the EDITOR

Editor Durham Review :

If the returns in South Grey of officials in charge, it cannot be urged that it was because of their haste in giving the figures to the public. However, as one of the agents for Mr Mcness of the statement for that poll as given in the Durham Chronicle, viz. young sons spent Wednesday seeing Jamieson 53, McCannel 49, and having taken part in the count at the close of the poll. I positively assert that the vote stood Jamieson 49 and McCannel 53. Now, whether it was negligence, incapacity or deliberately falsifying the record I cannot say, but it is unfortunate that there should be even a suspicion that the officials in charge of the ballots had been altering or tampering with the true statement of the poling returns, as was done in the Election of 1891, when 26 good ballots marked for Dr Landerkin were stolen and 26 forged bogus ballots marked for Blythe were put

This is the 42ud anniversary of the Dominion of Canada and it is fitting that all good citizens should be imbued with lofty ideals and noble inspirations regarding the future of our country. Our fathers may justly, with pride quote the immortal Scott,

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead, As never to himself hath said, etc."

and we thoroughly agree with them and join in with them. But we also have another cry, Canada for the Canadians which is nearer and dearer to us, and whilst we are loyal to the Empire and the nations which are attached to it, we like Canada better than any other country and the locality in which we live better than any other part of the Dominion.

Our citizens can compare favorably with the citizens of any other part of the Dominion and it should be our aim, whilst wishing prosperity to the whole Dominion, to wish better prosperity to the locality in which we live.

The merchants in rural sections, villages and towns are as honorable as can be found in any country and they can sell their goods cheaper than city merchants do, and speaking for our own business, we ask the people to be the judges.

We buy for cash and keep no books and sell for cash or produce. Each department is under the careful eyes of an expert so that the buying and selling can be done in the most careful way.

Come and examine our stock whether you buy or not, Look out for our Price List next week.
