

STYLISH FALL MILLINERY

This season we have a larger showing than ever of Fashionable Millinery. We have the very latest models from the large wide shape with the high crown to the natty little Torban. Each hat has a distinctive style by itself. We can give you a greater choice in your Fall Millinery than we have ever been able to do before.

If you have not seen this season's styles we extend you a hearty invitation to inspect them and you will find that your time has not been wasted, for your will find the right styles at a very modern price.

S. F. MORLOCK

CASH AND ONE PRICE.

Raspberry time is nearly done and so are some old Shoes.

The men have finished up the hay and now is the best time to leave your order for a pair of good fall shoes. If you are thinking of going West, get our prices on Trunks, Valises and Telescopes, before purchasing elsewhere. Call and see if your size is here, as we are offering some big bargains in some broken lines of Ladies' Oxfords and Slippers to clear. It will do us a favor and save your money. Custom Work and repairing done as quickly, neatly and cheaply as possible.

Eggs taken as Cash. J. S. McIlraith

Taylor & Co., Dromore

Wool! Wool! Wool!

We are prepared to buy and pay the highest price for any quantity of wool.

For the Wool season only we will reduce Men's and Boy's Clothing 10 per cent. This means money saved to you and the goods are all 1st class quality.

MEN'S ODD PANTS in very neat patterns and prices ranging from $1.50 to $3.50.

MEN'S OVERALLS, also boy's, see our special at 50 cents.

MEN'S & LADIES' RAINCOATS, in Cravenette, $5.00 to $12.00.

We have full supply of Yarns and Blankets, also Flannellette sheets.

We close at 7 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Friday nights only.

Taylor & Co., Dromore

Priceville

Dry and sultry weather continues. A small shower of rain the other night only aggravated the atmosphere by making it more smoky. Bush fires must be in some far away bush districts causing such an unhealthy odor in the air.

Busy threshing and between dust and scarcity of water a human being looks as if he were one of the uncivilized natives of Africa.

Roots are suffering for want of rain. No rain of any account for 7 weeks. Saugeen is low and our mill is at a standstill for want of water.

Sacrament in the Presbyterian Church here next Sunday. Rev. Mr. Farquharson, of Durham, will preach on Friday evening the 25th inst. at 7:30, preparatory services.

Dr. James, of Toronto, is substitute for Dr. Dixon while white away in the West and by the slight acquaintance we had of him he seems to be a young gentleman who will honor the profession and no doubt will take well with his patients.

Miss Sarah McDonald, of Toronto, is visiting friends in this town this week and on Sunday afternoon he occupied the pulpit of the Mennonite Church very acceptably.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McDougall, of Durham, visited at their respective old homes South Line last week.

Mr. John L. McKinnon, Top Cliff, left for Stratford Normal School last week.

Miss Maggie McDonald, Durham Road, Glenelg, who was attending business College, Chatham, for the last 9 months got a situation in Detroit.

We are pleased to hear that Donald McMillan's boys who were laid up with typhoid in Winnipeg hospital are better and will soon be about their business again.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stewart, North Line, returned after spending a couple of months visiting friends in the West.

We notice that the editor is taking in a goodly number of Westerners from this part but there will be numbers who would like to have him as their guest he cannot reach.

Mrs. Whiteside, of Owen Sound, is visiting her brothers and sister on the South Line, Roger and Alex McEachern and Mrs. Chas. McDonald.

Died at the General Hospital, Toronto on 4th Sept. 1908, Chas. McArthur of Dover Court Road Toronto at the age of 46 years. The deceased leaves numerous friends in this part who will be sorry to hear of his death.

His remains were taken to St. Paul's cemetery, St. Catharines, Ontario. Mr. Arthur Dargavel and Albert Carnahan visited friends at Holland Centre Sunday evening.

Miss Flossie Campbell left for her home in Swinton Park on Saturday. Mr. Moffat, who is engaged with Mr. Durcan McArthur for the summer and fall months visited in Owen Sound last week.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Molsen was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening last, when their eldest daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Joseph Drinkwater of Holland Centre. The bride was given away by her father, Albert Molsen, brother of the groom, while Miss Drinkwater, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. The Rev. Abrott of Desboro performed the ceremony in the presence of about one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride wore a pretty gown of cream casimere trimmed with lace and ribbon with bridal veil and orange blossoms. After congratulations the guests partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents which showed the high esteem in which she was held. The evening was spent with music and dancing which was enjoyed by all.

Hopeville

An old pioneer of Proton, passed away in the person of Mr. James Funston, near Cedarville, on Friday, 11th Sept. The funeral was on Monday 14th, to the Mt. Forest cemetery and was very large considering the long distance to go. Mr. Funston was in Proton over 30 years ago, when Proton was in its wild state, and commenced to clear up his farm. By carelessness and industry he enjoyed in his old days the comforts of a good cleared farm and saw a number of his sons on good farms in the neighborhood. He leaves behind to mourn his departure a widow, sons and daughters, settled around his old homestead, with many other relations. Mr. Funston was born in the north of Ireland, over 90 years ago. He was a staunch member of the Methodist church, in politics a strong Conservative and an honorary member of the Township of Proton Liberal Conservative Association.

A bad accident.—The Rev. Mr. MacInnes, of Cedarville, was driving to a farm house last week and when closing the gate, his horse started away. He ran to catch him and missing his hold, his arm came in contact with the buggy wheel and the result is, his shoulder was knocked out of joint and his arm broken between the shoulder and elbow, leaving him in a very bad state. Mr. MacInnes has the sympathy of the people here. It is now well-known that he has resigned the pastorate of the Cedarville and Eplin churches and his resignation accepted by the Presbytery, which met on the 16th at Palmerston. The resignation of Mr. MacInnes is another injury to these churches; what makes it worse, is that two first class ministers, the Rev. Mr. Brand and the Rev. Mr. Lee, both able and faithful workers in the good Master's work, got short notice to leave. Now Mr. MacInnes was compelled or thought it best to resign. There is in our churches some few hard to get along with; let us hope for the better. We could say to some of such members, "take the mote out of your own eye so you can see more clearly the beams of our faithful and beloved ministers."

In Sunny Alberta.

As may be imagined with the variety of travelling, under new conditions, numerous incidents and interviews crowded into a week, a confusion arises that makes me doubtful where and when I left off. Returning to Calgary from the buoyant and optimistic northern cities Strathcona and Edmonton we determined to see the Mountains at a closer range and spent a night and a day at Banff, seeing sights and receiving impressions to which we shall revert some other time, suffice it to say in the meantime that when returning we felt as if we would like the brakeman to call out "Durham" and thus make the inspiring impressions last.

Amongst our regrets is that we did not meet our friends in Calgary, but we had the pleasure of an hour's interview with Mrs. Carson, sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Farquharson, and bade good-bye to our kind friends Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Mr. R. McLaughlin. Two stations south of Calgary at Altamont, we again let the iron horse go on while we found other old friends, Mr. and Mrs. John McInnes, formerly of the Durham Road and well known round Priceville and Durham.

Mr. McInnes has a very fine property here, one corner adjoining the station. His crops have been good, wheat ranging nearly if not quite 40 bushels to the acre, oats nearly twice as much. Last year he had over 100 bushels to the acre and even larger yields have been recorded. He has 10 horses and other stock in proportion.

We were surprised to learn that he is really an old-timer here, having in 1883, before his wife's death, moved from Moose Jaw to Calgary with his brothers, making the trip on the then almost untraded prairie in 41 days. He has not been a continuous resident, but his experience of early conditions has stood him in good stead and he is now here to stay.

A few miles away is the homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shannon, (the latter Miss Maggie McInnes.) Mr. Shannon's experience goes back before 1883 and most interesting is his recital of the numerous incidents marking the development of the country. Several of the little farms of South Grey have been sold away from him, but he owns from 150 to 200 horses, the revenue from which is certain and sure though losses are met with, of course.

Behind a team of splendid horses, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, Mr. McInnes and his niece, Miss Tina McDonald, of Durham Road, we were driven over a part of the Sarsco Indian Reservation, which lies near his property, and here we saw sights and scenes, new, novel and interesting. Here again we feel inclined to leave over an extended account of this visit till a future issue, thanking warmly both households for their hospitality, and for the interesting 24 hours we spent with them between towns.

On the way to Shannon's we saw for the first time a Western threshing. Threshing in the field, of course, near to the greatest centre of stocks, shifting from time to time, if the wind is large, the great traction engine, 300 such horses, hauls separator and 2 aboosers along, these later for eating and sleeping quarters for the men. The threshing engine is operated by a man to run engine and thresher, men and teams to haul sheaves to it, all the farmer has to do is to supply coal and draw the wheat away if he has no granary. No cutting bands here, a load on each side, a man on each load pitching into the greedy maw. Then to look at that blower and think of the weary dusty hours we have stood at the tail of the machine, standing at the next man for not keeping clear, is enough by the memory of it, to make a saint swear. The Separator means for the market, elevates, measures the bushels, and dumps into the great mobile granary, set on skips, or into the farmer's and his assistants' waggon, which take it direct to the elevators. This outfit will thresh from 1500 to 2000 bushels of wheat in a day and the thresher is just as big. A bushel as in the case of the separator, is measured by the accurate indicator. The country is now becoming dotted with wind heaps (not stacks) of straw round which the cattle will "rustle" in the winter, unless, as is often done, it is hauled to get rid of it.

As we proceeded south along this Calgary-McLeod line we had forced upon our notice the wonderful fertility of this part of Alberta. Not many years has passed since it was discovered that fall wheat would mature here, and the knowledge has spread till now it is the prevailing cereal producing this year the enormous yield of from 35 to 50 bushels per acre. Some sown in July and the crop is thus in the ground about 12 months, maturing before frosts and spreading the work of the farm over a greater period of the year, oats and barley being sown in the spring.

At the way south the grain and silage Rockies are in view and from a point behind them volumes of smoke are rising which we are told is a continuation of the Pacific fire working its way up along Mountain valleys. Stepping off the train at High River to stretch our legs we were for the fourth time on this trip greeted unexpectedly by name, this time by Mr. Rod, McFarlane and Mr. Thos. Howe, the latter being again associated with Mr. Seiguer in a progressive tin-smith business here. At their solicitation we made a rush for our baggage and spent the night and some hours next morning in their suburb of Durham, and of Chateaufort, for quite a number are here from our northern neighboring village, amongst them Mr. Nelson late of "Banner." We found the Seiguer we and as usual enthusiastic over the wheat and all ready to show points of interest in a town not much smaller than Durham, but having 3 banks and 3 grain elevators, with capacity of 11,000 bushels. Here, also are large lumber mills, employing 200 men working night and day (but not Sunday) with a cut of $4 million feet in Dornoch.

Among those who attended the Owen Sound fair were: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. Jas. Ledingham.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, wife and children of Spring Bay, Meliland, are visiting at Mr. Philip McIntosh's this week and on Sunday afternoon he occupied the pulpit of the Mennonite Church very acceptably.

Mr. Herb. Trafford and family Sunday at his brother's Mr. Robt. Trafford, Mitook.

Mr. Arthur Dargavel was engaged a few days last week as fireman on the threshing outfit of Mr. John Stewart.

Miss Kate McDonald Sunday at her home in the Editor's town.

A new man smiling this week in the person of Mr. Geo. Ledingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vasey spent a week at his home in Sullivan.

H. G. Becker left Monday on a business trip to Stratford, Berlin and other points.

Miss Lena Nuhn spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Sullivan.

Arthur Dargavel and Albert Carnahan visited friends at Holland Centre Sunday evening.

Miss Flossie Campbell left for her home in Swinton Park on Saturday.

Mr. Moffat, who is engaged with Mr. Durcan McArthur for the summer and fall months visited in Owen Sound last week.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Molsen was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening last, when their eldest daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Joseph Drinkwater of Holland Centre. The bride was given away by her father, Albert Molsen, brother of the groom, while Miss Drinkwater, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. The Rev. Abrott of Desboro performed the ceremony in the presence of about one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride wore a pretty gown of cream casimere trimmed with lace and ribbon with bridal veil and orange blossoms. After congratulations the guests partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents which showed the high esteem in which she was held. The evening was spent with music and dancing which was enjoyed by all.

Our Fall Millinery Openings

were held Wednesday and Thursday, Sept 16-17. An unusually large crowd visited our showrooms to see the display of trimmed hats. We have larger and greater variety of goods than any previous season.

We show all the leading styles and colors and always a good selection of hat and mounting goods. We invite any who have not been able to attend our opening to call any time and see our display. We will always be glad to show you the goods and do our best to please you.

Parisian Millinery Co MISS DICK, Proprietor

ANY VIEW

You take in an artistic well fitting one if we are your tailors. Our customers are wise as to what's becoming and as to what wears well in the line. Each fall season shows us to the front with a full line of attractive and distinctive stock of suitings. Present stock is much better than usual for this fall. We invite you to come and see it.

Tailored Clothes

Harry Burnett

Gents Tailor and Furnisher, Durham

Priceville

Arrangements were made for the Rev. Mr. Smith, of Conn. and Mr. MacInnes to exchange pulpits for last Sabbath, but the accident broke up that agreement and Mr. Wilkie, an elder in the Cedarville church, came to Eplin and gave a very nice discourse for a local man.

Elder Mr. D. McGregor, of the Latter Day Saints, of London, and Mrs. Gregor are visiting here at Mrs. McCampbell's.

The letters written by the Chief Editor of the Review, of his trip to the North West, are very interesting and plainer than any we have seen before. Threshing is the order of the day here now, plenty of straw, lots of dust and grain a little light, roads dry and water scarce in places.

Dornoch.

Among those who attended the Owen Sound fair were: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. Jas. Ledingham.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, wife and children of Spring Bay, Meliland, are visiting at Mr. Philip McIntosh's this week and on Sunday afternoon he occupied the pulpit of the Mennonite Church very acceptably.

Mr. Herb. Trafford and family Sunday at his brother's Mr. Robt. Trafford, Mitook.

Mr. Arthur Dargavel was engaged a few days last week as fireman on the threshing outfit of Mr. John Stewart.

Miss Kate McDonald Sunday at her home in the Editor's town.

A new man smiling this week in the person of Mr. Geo. Ledingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Vasey spent a week at his home in Sullivan.

H. G. Becker left Monday on a business trip to Stratford, Berlin and other points.

Miss Lena Nuhn spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Sullivan.

Arthur Dargavel and Albert Carnahan visited friends at Holland Centre Sunday evening.

Miss Flossie Campbell left for her home in Swinton Park on Saturday.

Mr. Moffat, who is engaged with Mr. Durcan McArthur for the summer and fall months visited in Owen Sound last week.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Molsen was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday evening last, when their eldest daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Joseph Drinkwater of Holland Centre. The bride was given away by her father, Albert Molsen, brother of the groom, while Miss Drinkwater, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. The Rev. Abrott of Desboro performed the ceremony in the presence of about one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride wore a pretty gown of cream casimere trimmed with lace and ribbon with bridal veil and orange blossoms. After congratulations the guests partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents which showed the high esteem in which she was held. The evening was spent with music and dancing which was enjoyed by all.

In Sunny Alberta.

As may be imagined with the variety of travelling, under new conditions, numerous incidents and interviews crowded into a week, a confusion arises that makes me doubtful where and when I left off. Returning to Calgary from the buoyant and optimistic northern cities Strathcona and Edmonton we determined to see the Mountains at a closer range and spent a night and a day at Banff, seeing sights and receiving impressions to which we shall revert some other time, suffice it to say in the meantime that when returning we felt as if we would like the brakeman to call out "Durham" and thus make the inspiring impressions last.

Amongst our regrets is that we did not meet our friends in Calgary, but we had the pleasure of an hour's interview with Mrs. Carson, sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Farquharson, and bade good-bye to our kind friends Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Mr. R. McLaughlin. Two stations south of Calgary at Altamont, we again let the iron horse go on while we found other old friends, Mr. and Mrs. John McInnes, formerly of the Durham Road and well known round Priceville and Durham.

Mr. McInnes has a very fine property here, one corner adjoining the station. His crops have been good, wheat ranging nearly if not quite 40 bushels to the acre, oats nearly twice as much. Last year he had over 100 bushels to the acre and even larger yields have been recorded. He has 10 horses and other stock in proportion.

We were surprised to learn that he is really an old-timer here, having in 1883, before his wife's death, moved from Moose Jaw to Calgary with his brothers, making the trip on the then almost untraded prairie in 41 days. He has not been a continuous resident, but his experience of early conditions has stood him in good stead and he is now here to stay.

A few miles away is the homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shannon, (the latter Miss Maggie McInnes.) Mr. Shannon's experience goes back before 1883 and most interesting is his recital of the numerous incidents marking the development of the country. Several of the little farms of South Grey have been sold away from him, but he owns from 150 to 200 horses, the revenue from which is certain and sure though losses are met with, of course.

Behind a team of splendid horses, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, Mr. McInnes and his niece, Miss Tina McDonald, of Durham Road, we were driven over a part of the Sarsco Indian Reservation, which lies near his property, and here we saw sights and scenes, new, novel and interesting. Here again we feel inclined to leave over an extended account of this visit till a future issue, thanking warmly both households for their hospitality, and for the interesting 24 hours we spent with them between towns.

On the way to Shannon's we saw for the first time a Western threshing. Threshing in the field, of course, near to the greatest centre of stocks, shifting from time to time, if the wind is large, the great traction engine, 300 such horses, hauls separator and 2 aboosers along, these later for eating and sleeping quarters for the men. The threshing engine is operated by a man to run engine and thresher, men and teams to haul sheaves to it, all the farmer has to do is to supply coal and draw the wheat away if he has no granary. No cutting bands here, a load on each side, a man on each load pitching into the greedy maw. Then to look at that blower and think of the weary dusty hours we have stood at the tail of the machine, standing at the next man for not keeping clear, is enough by the memory of it, to make a saint swear. The Separator means for the market, elevates, measures the bushels, and dumps into the great mobile granary, set on skips, or into the farmer's and his assistants' waggon, which take it direct to the elevators. This outfit will thresh from 1500 to 2000 bushels of wheat in a day and the thresher is just as big. A bushel as in the case of the separator, is measured by the accurate indicator. The country is now becoming dotted with wind heaps (not stacks) of straw round which the cattle will "rustle" in the winter, unless, as is often done, it is hauled to get rid of it.

As we proceeded south along this Calgary-McLeod line we had forced upon our notice the wonderful fertility of this part of Alberta. Not many years has passed since it was discovered that fall wheat would mature here, and the knowledge has spread till now it is the prevailing cereal producing this year the enormous yield of from 35 to 50 bushels per acre. Some sown in July and the crop is thus in the ground about 12 months, maturing before frosts and spreading the work of the farm over a greater period of the year, oats and barley being sown in the spring.

At the way south the grain and silage Rockies are in view and from a point behind them volumes of smoke are rising which we are told is a continuation of the Pacific fire working its way up along Mountain valleys. Stepping off the train at High River to stretch our legs we were for the fourth time on this trip greeted unexpectedly by name, this time by Mr. Rod, McFarlane and Mr. Thos. Howe, the latter being again associated with Mr. Seiguer in a progressive tin-smith business here. At their solicitation we made a rush for our baggage and spent the night and some hours next morning in their suburb of Durham, and of Chateaufort, for quite a number are here from our northern neighboring village, amongst them Mr. Nelson late of "Banner." We found the Seiguer we and as usual enthusiastic over the wheat and all ready to show points of interest in a town not much smaller than Durham, but having 3 banks and 3 grain elevators, with capacity of 11,000 bushels. Here, also are large lumber mills, employing 200 men working night and day (but not Sunday) with a cut of $4 million feet in

of travelling, under new conditions, numerous incidents and interviews crowded into a week, a confusion arises that makes me doubtful where and when I left off. Returning to Calgary from the buoyant and optimistic northern cities Strathcona and Edmonton we determined to see the Mountains at a closer range and spent a night and a day at Banff, seeing sights and receiving impressions to which we shall revert some other time, suffice it to say in the meantime that when returning we felt as if we would like the brakeman to call out "Durham" and thus make the inspiring impressions last.

Amongst our regrets is that we did not meet our friends in Calgary, but we had the pleasure of an hour's interview with Mrs. Carson, sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Farquharson, and bade good-bye to our kind friends Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Mr. R. McLaughlin. Two stations south of Calgary at Altamont, we again let the iron horse go on while we found other old friends, Mr. and Mrs. John McInnes, formerly of the Durham Road and well known round Priceville and Durham.

Mr. McInnes has a very fine property here, one corner adjoining the station. His crops have been good, wheat ranging nearly if not quite 40 bushels to the acre, oats nearly twice as much. Last year he had over 100 bushels to the acre and even larger yields have been recorded. He has 10 horses and other stock in proportion.

We were surprised to learn that he is really an old-timer here, having in 1883, before his wife's death, moved from Moose Jaw to Calgary with his brothers, making the trip on the then almost untraded prairie in 41 days. He has not been a continuous resident, but his experience of early conditions has stood him in good stead and he is now here to stay.

A few miles away is the homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shannon, (the latter Miss Maggie McInnes.) Mr. Shannon's experience goes back before 1883 and most interesting is his recital of the numerous incidents marking the development of the country. Several of the little farms of South Grey have been sold away from him, but he owns from 150 to 200 horses, the revenue from which is certain and sure though losses are met with, of course.

Behind a team of splendid horses, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, Mr. McInnes and his niece, Miss Tina McDonald, of Durham Road, we were driven over a part of the Sarsco Indian Reservation, which lies near his property, and here we saw sights and scenes, new, novel and interesting. Here again we feel inclined to leave over an extended account of this visit till a future issue, thanking warmly both households for their hospitality, and for the interesting 24 hours we spent with them between towns.

On the way to Shannon's we saw for the first time a Western threshing. Threshing in the field, of course, near to the greatest centre of stocks, shifting from time to time, if the wind is large, the great traction engine, 300 such horses, hauls separator and 2 aboosers along, these later for eating and sleeping quarters for the men. The threshing engine is operated by a man to run engine and thresher, men and teams to haul sheaves to it, all the farmer has to do is to supply coal and draw the wheat away if he has no granary. No cutting bands here, a load on each side, a man on each load pitching into the greedy maw. Then to look at that blower and think of the weary dusty hours we have stood at the tail of the machine, standing at the next man for not keeping clear, is enough by the memory of it, to make a saint swear. The Separator means for the market, elevates, measures the bushels, and dumps into the great mobile granary, set on skips, or into the farmer's and his assistants' waggon, which take it direct to the elevators. This outfit will thresh from 1500 to 2000 bushels of wheat in a day and the thresher is just as big. A bushel as in the case of the separator, is measured by the accurate indicator. The country is now becoming dotted with wind heaps (not stacks) of straw round which the cattle will "rustle" in the winter, unless, as is often done, it is hauled to get rid of it.

As we proceeded south along this Calgary-McLeod line we had forced upon our notice the wonderful fertility of this part of Alberta. Not many years has passed since it was discovered that fall wheat would mature here, and the knowledge has spread till now it is the prevailing cereal producing this year the enormous yield of from 35 to 50 bushels per acre. Some sown in July and the crop is thus in the ground about 12 months, maturing before frosts and spreading the work of the farm over a greater period of the year, oats and barley being sown in the spring.

At the way south the grain and silage Rockies are in view and from a point behind them volumes of smoke are rising which we are told is a continuation of the Pacific fire working its way up along Mountain valleys. Stepping off the train at High River to stretch our legs we were for the fourth time on this trip greeted unexpectedly by name, this time by Mr. Rod, McFarlane and Mr. Thos. Howe, the latter being again associated with Mr. Seiguer in a progressive tin-smith business here. At their solicitation we made a rush for our baggage and spent the night and some hours next morning in their suburb of Durham, and of Chateaufort, for quite a number are here from our northern neighboring village, amongst them Mr. Nelson late of "Banner." We found the Seiguer we and as usual enthusiastic over the wheat and all ready to show points of interest in a town not much smaller than Durham, but having 3 banks and 3 grain elevators, with capacity of 11,000 bushels. Here, also are large lumber mills, employing 200 men working night and day (but not Sunday) with a cut of $4 million feet in

of travelling, under new conditions, numerous incidents and interviews crowded into a week, a confusion arises that makes me doubtful where and when I left off. Returning to Calgary from the buoyant and optimistic northern cities Strathcona and Edmonton we determined to see the Mountains at a closer range and spent a night and a day at Banff, seeing sights and receiving impressions to which we shall revert some other time, suffice it to say in the meantime that when returning we felt as if we would like the brakeman to call out "Durham" and thus make the inspiring impressions last.

Amongst our regrets is that we did not meet our friends in Calgary, but we had the pleasure of an hour's interview with Mrs. Carson, sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Farquharson, and bade good-bye to our kind friends Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Mr. R. McLaughlin. Two stations south of Calgary at Altamont, we again let the iron horse go on while we found other old friends, Mr. and Mrs. John McInnes, formerly of the Durham Road and well known round Priceville and Durham.

Mr. McInnes has a very fine property here, one corner adjoining the station. His crops have been good, wheat ranging nearly if not quite 40 bushels to the acre, oats nearly twice as much. Last year he had over 100 bushels to the acre and even larger yields have been recorded. He has 10 horses and other stock in proportion.

We were surprised to learn that he is really an old-timer here, having in 1883, before his wife's death, moved from Moose Jaw to Calgary with his brothers, making the trip on the then almost untraded prairie in 41 days. He has not been a continuous resident, but his experience of early conditions has stood him in good stead and he is now here to stay.

A few miles away is the homestead of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shannon, (the latter Miss Maggie McInnes.) Mr. Shannon's experience goes back before 1883 and most interesting is his recital of the numerous incidents marking the development of the country. Several of the little farms of South Grey have been sold away from him, but he owns from 150 to 200 horses, the revenue from which is certain and sure though losses are met with, of course.

Behind a team of splendid horses, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Shannon, Mr. McInnes and his niece, Miss Tina McDonald, of Durham Road, we were driven over a part of the Sarsco Indian Reservation, which lies near his property, and here we saw sights and scenes, new, novel and interesting. Here again we feel inclined to leave over an extended account of this visit till a future issue, thanking warmly both households for their hospitality, and for the interesting 24 hours we spent with them between towns.

Priceville

Arrangements were made for the Rev. Mr. Smith, of Conn. and Mr. MacInnes to exchange pulpits for last Sabbath, but the accident broke up that agreement and Mr. Wilkie, an elder in the Cedarville church, came to Eplin and gave a very nice discourse for a local man.

Elder Mr. D. McGregor, of the Latter Day Saints, of London, and Mrs. Gregor are visiting here at Mrs. McCampbell's.

The letters written by the Chief Editor of the Review, of his trip to the North West, are very interesting and plainer than any we have seen before. Threshing is the order of the day here now, plenty of straw, lots of dust and grain a little light, roads dry and water scarce in places.

Dornoch.

Among those who attended the Owen Sound fair were: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and Mrs. Jas. Ledingham.

Rev. Mr. McLaren, wife and children of Spring Bay, Meliland, are visiting at Mr. Philip McIntosh's this week and on Sunday afternoon he occupied the pulpit of the Mennonite Church very acceptably.

Mr. Herb. Trafford and family Sunday at his brother's Mr. Robt. Trafford, Mitook.

Mr. Arthur Dargavel was engaged a few days last week as fireman on the threshing outfit of Mr. John Stewart.