Niagara Camp Notes.

exercises are out. The 4th Bde. of which the 3rd forms a part are assigned to the defending duties and so are saved the necessity of the long tramp of former years. Railway transport home to Camp is provided for the attacking parties. Many took in the excursion to the falls and Buffalo yesterday and had as pleasant a time as possible under the scorching sun, in the longest day of the year; to reflect back on the immense snow banks of March, did not help it any. The church parade was held yesterday as usual and elicited many admiring remarks by bystanders in regard to the hearty and stirring nature of the scene. This gives one a better idea of the numbers at Camp, together with Review day than can be gathered when scattered all over the common. The music of the various bands in marching to and from position was very varied. "Bonnie Dundee," and "Old John Peel" being interspersed with "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Sweet Bye and Bye," "Maple Leaf," &c. To say the least it is a trying ordeal upon the soldiers, who are sitting in the sunlight while it is impossible to hear a single word uttered by the preacher.

Bryan. The Prize Neighbor.

The Carpenter across the street says that "W. J." is best ever. "I tell you, he's the squarest Christian I ever knew." The speaker, leaning on his hoe in the soft haze of a Western twilight, paused in the labor of making his Spring garden, and his lined, weather-beaten face became radiant with affection, says the July DELINEATOR. "When my pasture gave out last September, he said to me, 'Why I've plenty, Jim; just turn your cows in with mine!' For a neighbor he's the right sort. Put it down that I said so." It was the carpenter in the little cottage across the street who spoke. And his neighbor was the man they call the "Great Commoner".

One of the new regulations in regard to motoring is given below: "In case an accident occurs to any person, whether on foot or horseback, or in a vehicle, or to any horse or vehicle in charge of any person, owing to the presence of any motor vehicle on any public highway, the person in charge of such motor vehicle shall return to the scene of the accident, and give to any one sustaining loss or injury his name and address, and also the name and address of the owner of such motor vehicle, and the number of the permit of said motor vehicle.
