REVOLT IN COREA.

PRACTICALLY THE WHOLE COUNTRY HAS RISEN.

Un-armed Natives Slaughtered in Battle—Over a Hundred Killed in Three Fights With Japanese Troops—Many Wounded.

Shanghai, April 20.—Reliable reports reveal appalling conditions in Corea. The movement against the Japanese is universal, and there have been sanguinary reprisals. Practically the whole country has risen against Japanese rule, which barely exists outside Seoul and the main coast ports. Parties of a few miles inland are constantly cut off, stopping developments in the interior. Even the gates of Seoul are now guarded by strong forces, while the Corea are not allowed to cross the river after 6 o'clock in the evening.

Details of fighting are suppressed in Corea's newspapers, but it is admitted the Japanese aggressive attitude against the ill-armed natives, with results something resembling massacres.

Three recent instances are given. In the first, there were twenty-four Koreans killed and seven wounded; in the second, thirty-four killed and none wounded; in the third, fifty-five killed and fifty-four wounded, while the Japanese casualties were only one killed and none wounded.

In two hours' fighting the Japanese in the garrison town of Machun repelled the Koreans with severe losses on both sides.

It is almost a year now since the last of the Japanese aggression in Corea. Last spring there were serious riots in the capital. The streets of Seoul were filled with Japanese troops, and some heavy fighting took place about the Imperial palace.
