Chicago to Durham.

Last Wednesday there was the whirl of a automobile lead at the REVIEW office door and who should it be but Wm. Young of Chicago, who had come from the windy city to pay his subscription to the REVIEW. Many of our readers will remember him; son of Mr. Henry Young, and at one time clerk in the building now occupied by the REVIEW. He has been eminently successful in Chicago, his father is well and the others are doing well. Accompanying was his brother Ernie, a young man, and the beautiful and admired curls of his boyhood all gone.

With him also were three others, one of them Mr. Godfrey Conservative, M. P. P. for West York, also a Durham boy, his father having been a Methodist minister here some 20 odd years ago. Godfrey and "Bill" enjoyed the reminiscent flavor, pointed out the house where in the olden days under Rev. Wm. Park they had studied Latin together, gazed on the old British Hotel block, which had shrunk from boyhood's estimate of a big building, but were pleased to see signs of progress. The editor of Saturday Night, Joe Clark, himself an old Durham Boy gives them a nice send off.

GREAT CORN.—Mr. C. McDougall plucked a stalk of corn in Mrs. Walker's garden last week measuring 10 ft 2 inches. A healthy sample and can be seen at this office.

Luck means rising at six o'clock in the morning, living on a dollar a day if you are making two, minding your own business and not meddling with other people's. Luck means appointments you have never failed to keep, the train you have never failed to catch. Luck means trusting in God and your own resources.

ROYAL CATTLE.—In the cattle classes at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, there will be several animals from the King's farm at Sandringham, Lord Rosebery's farm at Mentmore and Lord Rothchild's farm at Tring. Other farms of equal note in Great Britain will be represented including that of Sir Richard Cooper.

SERIOUSLY HURT.—Arthur Whitaker, a C. P. R. workman, is lying in the hospital here in a critical condition as the result of being run down by a train while riding a jigger near Allan Park on Monday night. The injured man is a resident of Durham and at the time of the accident was speeding towards his home on a velocipede or jigger. The noise of the jigger and the darkness of the night kept him from hearing or seeing a rapidly advancing construction train, and it was not until the accident had almost occurred that he threw the jigger off the track and hurled the occupants heavily to the ground. When picked up Whitaker was found to be severely hurt and the services of a physician were hastily procured. The following morning he was removed to the Bruce County Hospital and placed under the care of Dr. H. H. Sinclair. Under examination it was found that his injuries consisted of a bad gush some four inches long in his head, a cut and scratched face, a crushed foot that almost required amputation, lacerations of the body and a severe shaking up. Considering the nature of the accident Mr. Whitaker is open to congratulations for having escaped with his life.

On Monday, July 6, Mr. T. G. Campbell, accompanied by his wife and brother-in-law, Mr. Edgar E. Reynolds, went to the Battle river, Sask., with team and wagon intending to cross at the ford. Mrs. Campbell decided to wait their return on the horses were about half way over the horses were washed off their feet and swept down stream. Both could swim, so Mr. Reynolds called to Mr. Campbell to make for shore while he tried to free the horses from the wagon and so save them. When he found he was unable to do so, Mr. Campbell turned to Mr. Campbell, expecting to see him near shore but instead saw him struggling in the current. He swam as quickly as he could to help him but was too late. Mr. Campbell sank and was seen no more. Mr. Reynolds dived and tried to flod him but could not. He then hurried for help, got out the neighbors and searched that night but without success. The police were then notified and they, with the neighbors, dragged the river and kept up a search for the remainder of the week but were unsuccessful in finding the body. Up to time of writing the body has not been found although the river is being watched down to Battleford, Sask. Mr. Campbell leaves a wife and one little son 14 months old. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Campbell, Bentinck.

What the People Want. If the people want early completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific to relieve congested transportation conditions of the Northwest; If the people want inauguration of work on the Georgian Bay Canal to lower freight rates to the seaboard; If the people want substantial encouragement to the "All-Red Line" to divert Australian traffic via Canada; If the people want tariff for revenue which does not retard commercial growth; If the people want vigorous prosecution of work on existing waterways; If the people want a railroad built from the Saskatchewan to Hudson Bay, thus shortening the distance to England by 1,000 miles; If the people want the lands for the settler and coal lands administered in the interests of the consumer; If the people want new markets for Canadian products and wisdom and economy in the administration of public affairs, then we sustain in power the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

49 Years Old—Weighed 70 lbs. An insignificant piece of humanity with a life paraded Poulett St. early in the week and was the centre of curious groups during his performance. His object was, of course, charity, and the poor little fellow did not appeal in vain. This specimen of the "Tom Thumb" variety was forty-nine years old, only weighed about 70 lbs. He seemed to be perfect in limb and joint and had a full grown head with abundance of whiskers. Just where he landed from no one seems to know but he appears to be keeping safe distance from the circuses or he would have been picked up long ago.—Owen Sound Sun.

from O. Sound Sun.

A pretty wedding took place on Tuesday noon at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. James McLarty, 34 Standish Ave., when Miss Margaret McLarty was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph W. Firth. B. A., science master of the Collegiate Institute, Guelph, Ont. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. A. Wood, of Division St. Presbyterian church, in the presence of only a few near relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties. The bride was dressed in cream Paris lace over chiffon laffetta silk and carried a bouquet of cream roses and the home was decorated with sweet peas and roses. The happy couple were unattended. After congratulations and a dainty wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Firth left on the afternoon train for Toronto. On their wedding trip they will spend sometime at Muskoka Lakes. The bride's going away dress was of brown broadcloth with touches of Copenhagen blue and hat to match. The bride is well and favorably known in Owen Sound and she carries with her the good wishes of a wide circle of friends, with whom the Sun joins [The REVIEW adds hearty congratulations.]

Obituary

FREDERICK FAY. After a painful illness of over six months, the above gentleman passed away on July 25th, at his home, north of Rocky Saugeen, being conscious nearly to the last.

He was a native of Germany, born in 1813, and came to Canada alone at the age of eleven years. He spent his young manhood in the vicinity of St. Catharines. After his marriage he settled on a farm near Walsingham Centre, Norfolk Co., where he resided thirty years, until his removal about eight years ago to the Rocky. He was a successful farmer, a highly respected citizen and a devoted member of the Methodist church, occupying the position of Sunday School Superintendent for ever twenty years at Walsingham Centre. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, five sons; three sisters and a brother.

The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Jamieson, of Durham, his pastor, and interment took place at Latona cemetery. The funeral was largely attended.

[The foregoing communication was written 27th July, in time for last week's issue, but reached us only on Tuesday, 4th August.—Ed.]

The Excursion.

About one hundred and fifty people patronized the Public Library excursion on Monday last, our civic holiday. A large proportion were from the country near to Durham and one is forced to conclude that the claims of the Library, a beneficent institution, do not weigh heavily on the minds of many of the citizens.

The excursionists were favored with beautiful weather and fine service by the C. P. R. Leaving at 8.10 a. m. the train pulled into Owen Sound about one minute before 10, but too late to allow those wanting to go to Meaford to catch the boat, which indeed was already crowded to the danger limit. Those who had friends found them out, those who had no found places of interest round the docks, on the hill, in the stores, or in the parks and shady spots of the county town. Mr. Flarty very kindly chaperoned one party of his old Durham friends to points of interest, notably the Y. M. C. A. Building, with its fine appointments for physical, mental and moral culture. The new Post office and Customs building was duly admired as were the fine stores and beautiful homes which abound. Flags and streamers displayed for the "Old Boys" were still in evidence but the artist who spelled it "Welcome Gray Old Boys" should never be forgiven, and won't be by the other class, i. e. those not "Gray."

Several large boats were in the harbor and we were informed the prevailing depression had kept some of them out of commission this year. It is expected that the boom of the western harvest will set them all a-going soon. A number had the pleasure of viewing the fine "Manitoba" above and below.

As 7.30 p. m. drew near, the wanderers began to collect and about that hour the train drew out and Durham was reached without incident except that, owing to delays at Markdale and Ceylon, the time was not so good as in the morning.

It will not be known for some time yet just what the returns for the Library will be, but it is hoped to be sufficient to clear expenses out and more.

Among the young old people on the train were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McKelvey, Sr., and thereby hangs a tale, the romance of which was suggested by this C. P. R. excursion.

Fifty years ago last 23rd of November, a young Durham gent with the best horse to be had drove to Owen Sound over roads drifted fence-high with snow. His purpose was to see a Miss Annie Gillies, and to represent the unwisdom of his keeping "bach" hall in Durham and she working in Owen Sound when they might as well live together and pool expenses. It was a sensible proposition, under consideration for some time, so a minister Rev. Mr. Gibson, was secured, and in the house of Mrs. McKenzie the union was consummated that was to last till this day. That same night they drove to her father's near Dornoch and later took up residence in Durham. From that day till Monday last, Mrs. McKelvey was never in Owen Sound, and the happy thought came that they would spend one day more in the house of their friend, who is still alive and living with her daughter Mrs. Nicholson. Needless to say the pleasure was mutual, and that she saw some differences from the Owen Sound of that far-back day. May they have many more trips together.

Unconfirmed rumors were heard of irregular doings of some of our citizens. We heard of one being in jail; another reported carried from the brewery on a stretcher; another seen staggering on the streets, etc. It is certain Constable Carson was seen with his coat off! But we think he had them all safely rounded up on the way home.

O. Sound opinions differ as to the chances of local option next January. A powerful argument in its favor is said to be the safety it gave in recent strikes and riots.
