On the future, wisely hidden, Make no claims, it is not thine; Onward press, in fond hope trusting, Leave it with the power Divine. He will give thee, trust Him ever, Daily strength for daily need; Though no pillared cloud of guiding, He doth still His people lead.

Thine the present; use it wisely, In the Master's service blest; Daily do thy nearest duty. God Himself will watch the rest. With Him, for Him, living ever, Nothing less thy life allow: Give, then, in the wondrous fulness, Of thy great eternal now, Sault Ste. Marie; Ont.

Devotion Day by Day.

Sunday .- As He for the joy set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, even so may I ever have before me the heavenly reward.

Monday.-Have pity, O God, upon the poor and troubled of the earth, and sustain the oppressed, giving them relief and cheer.

Tuesday,-Lord, if Thou are not present, where shall I seek Thee absent: present? Thou dwellest in light inac-.cessible.

Wednesday,-Come, Spirit of the living God, to our unrestful spirits with Thy rest. Pardon our transgressions, that with pure conscience and right desire we may do Thy work upon the earth.

Thursday.-O Almighty God, infinite and eternal, Thou fillest all things with Thy presence; Thou are everywhere by Thy essence and by Thy power. Friday. Father, I have found the gift of life a sweet and beautiful thing. It has known cloud and rain, but these have nourished it, and the darkness has sheltered it. Saturday.-Let thanksgiving be my prayer. What I need Thou wilt give. My hands Thou wilt touch with the soft petals of Thy flowers.

CHINESE DOCTOR.

Rhinoceros Horn, Tiger Pone and Coffin Scrapings as Medicines.

An ordinary native Chinese doctor, Wong-Yik-Chee, practising entirely among his own countrymen, was reputed to have made extraordinary cures with two or three American patients, and twenty-five native patients were awaiting their turn when I paid him a visit, writes Dr. James F. Donnelly in the Medical Record. I found him adorned with huge circular horn-rimmed spectacles and thin patriarchial chin whiskers, of remedies.

After going through the usual examination, which is a form of military inspection, Dr. Wong-Yik-Chee will diagnose the case and treat it, unless a devil happens to jump down the patient's throat. If this happened, the doctor can do the patient no good until he promises to set off 100 firecrackers to drive the devil away from his body, and to make a daily visit to the joss house. This he Chee is then not slow to take note of the don Standard. good prognosis, although he may not remember his patient at all. However, being assured that the devil is no longer left.
