Bunessan P. O. Glengly. We are sorry to learn of the accident to Mrs. J. M. Hunter on Monday. On crossing the street down town she slipped and fell, hurting her hip to the point where she was carried up to her home. She was staying at Mrs. Latimer's, where she is staying at present and since then has been bedfast with doctor and nurse attending her. She came from Bradford Green, who recently purchased the only last week on a visit to her old friends in Durham, and we hope she will soon be restored to her usual active life.

Something rare--a weekly newspaper that publishes seventy columns of good reliable news, comments on current events, markets, and general farm news each week is rare in these days of cheap weeklies. Credit is due the Weekly Sun for keeping its columns clean and filled with fresh and up-to-date matter of vital interest to every farmer. Give us a try and you will find it the best. The Review and the Weekly Sun costs you but $1.75 Both free for balance of 1908, and they are even a good value at that price.

A PROGRESSIVE PUBLICATION--The Spectator-Review, a weekly newspaper, "Canadian Pictorial," recently received, shows in addition to its wealth of beautiful harvest pictures and other fine photographs, several new and interesting features which are to be continued with other attractions in the enlarged and improved Christmas Numbers in each issue. The remarkable as has been the popularity of this splendid publication, the public are assured that the best is yet to come. Every issue of this monthly "Art portfolio" would form a capital Souvenir to send to friends abroad. None better. (10c a copy $1.00 a year.) The Pictorial Publishing Co., 142 St. Peter St., Montreal.

A GOOD STORY--A good story that will make you laugh is better for you than five dollars' worth of doctor's medicine. The first of "The Old Home Fires" series of clever, complete stories begins in the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, this week. There will be one complete story each issue for the next three months, and that means many a good hearty laugh around the fireside during the winter evenings. A subscriber to that big weekly certainly gets value for his money. The paper only costs one dollar a year and the amount of sound information given in its reading is marvellous. The stories alone could not be bought for twenty dollars. The agricultural columns of the paper are regarded as the best in America. The Family Herald and Weekly Star should not be missed in any Canadian home.

Everywhere throughout Canada these little Christmas and New Year greetings will be sold at one cent each. They will not carry mail of any kind but any kind of mail will carry them. All wishing to aid this worthy cause could do so in no better manner than in purchasing and using these in addition to regular stamps for printing and distribution, besides swelling the funds, serves to advertise broadcast the institution.

The Durham Review has again been enlarged to meet the demands of its advertising patronage. Editor Ramage has made many changes since taking hold of this paper about five years ago, and we believe the good people over in the old town appreciate his efforts in presenting them each week with so bright and newsy a paper. Durham can boast of two papers that are hard to beat for a town with a population of 2500--Tiverton Watchman.

HAS LEFT TOWN--Saturday night last closed the moving picture show in Durham, after which Mr. Bert Green, who recently purchased the outfit, went on the train for his first exhibition in Ayrton. At the last concert here, he was favored with a full hall, but the apparatus was out of order, whereupon he decided to give his efforts in presentation than by presenting too much expense to make it a general success in Durham at the present time, and should a suitable arrangement be made, he may return to put on a 5c show, so popular almost everywhere.

WE WANT CORRESPONDENTS--In no other way can a person help to develop his or her ability and give his corresponding for a newspaper. At the same time the publishing of the paper and which advertises it and helps to build it up. So the newspaper correspondent is doing both himself and the community in which he lives a good service. We are pleased at all times to receive the weekly budgets from the rural districts. The REVIEW has a very efficient staff of correspondents, but there are a few points where we are unrepresented, if your part of the country is not getting attention, write us. If you can help us personally we will be glad. Perhaps you can give us the name of a suitable person. We ask our friends to cooperate with us in keeping at the head of the procession.

Hampden Jubilee.

On Sunday and Monday, 8th and 9th of November, the Presbyterians of Hampden had gala Jubilee days when the past was recalled with loving hearts, the present thankfully enjoyed and the future looked forward to with confidence. We regret that pressing engagements prevented us having a share of the splendid enthusiasm reflected in last week's Post, from which we draw copiously in this issue. We congratulate Rev. Mr. Budge and Hampden congregation on the felicitous success of their Jubilee services.

Rev. W. C. Craigie, Toronto and former pastor, conducted the Sunday services, the former dispensing the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper to the largest number who ever assembled in the church for that purpose. It never were memories so full and rich as on this occasion.

Mr. Arch. Park had the honor of the chairmanship on Monday, pastor, for the nonce acting as reporter and doing it well. Hampden Presbyterian Choir was a prominent feature of the evening with well rendered Scotch songs, of high excellence, but we can well believe that "sweetest to the ear than music was the varied story and comment upon the old days."

Among those who signed the visitor book were the following--Rev. J. R. Craigie, Toronto; Rev. W. C. Dadds, Rockwood; Rev. W. C. Hunter, Dromore; E. O. Hunter and Owen South; John Nichol, Priceville; Charter Smith, Durham; Geo. Turnbull Sr., Durham; Andrew Derby and Mrs. Andrew Derby, Durham; Alex. Hunter, Queen Hill; Dr. Staples and J. H. Adams, Hanover; Andrew and Mrs. Meyer, Allan Park; J. Meyer, Weston; Andrew Derby, Hanover; Mrs. A. Derby, St. Hanover; John Henry, Dromore; Mrs. Morice, Durham; Mrs. Mark Willis, Allan Park; Ed Hoy and Jeannette Hoy, Durham; James Thomas McLeod and Mrs. S. McDonald, Durham; Mrs. Archibald, Allan Park; Jean Derby, Durham; Mrs. Fulton, Durham; Wm. Fulton and Mrs. Fulton, Louise; Wm. J. Derby, Durham; Mrs. Bradley, Durham; Mrs. Miller, Hanover; Geo. Purvis and Mrs. Purvis, Mrs. Purvis, Sr., Hanover.

There was a warm "greeting" from the sister congregation of Hanover, delightfully expressed and signed by Moderator Budge and Session Clerk Duncan Campbell; Mr. Jas. Whyte of the "Bard of the Glen" read an original poem dedicated to the occasion. Speeches were made by Messrs John Milligan, Charter Smith, Geo. Turnbull, John Nichol, and Derby, E. O. Young, John Meyer and others, but as we are assured by our friends that space will not admit more of this than what we have already lucidly held them in our center Hampden! and when your center comes in 1908 the REVIEW will endeavor to do it full justice, if we are around at that time.

The following extracts will prove interesting to many far beyond Hampden bounds:

Durham Furniture Co.

An advertisement elsewhere asks for logs of all kinds, timber, etc., for the Durham Furniture Co., for which the highest prices will be paid.

An absurd rumor has been heard that this institution was going to close down. No such thing. They are busy now, and have the best prospect of being successful throughout the winter. This is exceedingly gratifying to all concerned and reflects credit on the management. Their out-pat is generally in demand, and has enabled them to keep going when similar institutions stopped or went on half time.

NOTABLE DEATHS--This last week or ten days has shown a startling number of deaths of prominent people. The Methodist body mourns Rev. Mr. Courtice and Dr. Withrow, the Presbyterian church Rev. Mr. McGregor, editor of the Free-Bytown, Hon. Evan-turel, formerly speaker of the Legislature is dead as is Sir Henry Joly De Lothbiniere, for 50 years in public life and lately Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. China has lost its Emperor and Dowager Empress (the real ruler) within 24 hours of each other. Emperor William of Germany is still very much alive and causing no end of trouble.

Obituary.

Mrs. MIGHTON. The intimation in a recent issue of the serious illness of this lady has been followed by her death at the home of her daughter Mrs. Jas. McPhee, Appin, Ont., on Thursday last. Three weeks before she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which for about two weeks she seemed totally but a relapse set in and the end came as above.

The remains were brought to Durham on Friday and on Saturday, from her old home on West Lambton St., the funeral took place, the company first going to the Methodist Church where an appropriate service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Jamieson.

Deceased was a member of the well-known Walker family, two, if not three of her brothers being Methodist clergymen in the pioneer days. She outlived them all dying at the patriarchal age of 82. Her first husband was a Mr. Maitland, who predeceased her over 30 years. To them were born one son and six daughters of whom two are gone, Sophia, (Mrs Raymond) and Emma. The son is the Rev. Robert Maitland, who was also prominent in Methodist circles in Brit. Columbia, the daughters are Mrs. J. Watson, Normanby, Mrs. Thos. Cook, Marle, Mrs. McPhee, Appin, and Mrs. Bliss, Detroit. Three of her daughters ministered to her dying hours and all were at the funeral. Her second husband, Mr. Mighton, died a few years ago.

Deceased was a woman of exemplary piety, of forefearful character, and of untiring devotion to her family left so early to her care. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church, and adorned its teachings by a consistent walk and conversation. To her death had no religious belief, she passed away as she had lived in full confidence of glorious resurrection, and leaving a memory that will be cherished.

Mrs. JOHN HUNT. Friday last the grim messenger called at the home of Mr. Jno. Hunt, and removed the much-loved wife and mother after an illness of five or six weeks with a heart trouble and other complications. Her removal is a severe blow to her aged husband and his daughter to both of whom she has been a mini-tering angel in sickness or in health and these other members of the family will sincerely mourn. As neighbor and friend also she had endeavored herself to many by her kind obliging disposition and her memory will long be cherished.

For almost 28 years she has been the loving and true helpmeet of her partner in life. She was a native of Devonshire, England and was married there to Mr. Hunt on Christmas day, 1850. In 1854 they left their native County and came to Canada settling in Nassagaweya. To them were born 10 children, five of whom survive. The sons are Edwin, the well-known Glengly councillor, and Wm. Henry, of Denver, Col. The daughters are Emma, Mrs. Edward of Detroit, and Sarah, Mrs. Young of Nassagaweya. Mary Elizabeth at home. They spent 21 years in Nassagaweya, before coming to Glengly where they spent 21 years, before moving to Durham.

Her death makes another break in the faithful and true members of the Durham Methodist Church, and in the community in which she was highly respected. Her daughter Mrs. Fulton and her daughter again Mrs. Mahon were up at the funeral as was Miss Mabel Hunt, teacher, near Markdale.

The funeral on Monday was largely attended, many old neighbors from Glengly joining with town friends in sympathy with the bereaved. Two beautiful wreaths on the coffin was the visible expression of the love of children and grandchildren respectively.

The service was conducted by her pastor Rev. Mr. Jamieson who in an appropriate discourse bore testimony to the Christian virtues of the deceased and the lively hope she had of entering the life beyond. Rev. Mr. Farquharson was also present and assisted.

The pall-bearers were Messrs John and Wm. Greenwood, old neighbors and Messrs G. Farnoux, Dr. Wolfe, H. McCree and J. M. Latimer, of town. The members of Glengly Council were present as a mark of sympathy with their fellow countryman, Mr. Hunt.
