The marriage of Miss Emma Robertson and Mr. Henry D. Elliot took place very quietly at the residence of the bride's mother, Priceville, on Oct. 7th, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. P. Kipp, of Priceville Baptist church, in the presence of immediate relations. The bride was given away by her mother and was attended by Miss Anna James, while Mr. Bert Chapman supported the groom. After visiting relatives in Ontario, they leave for their home at 189 Rupert Ave., Winnipeg.

EARLY DURHAM.—The meeting of the Guild in the Presbyterian church on Monday was a special one to consider the beginnings of things in Durham from several standpoints. President Peter Ramage was in the chair and after opening called on Mr. Geo. Binne, who gave a connected history of the parliamentary contests and prominent politicians of the early days to the present time. Mr. Grant followed on the early settlement of Durham. Himself a great grandson of Archibald Hunter, the pioneer settler, he gave a most interesting paper, showing much research and originality. We intend to give it to our readers when this burly-burly is over. Mr. Chas. Farquharson dealt with early church history, recalling the pioneers who tramped weary miles over bush roads to preach the gospel. Next May will complete 50 years of settled pastorate in Durham, for in that month in 1859 the late Rev. Mr. Park was put in charge. Mr. Robt. Cochrane was called on and graphically gave from personal recollection many interesting incidents of the olden times in Durham. Musical interludes were given, the contributors being Misses Margaret Hunter, Ida Wilson, J. Fraser and Messrs. W. D. McKay and Geo. Sinclair.

The expenditure of the Post Office Department during the past year was almost $5,000,000 while in the year 1896 and previous years it was little more than $3,000,000. This difference of almost $2,000,000 must have been wrong from the long suffering people.

But was it? Just consider. When the smaller sum was being spent there was a series of deficits running into the millions. With the spending of the larger sum there is the most surprising series of surpluses ever seen in any department.

ABOLITION OF THE SENATE
In this he opposed the leaders of both parties, having a scheme to end this body by making no more appointments, and when reduced by death

In addition to these public services it is safe to say that he has aided hundreds by advice and letters in connection with Northwest lands, and in other private matters.

He secured for some of the chief schools in the Riding, sets of Metric systems weights and measures, maps, &c., and has never allowed his share of public documents to go to the waste basket, but has, at immense labor, kept the mails busy between Ottawa and South Grey.

Apart from the purely political discussions of the House, in which he took a very able part, on the word of friend and foe, he has been a mover in such questions as

SAMPLES OF LAURIER'S EXTRAVAGANCE.
The expenditure increased, what was the revenue doing? In 1890 the revenue was $2,904,000, in 1896 it had grown to nearly $5,000,000.

While the expenditure increased what were the people enduring? Why, they were enduring a reduction of home postage from 3c to 2c, of foreign postage from 5c to 2c, of city postage from 2c to 1c. Enduring a more frequent service in many places, enduring service in many places where none had been before, and while enduring all this, enduring the spectacle of a buoyant revenue meeting all these reductions and still showing a surplus.

Reader, substitute "enjoying" for "enduring" in the preceding paragraph, and then say if it is not possible with expanding expenditure to have cheaper and better service. All can understand this Post Office situation, and it should not be difficult to see that, similarly, in all other departments, increase of expenditure is not necessarily extravagance.

For instance the expenditure on the Intercolonial railway doubled in 10 years, but the increased earnings from passenger and freight service more than doubled in the same time owing to this same expenditure.

It is the old story "There is that given and yet increased."
Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, traversed the whole subject when he said: "The lesser sum expended by our predecessors was extravagance, because they did not have it to spend. The larger sum we have expended is economy, because we have lived within our means."

H. H. MILLER The Man who Does Things: His Four Years' Record.

It is a common saying throughout the riding "Miller is a worker," and hundreds know it through some individual incident affecting themselves.

We give below a list of public benefits secured during his term largely through his advocacy. We are sure it is not complete but it is a sample of the distinguished services of our member in the interests of his constituents, without regard to their political leanings.

Is this a waste of public money? Ask the districts concerned. Were the favors given as a bribe? Not at all; they were simply public needs, taken notice of by the people's representative or brought to his notice in the regular way, and by him placed before the authorities in a truly representative manner.

Here is a list:
NEW POST OFFICES
Egremont: Maple Lane, Landerkin, Glenelg; Top Cliff, Eborale, Arrow-smiths
Sullivan Town Line: Mickle.

NEW MONEY ORDER OFFICES
Dornoch, Allan Park, Peabody, Orchard, Eborale.

NEW SAVINGS BANK OFFICES
Holstein and Desboro.

MORE FREQUENT MAIL SERVICE
Glascoot, Irish Lake, Lamlash, Louise, Marston, Peabody, Mooresburg, Hanpden.

CUSTOMS POST OFFICES
Hanover and Durham.

He has, besides, interested himself in the new C. P. R. line and his advocacy secured the boon of a station at Bunesan and may yet lead to one at Vickers. In the effort to secure protection at our dangerous crossing here, Messrs. Calder and John Brown gave Mr. Miller the greatest credit for his able support before the Railway Commissioners.

The whole community, and especially the Sons of Scotland here, remember the invaluable services he rendered in bringing about the visit of the Royal Canadian Dragoons two years ago to this county.

The latest instance of his advocacy is the grant of the Armoury to Durham. Ever since the destruction of the old Durham Armoury, the military interests have been longing for something to replace it, and when the regimental band again came to Durham, steps were taken to urge the government to give it, the Volunteer Company and the Rifle Association a home of their own. This the government has done, and the most efficient go between was H. H. Miller.

In addition to these public services it is safe to say that he has aided hundreds by advice and letters in connection with Northwest lands, and in other private matters.

He secured for some of the chief schools in the Riding, sets of Metric systems weights and measures, maps, &c., and has never allowed his share of public documents to go to the waste basket, but has, at immense labor, kept the mails busy between Ottawa and South Grey.

Apart from the purely political discussions of the House, in which he took a very able part, on the word of friend and foe, he has been a mover in such questions as

ABOLITION OF THE SENATE
In this he opposed the leaders of both parties, having a scheme to end this body by making no more appointments, and when reduced by death

We are showing the latest styles in Fall Millinery, S. E. Morlock.

$1.55 brings you the Review and Weekly Globe from now to Jan. 1st, 1910. Let's have your name and order at once.

LADIES' RUFFS AND MUFTS.—Gray fox, rock mutton, marinet, grey lamb, black and brown cony throw overs at Grant's.

A syndicate of 14 farmers have bought the stables in connection with the Queens Hotel in Owen Sound for $7000. They will continue to be leased and managed by the Owen Sound Hotel Co. This is an unusual move and may find imitators in other places.

SPECIAL SERVICES.—This week special Evangelistic services are being held in the Methodist church, the special helpers and leaders being the Misses Sturton, of Tweed. As may be expected they are musical and thus present the gospel in song and story. Already an interest is shown which will deepen as the days pass.

W. F. M. S. MEETINGS.—Mrs Kendall of Dromore, addressed the W. F. M. S. in the Presbyterian church last Thursday in a very pleasant and interesting address, spoke to the Mission Band on "Kindness"—"Inasmuch as ye have done."—A social cup of tea in which Revs. Kendall and Farquharson joined the ladies, completed a very profitable meeting. About $22 was taken up in collection.

BIBLE SOCIETY LECTURE.—Rev. Mr. Hassard, Toronto, Secretary of the Ontario branch of the Bible Society, gave a most interesting lecture and exhibition in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening. He is a clear and rapid speaker and presented the claims of the Bible Society very efficiently. The Society prints the Bible or parts of it in 412 different languages and many strange characters are used. The beneficent work of the colporteurs was done justice to and then came a long series of views illustrating many things bearing on the work and showing the difficulties to be surmounted in translating the Word and presenting it to savage peoples. While it was a story of wonderful progress it showed there was much yet to be done.

VARNEY ANNIVERSARY.—The special Anniversary services in connection with the Varney Methodist church were held Sunday and Monday last. The latter evening, supper was served in the Orange Hall and when the program commenced in the church, it was led by the technical part, Mr. Din-a-popular young pastor, occupied the chair and intimated a choice program was to follow. This consisted of solos, duets, trios, and recitations, the Mead family and Miss McAnulty taking a prominent part, while the choir provided suitable selections. The Methodist Orchestra of Durham was a pleasing feature and Mr. Wm. Allan, in a spicy address, added variety to the evening. The best of order prevailed throughout, and the receipts were very satisfactory.

Nomination Day—Monday, Oct. 19
Elector's Come out on Monday next to the Town Hall, Durham, where from 2 o'clock to 4 p. m., the rival candidates will tell their story. H. H. The meeting will be addressed by the candidates and by Mr. C. J. Mickle B. of Chesley and Mayor Calder of Durham. Music will be provided by the Hanover Band, Professor Hintz's Orchestra and Professor Hector Mc Donald, Highland Piper (in costume). The ladies are especially invited.

Miller Mass Meeting.
The last gun in the campaign will be fired on Saturday night 24th October in Durham Town Hall. Folter particulars later.
