CRUSHED BY FALLING ICE.

Long Expected Accident Beside Barrie Postoffice.

Barrie despatch: At last the long expected has happened, when a citizen, Angus McPherson, was very seriously injured this afternoon by ice falling from the roof of the post office. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and hurried to the hospital, where every effort is being made to revive him. This building was erected in 1884, and has ever since been a considerable source of anxiety to the local officials, While the crowd was awaiting the removal of Mr. McPherson, another lot of snow came crushing from the roof, but luckily no one was injured. Mr. McPherson is a Canadian, unmarried, and belongs to Beaverton. He was a foreman in the lumber camps,
