Several automatists were concerned in the tests, the most notable being Mrs. Piper and Mrs. Verrall. Sir Oliver described the former as one whose tame spread to all lands and who had been under strict supervision and competent management for the greater part of her physical life. Mrs. Verrall he designated as "one of our sancet and acutest investigators." Referring to what happened at the seances, Sir Oliver said: "The most inportant set of phenomena are those of automatic writing and talking, and what do we find? We find that the late Edmund Gurney, the late Richard Hodgson and the late F. W. H. Not easily or early do we make this admission. In spite of long conversations with what purports to be the surviving intelligence of these friends and investigators we were by no means convinced of their identity by mere general conversation even when it was of a friendly and intimate character such as in ordinary case would have been considered amply sufficient for identification of friends speaking, eay through the telephone or typewriter. DANGEROUS ANARCHIST HAS FLED MRS. ANGELINA ANSELONE AC. QUITTED IN SECOND TRIAL.

> Fiery Plea Sways Jury-Defendant's Lawyer Wins Quick Verdict by Appeal to Statute Not in Books.

> Chicago, Feb. 3.—The "unwritten law" was upheld in the second trial of Mrs. Angelina Anselone for the murder of Philip Ferreo, who, it is alleged, pursued her with his attentions after he nad succeeded in turning her husband

In the former trial a jury delicerated all night and then convicted her, and she was sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. Only eighteen minutes were required yesterday for the jury to find her not guilty.

Judge Windes anticipated the verdict apparently, when, just before it was announced, he stated from the bench that partively small majority of 49. Assistant District Attorney John T. Fleming, who prosecuted the case, was not sorry, either, because, when privately questioned upon the probable character of the verdict, he said it ought to be acquittal.

Barasa Makes Fiery Address.

The outcome of the case, it is said was due largely to the address of Attorney Bernard P. Barasa. He attacked the methods of the police and those of the State's attorney, and laid great stress upon the fact that the defendant was a good woman and merely was protecting her honor.

Alexander Locashio, a special officer for the law department of the city attorney's office, was an important witness for the defence. Locashio was a regular city patrolman when the crime was comitted last August, and testified he then was examined by the State's attorney, but was not called as a witness because he could not give testimony favorable to the prosecution.

"This woman in the presence of he husband, threatened to kill this man," began Attorney Fleming. "She went out for that purpose and purchased a One of the men engaged to work in revolver. Finally she saw him coming down opinion that the Czar cares nothing for the alley, slipped downstairs, and lay in wait for him and shot him as he passed unaware. Many of these foreigners are of good behavior in their native land, but believe this is a free country, where they can do as they please."

Defends Her "Right to Kill."

"You have the right to kill any man or woman who comes into your family to break it up," said Attorney Barasa. "She was not a champagne imbiber, not a chorus girl, nobody's mistress, but a wrecker of homes, after poisoning the mind of her husband against her, believthat she was forced to kill him.
