S. F. MORLOCK

Hopeville

In our last week's report, we mentioned of the serious illness of Mrs Archibald McVicker, not thinking that death would take her before our letter left here. She died on Monday morning, 13th, at 5 a. m. and was buried on Wednesday, the 15th, at the Explan church, the Rev Mr MacInnes and the Rev Mr Gibson officiating at the house and church. Mrs McVicker's maiden name was Jane Willshire, oldest daughter of the late Geo Willshire, who came into Proton from the neighborhood of Hamilton, over 50 years ago, with his family, when Proton was a wilderness and squatted on the land that he lived and died upon and now owned by his sons. Mrs McVicker was an industrious, careful person, highly respected. Her illness did not last long, although she had been delicate for some time. She had been a faithful nurse to her husband, who had been sick nearly all winter, but is now out of danger. Mrs McVicker had passed her 72nd year and she leaves to mourn her departure, her husband, one son George a farmer, her two daughters, former's wives, Mrs Williams Mills and Mrs Thomas Parker, a number of grand children, four brothers living here, all farmers, a number of sisters and other relations. The funeral was large, although the roads were bad. The Rev Mr and Mrs Gibson took a trip to Toronto to spend the Easter holidays. The medicine show man and his wife have gone from here to Cedarville to cure all the people there and get a little of their money in return. As we write on Monday morning a heavy fall of snow is coming.

Priceville

Good Friday and Easter Sunday past. Lots of eggs consumed but for our individual part we didn't indulge to any greater extent than any other day. Weather keeping cool and winter garments are in use. Ploughing was the general order with some during the past week, especially those that didn't do much last fall. No seeding done yet, but if the weather continues favorable, probably some will be done this week. Lots of snow banks on our highways yet but traffic is fairly passable on the most of our leading roads.

The Canadian Band strikes up their feeble notes generally after dark, but all their musical talent are not yet fully developed.

On this Monday morning, the 20th April, there is about 3 inches of snow and has the appearance of having more before it is done. The North West must be having a snow storm and the final end of it extended as far as Priceville, for we cannot touch for its termination any further than we can view with the naked eye. However we hope that a few hours of the warmth of the glorious sun will make it disappear faster than it came, and as we heard an old Scotch lady say in Gaelic "Faibh gun tighbean air" or may it go to stay away.

Some have made maple syrup, but as sugar bush is not so plentiful as in olden times there was only a limited quantity made. It is said that stolen water is sweeter, but taffy made from stolen sap is sweeter, at least those who indulged one night recently in helping themselves from the contents of a barrelful of sap left over night at one of our neighbor's sugar camps, which they converted into taffy during the night. The lads thought it fine fun but we be unto them if the proprietor's slumbers were disturbed by the cracking of his cedar rails, which they applied for fuel was heard. Then their laughter would be turned to mourning and the sweetness of the taffy would have lost its flavor. Make good Willie's rails boys and your sins will be pardoned.

The Revs Berry and Matheson continue holding cottage union prayer meetings weekly in town and country, which generally are well attended.

Our preachers preached sermons suitable for Easter last Sunday, accompanied by suitable hymns for the occasion.

Our teachers are enjoying a week's holidays during this week, which we hope they will enjoy in a different manner from the close confinement of school teaching.

The new station house built in this town during winter is a fine structure and would do credit to any town larger than Priceville.

Mr Murchie is this week engaged in loading the railroad truck, such as wheat, shrapers and other things used while building the road. Mr Murchie has a contract of building a canal somewhere east of town.

The C. P. R. Company is busy during the past week ballasting the road from here to Durham. The Company has bought 10 acres more from Mr John McArthur, in the Glen, for graveling purposes, which they will apply east and west on the road.

No damages done by water freshets this Spring, although some four or five months ago of bridges and mill dams being in danger of being taken away. The new bridge on the town line north of our town, is a good one, made in the latest style of good substantial materials.

Mr John McDougall, of the Asylum Staff, Toronto, visited friends in this part a week ago and returned again to his duties.

Mr Neil McConnel, of Durham, was on a business trip in connection with his agency, on the South Line, one day last week.

Wm McLeod, Jr. and one of the Clark boys, Dromore, are putting in Wm McLeod's, Sr. crop this Spring at Top Cliff.

Mr John McQuarrie and son, north line Glenelg, are preparing for building a large frame barn next summer. They have all the timber out and lumber made.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Malcolm McDonald, of Toronto, but once a resident of this place, as many will remember Malcolm as a good citizen, who was well posted in matters generally, relating to church or politics and we vouch the sentiments of all who knew him in sending their condolence to the widow and family, brothers and sisters, in their sad bereavement.

Mr Wm Conkey's sale to-day, Monday, the 20th inst, went fairly well under the command of Auctioneer McPhail.

A number of aged people are complaining, but expected to get better, but generally old age and sickness don't agree.

Mr and Mrs David McKechnie, of Owen Sound, are visiting at their uncle's, the McKechnie's, south line, at present.

Mrs Batters and son, Dr Atkinson, write that they arrived safely to Vancouver. Their many friends here wish them prosperity in their new home in B. C.

Messrs Hector and Donald McKinnon are spending their Easter holidays at home. They are attending the Collegiate Institute, Owen Sound, and will be returning again next week.

Mr Alex McDonald, of Toronto, paid a flying visit to see friends at Priceville and returned again this Monday afternoon, 20th inst.

Mr Jas McDonald, Aberdeen, attended his uncle's funeral, the late John McDonald, of Boothville.

Died on the 7th April, at his home on the 21st on Egremont, Mr John McDonald, at the good age of nearly 90 years. Mr McDonald was one of the pioneers of Egremont, coming there when there was no road but a zig zag one through the bush, about fifty-five years ago. He was a man who was highly respected, a good and obliging neighbor, a good church man when able to attend, but being deprived of his hearing for a long time, it was quite a hindrance to him from attending worship of late years. He was buried in Priceville cemetery, Rev Mr Matheson, his pastor, officiating.

While working at Harrison's saw-mill at Boothville on Monday last, Chas McDonald met with a painful accident by coming in contact with the saw, inflicting a large gash in his arm just at the elbow. The young man was driven out to Priceville by Mr Harrison and Dr Dixou put ten stitches in the wound. The young man, who is lying in the yard at Neil McKinnon's, doing as well as could be expected and probably will be around to his home, South Glenelg, this Tuesday afternoon.

Aberdeen.

Spring is here at last. How pleasant to get our feet on solid earth again, after the long and dreary winter. Surely that Welbeck ground bog has got about to nibble a little grass by this time, but I expect that whole thing was a yarn. Try again Welbeck.

We welcome Mr Thos Wilson back in our midst again, having rented the Canton farm and has been busy ploughing in the last week. We wish him a bountiful harvest.

Mr Lorn Clark swapped a horse with Jim Ewen last week. Lorn no doubt thinks he has the best horse.

Mr George Miller is still living like Robinson Crusoe. I am monarch of all I survey, my right hand there is none to dispute, a bachelor happy and gay, Oh man but Georgie is cute.

By the appearance of things, Mr John Clark is about establishing a wood yard at his residence, no doubt preparing for another close winter.

Mr David Lamb has also begun ploughing some time ago. We understand he is contemplating building himself a new residence in the near future, but what encouragement to do so when no sooner it is finished than it is assessed.

We notice that Mr Neil Clark and son drive 'Dexter' under a brand new silver mounted harness lately. Mr Dan Campbell says hogs should be $10 per cwt. to near pay for what his 'Tamworths' have eaten during the past winter.

I have heard it said that Mr John Lunny can sit down and look at work, but if he can't think it is after it is finished, as his splendid water-works prove.

Mr Alex Hay had rather a stinging experience last week, having occasion to drive a nail with his hammer, he carelessly looked over his gasses and down comes the hammer on the nail, but 'Crickets' it was the nail of his thumb; mon, but it did sting.

Mr Wm McCracken, blacksmith, sold a valuable mare for a handsome sum to a Dornoch man last week.

Hopeville, don't you think that was a silly old fellow to shovel out that load of snow when it was already covered with sawdust for him? Why did he not back it into the shed? How nice to have to shovel with about the 12th of July. Did that big young chap see his girl since, or did the old man's anger melt away like his own load of snow by this time? Let us know soon.

I am still laughing, but it is now about that Ferguson fellow who lost the back of his cutter and the two girls and nothing to be seen as far as he could see behind. Ha! Ha! laughing yet.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir;

Kindly allow me to correct a statement made by your Hopeville correspondent in last week's paper is incorrect as the young man he called smart Alex that went to the Beer Street farmer for his best girl did not go away without her nor get called any bad names nor told to leave the premises. The farmer used a few large words but smart Alex laughed them off as it was a joke.

Yours &c. SMART ALEX.

We read, "Here's to our wives, They fill our lives, Like busy bees, with honey; They ease our shocks, They darn our socks, And spend most all our money."
