as he believed, of the shareholders of as he believed, of the shareholders of the province, and that was that there should be a new Board elected. He was still of the opinion, backed up by Mr Woods and others that there was plenty of available marl in Wilder's Lake. He also condemned the absenteeism of the manager, and brought from that gentleman a statement that he was in no way connected with American enterprises of any kind, but had travelled to get new ideas, some of which had been of great value to the shareholders.

To Mr Hoyle was allotted the task of replying to Mr Calder. We have no intention of reproducing the personalities indulged in, but Mr Hoyle evidently thought this necessary. Calder was blamed for excessively taking the mill when Mayor, for having been a failure as a salesman, &c., &c. The first charge Calder refuted by showing that a taxation of $163000 by showing that a taxation of $163000 and that only for school purposes on a million dollar plant was not excessive. The other charge he met by pointing out that Mr Hoyle had quoted only
