Obituary

Mrs. AND. McILVRIDE, Sr. Thursday last, 30 April, there passed away at the home of her son Donald, in Normanby, this well-known lady, one of the pioneers of the district, and a warm-hearted mother, neighbor and friend. She was buried on Saturday last, the whole neighborhood for miles around turning out to pay the last respects in death to one who was warmly loved in life.

The end came somewhat suddenly. Two weeks before the day of her funeral she was in Durham, not feeling well it is true, for since the shock of her accident about a year ago when she fell and broke her arm, she had never been so well as usual. Her buoyant spirit kept her up however, until this last time, for, on getting home she took to bed and gradually sank, the thread of life getting weaker and weaker till it snapped on Thursday morning. She never lost consciousness until the very last, her mother heart still going out to her scattered children, and she passed to her reward in the arms of her eldest daughter, Flora, (Mrs. Ross), who had been with her about a week, and who, jointly with her brother Donald and his wife rendered every filial assistance.

Mrs. McIlvride was born about 74 years ago, in Puslinch, near Guelph, and in the early 50's of last century was married to her husband, who died about 8 years since. They moved at once into "the bush," and were residents of Normanby the rest of their lives. To them were born eleven children, of whom ten remain one son, Robert, almost in young manhood, having over 20 years ago. The six sons are James, Orchard, Wm. and Andrew in Alberta, Peter in Manitoba, Alexander in Brit. Columbia, and Donald on the homestead. The daughters are Mrs. Ross, Holyrood, Mrs. Chas. Gray (Maggie), in Sask., Mrs. Noble (Grace), near Guelph and Mrs. Lane, (Jessie), in Brandon. When the end was seen approaching Grace and Jessie were sent for, but were too late to see her in life. Mrs. Lane sent a pathetic telegram "Tell mother I am coming," but Death was swifter than the wire.

These will all deeply mourn. Mrs. Gray left only a few weeks ago and will feel it bitterly. Besides the immediate family deceased leaves five brothers, William and Alex. Dunn, St. Joseph's Island, John, in Berlin, James and Robert in a Western State. Her only sister lives in Oregon, and plans had been made that she was coming home this summer and the two would visit St. Joseph's together, but Deceased was a mother in Israel, strongly attached, as was her husband, to the Presbyterian faith. She was a ministering angel in sickness as many can testify and her memory will long remain green.

Rev. Mr. Kendall conducted impressive services, himself just home from burying his mother, and the pall-bearers were, Colin Blythe, John Marshall, James Watson, Robert Morice, David Leith, Wm. Allan.

Rev. L. W. Thom, of Waldemar, has accepted a position under Mr. Kelo, of Toronto, in which he will have care of the destitute children in the county of Perth. He will reside in Stratford where there will be a shelter for children. The salary is $800 a year.

Rev. D. C. Hossack is pondering these bright days on the fact that this is a world of change. When he wrote his first "open letter," some time ago, The Globe would not allow him to play in its back yard and drove him forth with jeers and naughty names. Now that he has written a second "open letter," The Globe receives him with open arms and establishes him in its front parlor. But the News! Alas, why are these things thus?—Presbyterian.

Dr. Seath's new scheme of allowing students to enter the university on the recommendation of their teachers instead of by examinations, was also, deservedly denounced at the Ontario Educational Association. Dr. Pyne, the incapable Minister of Education, has been letting a lot of silly fads be palmed off on him under the impression that they are real scholarly ideas.—Che-lov Enterprise.

There is looming up somewhat of a passenger rate war between the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway about June 15th. On that date the C. P. R. will operate its own lines to North Bay over the Sudbury branch. It means that if the two roads do not reach an agreement before that date, the G. T. R. is likely to divert its Northwest traffic by way of Chicago, instead of by North Bay. The present rate to Winnipeg by North Bay is $21 from Kingston west. The rate by way of Chicago is $26.45. The fight would be for the business, should the G. T. R. meet the $21 by way of Chicago.—Toronto Telegram.

Summer Millinery

We beg to announce to our many customers that we are preparing to make a grand display of Summer Millinery. We will spend three days in the Queen City looking up the new ideas in Summer hats. There is always something new in Millinery and that is why we are making a special trip to Toronto to get the latest in ideas and materials. We always keep a handsome lot of dress and semi dress hats in black and a large stock of children's and Misses' hats.
