cosy flat they have been so industriously fitting up for the past two weeks. Neither of the newly weds is a stranger in this locality, the doctor having an enviable reputation as a successful practitioner and Miss Lamb, through her care of the sick, has made a place for herself in many hearts and homes. The Herald joins with a host of friends in wishing Dr. and Mrs. Whitsett a long, happy and prosperous life.

—Danforth Herald, Ill.

(Mrs. Whitsett was a daughter of the late George Lamb of North Egremont, is a relative of the McKechnie's here and a sister of Mr. David Lamb, Bentinck. She was a pupil of the writer in his teaching days and we extend congratulations. —Ed.)

International Stock Food

A Challenge

It has been reported there is one opponent in business who is continually running down International Stock Food, in order to sell what stock food he has. Not satisfied with that, he has been wanting to bet with some of my customers that I did not cure And. Picken's two horses when they were sick. I am not in the habit of betting but to satisfy him, if he, or any of his friends, will put $50.00 in either of the Editor's hands, I will put in the same amount, and prove that he has been telling falsehoods; the winning amount to be divided between the five churches in Durham.

"Dan Patch" 155 1/2, the world's greatest harness horse, is fed every day on International Stock Food.

"Kelvin," who was purchased by Mr. Ambrose Wood, of Toronto for $95 was fed twice a day for two years on International Stock Food. This was previous to winning his first race—The King's Plate—on May 18, 1907, which amounted to $5000, then going to Montreal and beating all the crack-jacks of America.

May 20, 1907 International Stock Food Co. Toronto Dear Sirs—This is to certify that "Kelvin" winner of the King's Plate 1907, has been fed on International Stock Food twice a day for the last two years.
