Dornoch.

J. L. Smith, our popular M. D., was in Hamilton last week attending the Association. During his absence Dr Shields of Toronto attended to the needs of ailing humanity in the vicinity.

We had a pleasant chat with Mr. Mack Jones who spent a pleasant week renewing acquaintances in the burg and community. For two years Mack was the genial clerk in Mr. Hunt's general store and his many friends are pleased to note his continued prosperity in the social and financial issues of life.

Rev N A McDonald, our esteemed pastor, leaves this week to attend the meeting of the General Assembly in Winnipeg, Man. During his absence the pulpit will be occupied by a Knox College Student, J. F. McKay, son of the renowned Formosan missionary, Rev Dr MacKay.

Mr. Hughie McArthur, C P R time-keeper at Owen Sound, accompanied by Misses Martha and Flossie Barry, drove down to the village on Victoria Day and accompanied the merry crowd of picnickers to Bell's Lake.

We are pleased to see Mrs. John Halliday again in the village, after spending the winter months with friends in the County Town. Mrs. Halliday is only four years short of the century mark and possesses wonderful mental and physical stamina considering her advanced age.

Mr. Malcolm Campbell, Welbeck's competent mechanical genius, was in the village last week supervising the repairs on the interior of the Forester's Hall. The Hall is now a comfortable and commodious structure and the villagers highly appreciate Dr Smith's public spirited enterprise as the completion of this public meeting house fills a long felt want in the community.

Mr Herman Becker, our genial and enterprising young merchant, returned to the burg on the 24th of the week after a few days pleasant recreation with friends in the Queen city.

A merry crowd of Dornochers celebrated Victoria Day by picnicing at Bell's Lake, one of the beauty spots of Western Ontario. Over thirty took advantage of the ideal day and journeyed over hill and dale till they reached the placid, limpid waters of that picturesque summer resort where Nature has been so lavish that the heart swells with rapture and enthusiasm as the eye imbibes the bewitching beauty of the scene. The wistery around the scenery around this pleasure haunt makes it a sylvan paradise for the artist or pleasure seeker for every fresh turn reveals a wealth of beauty which is indelibly impressed upon the memory, to afford for long years in retrospect the pleasure it gives for a few bright moments in actual vision. All along the shores the tall towering trees interlaced with foliage and shrubbery are clearly mirrored in the placid waters beneath; the various channels connecting the series of lakes possess a compelling charm, on account of the gorgeous arches of evergreens over head and the lance like shafts of sunlight which pierce through the dense foliage at intervals and gleam on the sedge slopes that lie along the margin here and there. In the freshness of the early morning, in the glory of the noonday sun, in the gloaming when the shadows lie deep over the wimpling waters, the scene is one of indescribable splendor. Mid scenes like these our merry picnickers spent a pleasant time boating, fishing and various amusements and thoroughly enjoyed their rustic feast, the bracing air of the Lake sharpening their appetites like a ten days fast, and as the settling sun shone o'er the glassy waters in long vistas of endless light the happy throng embarked on the voyage home thoroughly rejuvenated with the day's outing.
