Priceville

Summer is beginning to make its appearance in spite of all the backward weather we had during spring. Early sown grain is growing nicely and has a healthy look. The pastures and meadows are also making good progress and if frosts keep away from this time we may look for good meadows. Low lands are beginning to get somewhat dryer but not in a very good shape for working yet however if this week continues fine the seeding will be pretty well done. Very little seeding done in some parts a few miles south of this place on account of the continual showers of rain keeping low ground unfit to work to any satisfaction. Fall wheat has a healthy looking appearance. Mr A. McCraig of Top Cliff has a fine looking field and stood the winter well.

The Saugen is fully as high as it was when the snow went away. We forgot to tell all those interested in the graveyard in this town that they are asked to contribute 50c towards the fund for the purpose of repairing &c., to Mr Daguid McCormick, Treasurer.

Mr Colin McMillan of Dromore has started a branch of his undertaking business in this town. Any information required will be found at Mr Frank Reilly's blacksmith shop. Mr McMillan has an extensive business in Dromore and those wishing to patronize him here can do so by consulting Mr Reilly who will immediately communicate with Mr McMillan by phone.

We notice that the Rev Mr Kipp of the Baptist church here has tendered his resignation. Mr Kipp was a hard worker and much regret is felt for his intention of severing his connection with Priceville and other stations.

Many from here sympathize with Mr and Mrs Chas. McArthur of Banness in the death of their only son Archie who died a few days ago at the age of 25 years.

Archie McKinnon who got his eye affected by steel is getting on well in Stratford Hospital and we all hope he will be home this week in his usual health.

Mr McIntyre, Hardware Merchant of this place has a fine display of everything required in a Hardware Store and it would be well to patronize Shirley by way of testing his liberality in the selling of cheap goods. We hear that Shirley intends to patronize something far superior to hardware goods not far into the future.

We are sorry to notice the death of a lady once of this place in the person of Mrs Rev. Humphries. It will be remembered that she was pastor of the Methodist church here and other stations.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs Reilly is improving and we hope she will be around in her usual health.

Fishing is in order and those that can spare the time exercise their spare hours in trying to catch some of the innocent things.

Election matters are freely discussed and the general feeling is that our old neighbor Mr McConnell will poll a large majority in this section of the riding and his old neighbors hope he will do likewise in the other parts.
