Shirley McIntyre, Priceville's hardware merchant, offers a prize of $5.00 for the best-looking baby on the grounds at the Fall Fair there on Oct. 1 and 2. Our advice would be to steer clear of the judging, especially if the mothers are around.

Our thanks are due Miss Lillie M. Jopp, Saskatchewan, for a remittance on Review. They had very bad harvesting weather the beginning of last week owing to heavy rains; these, of course, will do no harm, but there was fear of frost after clearing up.

On Wednesday week Mr. Alex Calder's of Yeovil, imported Clydesdale Stallion "Cup Bearer" died after a very short illness. The "Cup Bearer" was called said death was caused by indigestion. Mr. Calder's loss is a heavy one, as he had no insurance on the animal. "Cup Bearer" was a very handsome horse, three years of age, imported by O. Sorby, Guelph. The farmers in the neighborhood as well as Mr. Calder, suffers loss by the death of this valuable animal.—Com.

SEVERELY SCALDED.—The little son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hinds was severely burnt Tuesday, over one side of his body, including arm and leg. It appears Mrs. Hinds had been lifting a boiler of clothes in boiling water off the kitchen stove, when her foot slipped; meanwhile the baby had crept from another room behind her unnoticed, and to avoid being scalded herself, Mrs. Hinds jumped aside, unaware of the baby's presence. He suffered great pain, but the three doctors dressed the wounds, and he is now recovering nicely.

IN LUMSDEN, SASK.—This week's letter from the Editor on his Western trip describes Winnipeg and gives interesting mention of many old South Grey people there. From a copy of the Lumsden News-Record, received direct from the office, we quote a small portion of the fine write-up relating to his visit there: "Editor Chas Ramage of the DURHAM REVIEW, en passant to Edmonton, spent a day in Lumsden this week among friends and acquaintances. Unfortunately his time like most newspapermen's, was limited, and he was unable to meet the host of Grey County settlers in this vicinity. It was his first adjournment from the quiet solitude of the banks of the Sauguenay. Mr. Ramage is so far delighted with the trip and the magnitude of the West. While here he was the guest of Mr. John Hewitson. He was driven out to the Cottonwood and Forest districts where he came in contact with many old acquaintances who are now prosperous and well-to-do farmers. The golden wheatfields astonished him; that is those which the big binder had not passed over."

OWEN SOUND MOVES UP.—The Ferguson lacrosse team met their Waterloo Owen Sound Monday, being turned down 4 to 0. As in last Wednesday's game at Ferguson, the home team won only 6 to 5, the Owen Sound boys were 3 goals ahead on the round and step up on the next semi-final rung against Galt.

Mr. Wm. Black is one of the busy merchants of our town. He not only attended to his business but sold several first-class horses lately, and is now driving a stylish gelding that he calls "Prince Picadore." The "Canadian Sportsman" has published "there is no other man in Canada that can do business as Mr. Black does: sell horses to parties that never see them and satisfy every purchaser."

An Evening with the Bands.

Durham citizens last Thursday evening were treated to something new in the concert line—one entirely given by three bands. Although not a large crowd attended at the new rink, it was a well satisfied audience who left, and they had good reason to be with the high class of music furnished.

Before marching to the Bank, Flesherton, Durham and Hanover bands each played a couple selections on the corner in that order, and the same arrangement prevailed in the rink. Flesherton has a young band, practically a new one, but they made a very creditable showing and supplied some fine music, notably a medley of popular Irish airs. Durham Regimental band followed with three marches. "Tecumseh," "Royal Escort," "National Reform," a medley of Scottish airs, and a serenade "Love's Sentiment," which evoked the unstinted applause of the audience. In their fine band of 19 or 20 members, intact for the last 5 or 6 years, Hanoverians have an organization of which they may well be proud; one which we believe, could hold its own with any town its size in the province. They presented a splendid variety of selections, with perfect time and modulation, the "Trip to Buffalo" being especially appreciated. The attractive music held the crowd till after eleven, when the program was concluded by the massed bands rendering "God Save the King."
The gross proceeds at door and refreshment booth amounted to about $45, which was supplemented by a $5 donation from Dr. Jamieson M. P. F., for the band treasury.

Miller in the Limelight

A Splendid Address given in the Hall here Friday evening.

Before a well filled hall on Friday evening last, South Grey's popular M. P., H. H. Miller, delivered a most interesting, instructive and eloquent address, dealing with the many public questions now before the country, as well as with his own personal record since the electors of South Grey honored him by electing him their representative. Those in attendance could well testify that he has not abused that confidence then reposed in him. He earned the reputation at Ottawa of being one of the hardest workers in the House, his clear grasp of the questions of the day displayed his ability, while both Liberal and Conservative, can testify of his faithful and valuable services to his constituents. Throughout his hour and a half address, he ever displayed a true spirit of fairness, and handled his case so masterfully as to win the commendation of Conservatives as well as of Liberals.

Although the suffrage is not extended to them, the ladies, about three dozen in number, showed their interest in political questions and their representative by their presence in the centre section of the hall. The band opened with a selection and Mayor Calder was voted to the chair. After calling Messrs Knechtel, Taylor and Rogers of Hanover, Binnie and McCannel, led the platform, Mr. Calder, with a few brief remarks, introduced Mr. Miller.

After a few introductory remarks, during which he expressed his delight with the large audience, Mr. Miller launched into his subject commencing with the Alberta and Saskatchewan school question. These new provinces were granted a new constitution in 1905, the school law remaining unaltered. In 1875 when the protestants were in the minority, they had been granted the first separate schools, and in 1905 with a Catholic minority it had not been unfair to allow Catholics the same privileges as Protestants. The school law had been enacted by the people of the West themselves, the school books, promotion exams, teachers' qualifications and inspectors were identical for both public and separate schools, whether Protestant or Catholic. All the difference is from 3.30 to 4 p. m. when religious teaching may be imparted. In a public school, if required, the time is divided; in a separate school, either protestant or catholic teaching wholly according to its class, while children of other religious beliefs may leave during this period. Mr. Miller read letters from Mr. J. W. Brown, formerly principal of Allan Park and Hanover schools, and only 1 separate. He is, as Rey De Juc, McDougall, of the opinion that the present system is the best interests of the country, and giving splendid satisfaction, and nowhere in the west is it a live issue.

On two or three occasions had Mr. Miller heard the story that he had referred to the Orangemen as "yellow dogs." This he indignantly denied, and offered to resign his seat if evidence of such could be proved against him. Again a Normanby farmer had been canvassed because he had been under Quebec rule long enough. Nationality, he claimed, should not be a question in the selection of our premier. What Canada requires is men who are honorable, who have the ability to serve as premier without taking into consideration nationality or religious beliefs. The Prince of Wales, on his recent visit to Quebec, had praised the French for what they had done for Canada and he believed Protestants and Catholics were placed in Canada to dwell in perfect unity.
Touching on Canadian immigration, Mr. Miller again came down to solid facts and figures. The immigration for the year '07-'08 was 292,400. Many people imagined this was chiefly composed of foreigners. Not so. Of this number 120,182 were from Great Britain, 88,312 from the States and only 83,975 from all other countries and many of them from Germany, Norway and Sweden, and Denmark, which countries supply very desirable citizens.
A prejudice seems to have arisen against the Galicians and Doukhobors of whom a few are still immigrating. In conversation with Mr. Alvous, land commissioner at Winnipeg, he stated there are few smarter people than the Galicians.

Hymeneal

A quiet wedding took place last Wednesday, August 28, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. Allan, near Varney, when her youngest daughter Edith Annie, was united in hymen's bonds to Mr. Jas. Gray. At 6 p. m. Rev Mr. Jamieson, of Durham, performed the ceremony in the presence of about 45 guests, relatives and friends, the bride and groom being unattended. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Margaret Matthews, the bride was given away by her brother Richard, being prettily attired in a dress of silk organdie, trimmed with insertion and lace with taffeta sash, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and ferns. The ceremony over, the company sat down to a sumptuous repast. Numerous and many valuable presents were received by the happy couple, who are residing on the old homestead at McClinton's corners. The REVIEW extends best wishes for a pleasant and prosperous journey through life.

School Re-Opening

After nine weeks' freedom from books and the acquiring of knowledge the town school population commenced studies again Tuesday morning with a large attendance.

In the Public School department the same staff as formerly, with the exception of Miss Gretta Nichol replacing Miss Grant, are in charge, with 222 pupils for the first day.

The High School Department is not yet filled, as students are expected to be coming in for a week or two. Tuesday the 1st form contained 23 students, 2nd 25, and 3rd 17, a total of 65, but it is estimated the number will yet easily reach 80. Miss McKerracher is again on the staff, assisted by Miss Amy Edge and Miss Payne, of Leeds Co., the latter here only for the Model term. The opening again sees Principal Allan in charge of the Model class, with an attendance of 10, ladies and three boys. As will be observed from their names and addresses following, they are present from all over the Western part of the province:

- Hannah Jaffray, Macville
- Annie L. Marie, Kingscote
- Loretto I. Meyer, Meaford
- Wilfrid McDowell, Drayton
- Tracy E. McLuhan, Mt. Forest
- Margaret O'Shea, Lucan
- Marion A. Russell, Balton
- Chas. C. Ramage, Durham
- Mabel F. Walpole, Williscroft
- Gertrude Welwood, Macville
- Isabel S. Young, Gresham
- Marie E. Green, Louis
- Ina H. Taylor, Mono Mills
- Am brosinie Dyke, Kenilworth
- Beatrice Torris, Arthur
- Wilma McKenzie, Leamington
- Miss McGillivray, Ripley
- Miss Strachan, Brussels

The school itself never appeared better in the matter of surroundings. Mr. Hawthorne, the caretaker, has the grounds in splendid condition, the well-kept lawns and neat flower beds making it attractive to the eye. Inside during the holidays, the walls were painted, floors oiled and a general renovation took place. In every way it is now one of the most up-to-date schools in Western Ontario.
